Inquest: Judge Faults Kennedy

Report On Kopechne Released

BOSTON UPI — The judge who presided over a secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car said he found "probable cause" Kennedy "operated negligently" and appears to have contributed to the girl's death, according to inquest documents made public today.

The 12-page inquest report of District Judge James A. Boyle of Edgartown and the 764-page transcript of inquest testimony were released in Suffolk Superior Court nine months after Miss Kopechne died when the car driven by Kennedy went off a bridge on Chappaquiddick Island.

Judge Boyle's report was a bombshell which cast doubt on some of the essential parts of the senator's previous two public accountings of the accident.

The documents had been under legal wraps since the inquest ended Jan. 8. The accident occurred last July 18.

The judge said, "I...find there is probable cause to believe that Edward M. Kennedy operated his motor vehicle negligently on a way or in a place to which the public have a right of access and that such

Saigon's Aim: Neutralize Foe

SAIGON (AP) — With U.S. backing, thousands of South Vietnamese troops launched a new operation against Communist command forces inside Cambodia today, the Defense Ministry announced.

It said the South Vietnamese command had requested and received U.S. combat support, logistics assistance and medical evacuation. The South Vietnamese will withdraw from Cambodia once their mission of neutralizing the enemy there is completed, a Defense Ministry communique said.

In Washington, the Pentagon announced the United States will send advisers, tactical air strikes and other support for the South Vietnamese in "a necessary and effective measure" to save U.S. and other allied lives.

The Defense Ministry said the operation was launched "with a view to neutralize the North Vietnamese Communists' scheme of using the Cambodian territory as operation bases to infiltrate, shell and attack the territory of the Republic of Vietnam."

The operation is centered in an area inside Cambodia shown on military maps as the "Parrot's Beak," west and northwest of Saigon.

The communique gave no details of the opening stage of the offensive, though newsmen along the border region had recently observed a massive buildup of South Vietnamese troops and armored personnel carriers operating out of Tay Ninh City, 50 miles northwest of Saigon. The Cambodian operation is centered southwest of Tay Ninh City.

It was the first official acknowledgment of armed forays into Cambodia by the South Vietnamese forces, although they have conducted at least half a dozen others since the March 18 overthrow of the Cambodian chief of state, Norodom Sihanouk.

The communique said, "This operation is also a necessary measure in the framework of the policy of the Republic of Vietnam to gradually take more of the responsibility to defend its land and to replace Ameri-

Regional Health Planning Hit

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Expressing fear that too much authority over community health programs may wind up in the hands of the Regional Comprehensive Health Plannng Council, the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday refused to support Marin's health plan. (Other supervisors stories, page 11.)

The supervisors said state and federal laws were paving the way for a nonelected government structure to decide what health programs should be funded, as well as when and where.

The county's health plan, a product of about two years work by the health council, was ordered by the federal government to determine how federal health care dollars will be used. Nine regions were established in California, with Marin belonging to the Bay Area region.

Members of the health council and the county administrator's staff yesterday clashed over the merits of the study and the concept of regional planning.

Thomas F. Campanella of the administrator's staff told the board he was shocked by what the report says, and the implications it thrusts at the county government.

Campanella said the report fails to set priorities for program needs, lacks detail, and would establish "a single purpose regional form of government."

He said, "The organization does have the power to prohibit local governments from securing needed funds to implement programs that the elected bodies of local governments believe to be in the best interest of the community which they serve."

Speaking in favor of the plan, Mrs. Herbert J. Baum, a member of the health council, said the plan was purposely kept vague "to leave the varius community agencies free to propose specific plans to meet the general priorities. . .

"For example, we are not telling the agencies interested in the problem of alcoholism whether to start a detoxification center before they establish a half-way house.

"If we are occupying a more commanding position than has been supposed, this is not due to any power-grab on our part. Mr. Campanella evidently has a quarrel with the federal government.

"There is absolutely no foundation for the allogation that the council might use its power to 'prohibit local government from securing needed funds.'

"We are not a regional form

U.S. Plans To Assist In New Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today the United States will send advisers, tactical air strikes and other support for South Vietnamese operations in Cambodia. It called the move "a necessary and effective measure" to save U.S. and other allied lives.

Following the announcement President Nixon arranged to address the nation Thursday night to explain the decision.

The Pentagon thus confirmed an announcement by the South Vietnamese Defense Ministry in Saigon that U.S. combat and other support for a major operation in the "parrot beak" area of Cambodia jutting into South Vietnam about 35 miles from Saigon.

STATEMENT TEXT

Asst. Secretary of Defense Daniel Z. Henkin read a statement to newsmen saying:

"The United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam (MACV) in response to the request of the government of Vietnam is prepared to provide support" for the South Vietnamese operations.

"This support will take the form of advisers, tactical air, air coordinators, medical evacuation, and some logistics assistance."

Master Plan Scrapped For Marin Hospital

Marin Hospital District members learned last night proposed expansion of facilities at the hospital is likely to cost $4 million more than the $10 million they thought. (Another hospital district story, page 5.)

Learning the bad news, they forsook the hospital's master plan and directed the district's architect to develop a new construction plan. Pending his results, the board tentatively set March 1971 for a special bond issue election.

Architect Rex Whitaker Allen told the board, which last month proposed a $10 million bond issue for new construction, that many factors caused the price increase.

Allen said construction and material costs have soared since the hospital's master plan was developed in 1966. At that time, he added, the cost of adding 100 beds and additional service support areas would have cost $6.6 million.

"It must be realized that this hospital wasn't built to go beyond its present capacity," Allen pointed out.

According to the architect, the $14 million figure was a projected construction cost for 1973. If built today it would cost about $11 million.

The master plan calls for the hospital's 250-bed capacity to be increased to 500 beds in two phases. The first would provide 100 additional beds and service support space for 500 beds. The second phase calls for 150 beds bringing the total to 500 beds.

"There is no question that we could build the same number of beds at another location for a cheaper price," Allen said, "but you wouldn't have a medical center offering complete services."

The architect suggested the board consider forsaking its master plan in favor of a newer concept which allows greater flexibility within a new building, and also reduces construction costs.

Allen said the concept calls for one floor to be used solely

Novato Freeze Voted To Permit Rezonings

The Novato City Council last night banned commercial development in three proposed regional shopping center sites for 90 days. The emergency ordinance is effective immediately.

The ban and a corollary authorization for the city's planning commission to begin proceedings to permanently reclassify the areas for regional shopping center development represented a departure from past council action and an extension of the downtown study area. (Another Novato council story, page 30.)

The council had previously granted use permits for new commercial building in the area of the downtown study plan, often overruling planning commission recommendations, as in the recent controversial case of a Lucky Store and a Thrifty Drug store in the area of the Diablo Avenue — South Novato Boulevard triangle.

This area and sites at the Highway 37 interchange and in the San Marin East area fall under the ban. They are being considered for a regional shopping center along the lines of Northgate in Terra Linda.

The emergency measure effective immediately was strongly opposed by Councilman J. Wayne Womack. He accused the council of prejudging the downtown plan without public hearings by accepting the opinion of design consultants Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco.

He urged delay of the measure until a special meeting slated for next Tuesday for discussion of the downtown plan.

Mayor Douglas Merrill agreed that the action was hasty, but said the action was urgent. Voting with the mayor and Councilman Joseph Gargiulo were F. Wayne Sartain and George C. Quesada, both former planning commissioners who ousted incumbents Babe Silva and Har-

FACT BULLETIN #7 (The Strike)

The Mech. Superintendent -A Case of Coercion

The National Labor Relations Board has issued a complaint against S.F. Typographical Union 21 charging coercion of the I-J composing room foreman in violation of federal law. In its negotiations the union insisted that the I-J mechanical superintendent (foreman) must be a member and subject to union discipline. On Jan. 18 it fined him because he carried out his duties as a representative of the publisher. The National Labor Relations Act, as confirmed by federal courts, states that the foreman is not properly a member of the bargaining unit. The courts have ruled that while a union may bargain on this issue it may not strike because of it. The union has not only struck the I-J but has called for disciplinary action against the I-J superintendent — in part for working at the I-J since the strike was called. This places the union in the position of attempting to fine and discipline an executive for "violating" the union's practices. It may be noted that the union has as yet never discussed this in public print.

Vatican Scraps Old Law On Rearing Of Children

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Non-Catholics marrying Roman Catholics no longer need make any promises concerning the upbringing of children under new mixed marriage regulations announced today.

In a 2,400 word apostolic letter, Pope Paul VI said Catholics would be required to promise to do "all in their power" to have their children baptized and brought up in the Roman church.

But he scrapped a centuries-old law excommunicating—or cutting off from the sacraments—Catholics who knowingly bring up their children in another faith.

The document falls far short of the hopes of many Protestants and liberal Catholics who argue that each couple should be free to decide the uprbringing of its children.

A Vatican source said the document was a step forward in that it removed much of the coercion formerly connected with mixed marriage vows.

The Pope made it clear the Roman church dislikes the idea of mixed marriages in the first place.

He ruled out Protestant and Catholic clergymen jointly officiating at a wedding ceremony or having another religious ceremony before or after the Catholic wedding.

The Pope's letter, signed March 31, was made public by Vatican press spokesman Msgr. Fausto Vallainc.

The Pope said the church would regard marriage between a Catholic and another baptized person as legal only if the couple obtained a dispensation from the local Catholic bishop.

To get such a dispensation, the Pope said, "the Catholic party shall declare that he is ready to remove dangers of falling away from the faith. He is also gravely bound to make a sincere promise to do all in his power to have all the children baptized and brought up in the Catholic church."

Until the last revision, in 1966, the non-Catholic partner had to make the same promise. Since then he has been required to promise — either in writing or orally—not to obstruct his partner's faith or the Catholic education of his children.

The new rules state merely that he "must be informed of these promises which the Catholic party has to make, so that it is clear he is cognizant of the promise and obligation on the part of the Catholic."

TEL AVIV CLAIMS RUSS AIR GUARDS

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Israel said today Soviet pilots are flying "operational missions" from Soviet-run bases in Egypt. Well informed Tel Aviv newspapers said the Russians were guarding Egyptian air space against Israeli air force attacks and that there had been at least one near clash.

The newspaper Ma'ariv said Prime Minister Golda Meir had sent a special message to President Nixon which pledged "Israel's determination to defend herself" in the face of Soviet involvement. Israel also was reported asking Nixon to free more F4 Phantom jets for Israel.

The government announcement said none of the Soviet-piloted aircraft had penetrated Israeli air spoce or participated in dogfights against Israeli fighters. But it termed the presence of the Russian fliers a "grave new development" that signals an "escalation of Soviet involvement in Egypt."

(In Cairo, a military spokesman said an Egyptian patrol crossed the Suez Canal today and destroyed three halftracks, killing all the Israelis in them, is an area south of the Great Bitter Lakes. The spokesman said Israel tried to move up tanks but they were driven off with Egyptian artillery.

(Egypt had no immediate official comment on the Israeli pilots announcement but informed sources in Cairo said it was intended to sway U.S. Middle East policy and bring pressure to obtain additional warplanes, especially Phantom jets.)

(UPI diplomatic correspondent K.C. Thaler, quoting defense sources, reported in London the Soviet Union had decided to use the Middle East as a testing ground for its new weapons including SAM3 surface-to-air missiles and the very sophisticated MIG23 fighter.)

The Tel Aviv newspaper Harrtz, in an extra edition, reported that two weeks ago "a contact almost took place between Israeli jets and Soviet-piloted planes."

Oscar Winner Ed Begley, 69, Dies; The First Charley Chan

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ed Begley, a character actor who won an Oscar in 1963 for his portrayal of a sadistic political boss in "Sweet Bird of Youth," is dead at 69.

Begley succumbed to an apparent heart attack Tuesday night during a party at the home of his publicist, Jay Bernstein.

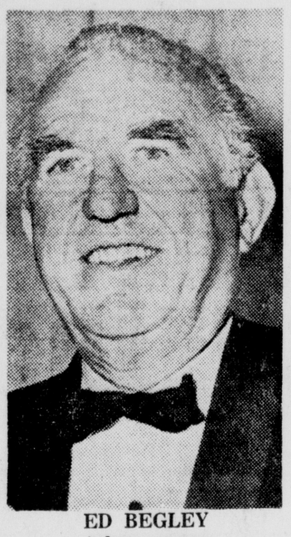
Begley was equally at home on stage, television and in movies.

Among his notable films were "Twelve Angry Men," "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," "It Happens Every Spring" and "Sorry, Wrong Number."

A fifth-grade dropout, he was a self-taught actor.

Radio was his first big stepping stone. During the 1930s he appeared on more than 12,000 programs. He was detective, doctor, gangster—anything the program required. He was radio's original Charlie Chan.

Begley came to Hollywood in 1947 and within four years had acted in 21 pictures.



ED BEGLEY
A long career

He appeared on the stage in "Inherit the Wind," "Look Homeward, Angel," "Advise and Consent," "All My Sons," "What Price Glory" and "John Loves Mary."

He demonstrated his versatility when, on Broadway, he played William Jennings Bryan to Paul Muni's Clarence Darrow in "Inherit the Wind." The following matinee, circumstances dictated that he play Darrow, instead of Bryan.

He did so with such distinction that he won applause from critics, who had been invited without his knowledge.

In more recent years Begley had appeared on many television shows.

He was born in Hartford, Conn., on March 25, 1901. He began running away from home at an early age to join carnivals and fairs.

"I don't know why I made so much misery for my parents," he once remarked. "They were kind to me and I had a good home and I liked to come back to it." He was the son of an immigrant father from Kerry County, Ireland.

In addition to his widow, Helen, who was his third wife, he leaves a son, Ed Jr., and a daughter, Maureen.

Cabinet Aide Drafts Car Insurance Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Transportation says it will recommend reforms in the American auto insurance system because it is "working poorly and inadequately."

Richard J. Barber, deputy assistant transportation secretary, said a department study provides "a startling and shocking factual picture of the auto insurance system."

He said the government would issue this summer its recommendations for changing the system.

Many critics favor changing to the "no fault" method under which an individual would collect damages from his own insurance company rather than those of others involved.

The department study said death and injury from 1967 highway accidents caused $5.1 billion in financial losses of one kind or another to those involved. But it said payments totaled only $2.5 billion, and only $1.1 billion of that was paid by auto insurance. The remained was collected from such soures as life insurance, social security, medical and hospital insurance, Barber said.

Barber said the report demonstrated the extent of "human suffering" associated with auto accidents. He said that 22 per cent of cases of death or serious injury of an accident victim, another family member had to get a job; 14 per cent had to move to cheaper housing; 30 per cent had to draw on savings, 28 per cent had to borrow money, and "45 per cent had to change their standard of living."

Other findings:

—Legal bills took about 25 per cent of judgements awarded by courts in accident cases.

—Accident victims with losses of more than $25,000 got only one-hourth of their losses back.

—Conversely, victims with losses of less than $500 got back "four and one half times their losses" because insurance companies were less prone to prosecute small cases.

—It took an average of 16 months to settle a claim.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish government today condemned demonstrators against U.S. Ambassador erome H. Holland as "scoundrels" who damage Sweden's reputation. But the government reiterated its opposition to American policy in Vietnam.

Opening a foreign policy debate in parliament, Premier Olof Palme and Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson said:

"For our part, we have in substance criticized American policy in Vietnam. That is one thing. Precisely because of that we have reason to condemn with utmost severity the insulting actions to which the newly arrived American ambassador has been subjected by a handful of scoundrels. Such actions are deeply unworthy in a country where the right freely to express ones opinion is self-evident. They damage the reputation of our country."

A mature cow, officials said, can belch as much as two liters —more than half a gallon—of gas per minute.

operation appears to have contributed to the death of Mary Jo Kopechne."

Kennedy had said his car plunged into a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island as he attempted to drive Miss Kopechne from a party to a ferry between the island and Edgartown, about 120 yards away on the larger island of Martha's Vineyard.

Judge Boyle also said after reviewing the facts in the case, "I infer a reasonable and probable explanation of the totality of the...facts is that Kennedy and Kopechne did not intend to return to Edgartown at that time; that Kennedy did not intend to drive to the ferry slip and his turn onto Dike Road was intentional.

"Having reached this conclusion," the judge continued "the question then arises as to whether there was anything criminal in his operation of the motor vehicle."

(pickup as prev 5th pgh 038a: A Judge Boyle said "two personal views" and an engineer's statement fully convinced him "that Dike Bridge constitutes a traffic hazard, particularly so at night, and must be approached with extreme caution. A speed of even 20 miles an hour, as Kennedy testified to, operating a car as large as this Oldsmobile, would at least be negligent and, possibly, reckless.

"If Kennedy knew of this hazard, his operation of the vehicle constituted criminal conduct."

Judge Boyle went on to state flatly that Kennedy had driven over Dike Road and Dike Bridge twice on the day of the accident, and he said Miss Kopechne had done the same.

The judge said he found Miss Kopechne's death due to drowning. He also said Kennedy's apparent failure to seek help for the young Washington secretary as she lay at the bottom of the tidal pond did not "constitute criminal conduct."

According to the transcript, Kennedy told the inquest he had "never been on Chappaquiddick Island before that day," although he had been to Martha's Vineyard a number of times.

He testified his driver, John Crimmins, made him "a drink of rum and Coca Cola" about 8:30 on the night of the accident. He left the cookout reunion about 11:15 p.m. with Miss Kopechne and no one else, the senator testified.

"I noticed the time, desired to leave and return to the Shiretown Inn (in Edgartown) and indicated to her that I was leaving and returning to town. She indicated to me she was desirous of leaving, if I could be kind enough to drop her back at her hotel," Kennedy said.

He said he was driving "approximately 20 miles per hour" on Dike Road.

In Berkeley Heights, N.J., a spokesman for the Kopechne family said Mrs. Kopechne would have "absolutely no comment" until she had read a copy of the transcript and Judge Boyle's report.

Kennedy testiifed he did not notice during his two trips from the ferry slip to the cottage whether the road was paved or unpaved. The road was paved.

However, the road leading to Dike Bridge was unpaved. Kennedy told the inquest almost immediately after he realized he was on an unpaved road, "I went off Dike Bridge, or I went off a bridge."

can troops by Vietnamese troops."

The U.S. Command had no immediate comment on the South Vietnamese announcement.

The communique did not elaborate further on American involvement. It did not say exactly what the U.S. troops were doing. The U.S. Command has said that no American forces are authorized to cross into Cambodia for the purpose of taking part in military operations. In previous South Vietnamese operations into Cambodia, American forces have given support by flying supplies as far as the border where they then have been transferred to South Vietnamese transports.

American infantrymen also have acted as blocking forces just on the South Vietnamese side of the border in order to trap any enemy forces that might move back across the frontier while attempting to elude South Vietnamese units in Cambodia.

In explaining the offensive, the communique said: "This operation is an indispensible and efficient measure to save the lives of the people and the lives of the soldiers of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam as well as the allied forces.

"The units participating in the operation have received orders to strictly respect the lives and properties of the people, if any, in the area of operation. These units have also received orders to return to the territory of the Republic of Vietnam right after the completion of the operation in the spirit of the respect of the independence, neutrality and the territory of neighboring Cambodia."

Earlier, South Vietnamese and U.S. forces tacitly agreed to a temporary cease-fire around the Dak Seang Special Forces camp. They halted offensive operations so the Viet Cong could release wounded South Vietnamese prisoners, but by nightfall, none had been set free, a military spokesman said.

of government. We are the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council, a part of the regional body and our purpose is to see that Marin is properly considered in any regional plans."

Board chairman John F. McInnis, quickly pointed out that local as well as a regional council would review any repuest for funds from a local agency.

"If Marin General Hospitla wishes to add an extension to its existing facility, and the regional body decides Hayward needs the expansion instead, then we're down the drain," McInnis added.

"If we approved the plan," McInnis continued, "we would be giving the council veto power over local programs. It frightens me."

At this point, Campanella told the board the local health council was not obliged to have it approved by the board of supervisros.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar said it didn't matter if the plan were approved or not by the supervisors. "What we have to do is change the laws in Washington," he added.

"I agree," McInnis replied, "we should work to change the laws, but in the interim I'm not going to vote approval because I would lose my right to go into the arensa in Sacramento and Washington adn fight for health programs Marin needs. . . I can't find a group of people in Sacramento or Washington that know what it's about. They are going outside normal government channels."

The supervisors voted, with McInnis abstaining, to direct the county administrator to draft a statement reflecting their views and return it with the health plan in two weeks for action.

bodian border, the United States government was fully consulted. The determination was made that the action is a necessary and effective measure to save American and other free world lives and to strengthen the Vietnamization program."

CALLS THE SHOTS

Thus, the Pentagon—speaking for the Nixon administration—cast the new development in terms of supporting the over-all objective of shifting the Vietnam war burden to the South Vietnamese and gradually withdrawing U.S. troops.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., long a critic of U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia, took a different view, calling the action a "great mistake" and a "major escalation" of the Indo-Chinese warfare.

If the reports are true, Fulbright told reporters, "it would be a great mistake, a great tragedy, directly contrary to what we have been led to believe."

Fullbright is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Noting that Secretary of State William P. Rogers indicated to the committee Monday that the administration had not reached a decision on Cambodian requests for massive military aid, Fulbright said, "It looks as if they weren't very candid."

Asked if it was conceivable Rogers didn't know a decision had been made, Fulbright replied, "Yes, it is concievable in our kind of government." He emphasized that "the impression when he was there was that no decision had been made."

"This would seem to indicate they are going for a military victory," the foreign relations chairman said, adding "I don't think the Senate will approve. I know the committee doesn't."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the South Vietnamese action "lays the groundwork for escalation of the war and could be the first step in spreading of the war."

"If it's a question of protection of our troops along the frontier, the answer is to pull them out and let South Vietnam take over protection of that area rather than get U.S. troops involved," Mansfield said.

He added: "Cambodia is a new ball game. If we become involved directly or indirectly, it becomes a general Indochina war."

Young Father Bound Over

Dean Allen Lampiris, 20, a Wisconsin resident who had recently been living in San Francisco, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a felony charge of abusing his infant son who died April 14 in a tent on Mount Tamalpais.

He is to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Also charged with abusing the 5-month-old child, who had bruises and scrapes on his body as well as seven broken ribs, is Lampiris's wife, Debra, 17, whose case is being heard in juvenile court.

The cause of deah is sill under investigation by the coroner's office.

The young couple, who had been living on welfare since coming to Californa, was camping in a tiny tent when the baby was found dead.

ley McAskill in the April 14 municipal election.

In the past the planning commission favored moratoriums on commercial construction until the downtown plan is completed, but the City Council passed an interim ordinance in April 1968 allowing commercial construction in the designated downtown area whenever the council granted a use premit.

The ban was recommended last night by Paul H. Sedway of the consulting firm to forestall any commercial development that might be incompatible with the ultimate zoning proposal.

He also urged the council to move immediately for a permanent reclassification of the areas.

Planning Director Brian Mattson told the council it would have to act last night if it hoped to change the zoning of the Diablo Avenue — South Novato Boulevard triangle area before the 1968 interim ordinances expires July 2. Since such a change requires a minimum of two months to complete, Mattson told the council to start the proceedings immediately if such a change was considered.

Haste is necessary only for this area. The Highway 37 interchange and San Marin East areas have not been included under an interim ordinance before so consideration of their rezoning is not urgent, Mattson said.

Sedway urged that the Highway 37 area be used for the shopping center if possible, but recommended that construction at all three sites be frozen until a decision is made one way or the other.

for utility equipment. Piping and wiring is then run to floors above and below, offering flexibility in placement of service areas such as X-ray rooms and laboratories.

Thus usage of space could be interchanged, by relocating utility connections as use required, Allen said. Current plans call for fixed utility connections on each floor, he added.

"I see no point in pursuing the present master plan any further," board member George E. Croke said. "This would give us more flexibility."

The board unanimously agreed that the architect should study the new approach and present figures prior to July 15.

One Year In Jail Burglar Handed

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered John Eugene Fox, 19, of San Bruno to spend one year in the county jail. Fox earlier had admitted that he was the burglar who fired on Sausalito police Jan. 25 and then escaped their dragnet.

He received a nine-month sentence for the burglary and three additional months for assault on a police officer.

Police chased Fox after he had burglarized a residence on Santa Rosa and after firing at them, Fox escaped and was not arrested until Feb. 6 when he was traced to a restaurant in San Francisco avenue belinging tot his mother.

BRIAN PERKINS
Near perfect management

Award For Management Of Route

A hard working, 14-year-old Independent-Journal newspaperboy is $250 richer today as a result of near perfect management of his route and high academic marks at Davidson School in San Rafael.

Brian Perkins is one of 21 young businessmen to be awarded a $250 scholarship from the California Newspaperboy Foundation. They were selected from a group of several hundred carriers.

Young Perkins, who was selected to represent the I-J, carried impressive credentials into the competition which compared entrants' business management and school grades.

According to the I-J circulation department, Brian has never received a customer complaint in his year and a half as a carrier. He has accumulated 15 straight achievement awards, which are based on the absence of complaints and the number of new customers signed each month. Perkins has acquired more than 100 new customers since joining the I-J carrier force. He also has close to a straight-A average in school.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Perkins of 23 Robinhood Drive, San Rafael, Brian's route covers the Glenwood Area of San Rafael. His district incorporates parts of Robinhood, Maplewood, Lockwood, Main and Surfwood drives, as well as Manzanita Avenue.

Young Perkins received a certificate today and upon entering a college will receive the scholarship.

Another Novel By Hemingway

NEW YORK (UPI)—A complete novel by Ernest Hemingway that includes autobiographical material will be published in September, the author's widow announced Tuesday.

In a news conference at the office of the publisher, Charles Scribner's Sons, Mrs. Mary Hemingway said the book, The Islands and The Stream, was written mostly in Cuba from 1947 to the middle 1950s.

The four-part novel describes the life of Thomas Hudson, American painter, including his life on Bimini Island in the mid-1930s, his involvement in secret antisubmarine activities in Cuba during World War II, and his mission hunting for survivors from a German submarine. Hemingway was involved in such activities during the war.

No Hospital Tax Levy For Next Year

he Marin Hospital District board last night voted not to levy an operational tax for fiscal 1970-71 on district property owners. (Another hospital board story, page 1)

The board flirted with the idea, before turning thumbs down, as a means of paying a $27,000 road improvement assessment along Bon Air Road.

Since the improvement will not begin until late summer of 1971, the board decided to wait on acquiring the funds.

Thus next year will be the first in 20 years of hospital operation that a taxes will not be levied. The current rate of .035 cents per $100 assessed valuation will be dropped in June when a bond issue it supported is fully paid.

The Marin Hospital District Board also:

BIDS — Learned the state health department had approved plans for remodeling the intensive care unit and the special procedure room and that the calls for bids have already been published.

LEASE — Approved unanimously a one-year lease for office space at 20 H Street, San Rafael, for out-patient children's services to the Community Mental Health Center.

GIFTS — Received monetary gifts totaling $24,718 from hospital volunteer groups for the purchase of needed hospital equipment.

Parks Set Fees On Extra Wheels

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Visitors to state campgrounds who bring motorcycles and dunebuggies along with their cars and camper trucks will have to pay an extra $1 camping fee from now on, the state Parks and Recreation Department announced Tuesday.

"Increasing use of recreational vehicles such as dunebuggies, motorcycles, trail bikes and four-wheel-drive vehicles" made the action necessary, the department said.

"This has increased the problems of enforcement and maintenance in state parks."

Beatle Talks Of Reunion To Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatle George Harrison says the four members of the musical group may get together again.

Paul McCartney has announced his intention to break away and perform separately. Harrison, here on a business trip, commented Tuesday:

"Everyone this year is trying to do his individual album, but after that I am ready to go back to work together again."

In Washington, the State Department said Beatle John Lennon and his wife, Yoko, also were in the United States for business discussions. The department said they opened with talks in Los Angeles and would be in New York May 7-16.

Terra Linda Orchestra Wins Superior Rating

The Terra Linda High School Orchestra won a perfect performance rating and the school's band won a superior rating in the California Music Educator's Association Music Festival Saturday at Novato High School, chairman John Enders announced yesterday.

The San Marin High School Band of Novato won an excellent rating, according to Enders.

Minorities Rap KRON Coverage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — KRON-TV does not do enough to meet the needs of minority group members, according to testimony by a Chinese-American, a black man and two Mexican-Americans.

Speaking Tuesday at the license renewal hearing of the station, the witnesses conplained that KRON did not broadcast programs that would aid the people of their races.

Ling Chi-Wang, representing the Chinatown-North Beach District Council, criticized the station for not presenting lessons in English for non-English speaking Chinese.

Manuel Larez, spokesman for La Raza Junta, a Mexican-American organization, complained that "the 747 plane has been given more coverage in one month than Cesar Chavez has had in the five years of the grape strike."

But he said he favored retention of the license because KRON has agreed to present programs on Spanish culture.

Library Survey

Suspect Admits To Burglar Tools

Ronald Sharper, of no known address, has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing burglary tools and a second count of attempted burglary was dismissed.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set sentencing for June 15.

Sharper, who gave his name as Ray Byrd when arrested, was arrested March 26 in Sausalito when police saw him running out of an alleyway after a burglar alarm had gone off in a Sausalito pharmacy.

They said he dropped two metal bars when ordered to stop.

Two men also arrested on same charges were later released when there was insufficient evidence to tie them to the offenses.

Agnew Asks Ouster Of Brewster From Yale Job

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Blaming campus violence on faculties that fail to guide students, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has singled out Yale University and called for the replacement of its president.

Speaking at a $250-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner Tuesday night, Agnew declared:

"The true responsibility for these aberrations and the nurturing of arrogance and contempt for constitutional authority rests not with the young people on campuses, but with those who so miserably fail to guide them.

"I can well understand the attitude of the majority of the student body at Yale University when most of the Yale faculty voted to endorse a strike in support of members of an organization dedicated to criminal violence, anarchy and the destruction of the United States of America."

PANTHER PREFERENCE

This was a reference to the Black Panthers, eight of whose members face trial on murder and kidnaping charges in New Haven.

(At New Haven, there was no immediate comment from Brewster. However, today, a 1,500 student-signed petition was presented to Brewster supporting his statement on fair trial policies.)

"And," Agnew added, "when the president of that respected university describes the election of a president of the United States by the people of the United States as a 'hucksterized process' under which they could not expect much better 'whichever package was bought or sold,' it is clearly time for the alumni of that fine old college to demand that it be headed by a more mature and responsible person.

"President Kingman Brewster of Yale has also stated that he does not feel that black revolutionaries can get a fair trial within our judicial system.

NO FAIR IMPRESSION

"I do not feel that the students of Yale University can get a fair impression of their country under the tutelage of Kingman Brewster."

The vice president said American univerisities have become a spawning ground and sanctuary for revolution and rebellion. He proposed a nine-point program for handling what he called "the criminal left."

Agnew's proposals included:

—Establish a clear set of rues for campus conduct with immediate expulsion for serious violations.

—End open door enrollment policies for unqualified studen's.

—Eliminate amnesty for lawlessness or violence.

—Bar campus organizations which publicly declare intention to violate the rules of an academic community and then do so.

Agnew said campus radicals are the offspring of "affluent, permissive upper middle class parents who learned their Dr. Spock and threw discipline out the window—when they should have done the opposite.

"They are the children dropped off by their parents at Sunday school to hear the 'modern' gospel from a 'progressive' preacher more interested in fighting pollution than fighting evil—one of those pleasant clergymen who lifts his weekly sermons out of old newsletters from a National Council of Churches."

"To most academicians the traditional enemy has always been on the right," Agnew said.

Relic Mound Fence Fund Drive Set

The Dixie School District board last night authorized a fund drive for the construction of a fence to preserve the Indian mound found on Mill Creek School property, according to Supt. Clifford W. Campbell.

The action came after a report to the board by Charles Slaymaker, a master's degree candidate in anthropology at aSn Francisco State College, who has been escavating in the area since last summer.

He and his team of student archaeologists have unearthed artifacts from Coast Miwok Indians dating back to the time of Christ.

Donald Thieler, principal of Mary E. Silveira School, will head the fund raising drive to preserve the mound as an historical and archaeological site.

The Dixie School District board also:

CALENDAR—Amended its tentative 1970-71 school calendar to coincide with that of the San Rafael High School District. Classes will begin Sept. 8 and end June 10.

GUIDE — Authorized Campbell to distribute the "Guide for Youth and Parents" prepared by Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin.

MUSIC CAMP — Gave formal approval to a five-week summer program for 6th and 7th grade music students. The program will consist of four weeks of intensive instruction, followed by a one-week music camp at Camp CAzadero. It will be financed from state funds, with the execption of $40 the students must pay for room and board at the camp.

LIBRARIES — Agreed to open all district school libraries during summer school hours for use by all students in the community.

CONTRACTS — Authorized issuance of contracts for next year to the current teaching staff based on the current salary scheduled.

GRANT — Approved application to the federal government for $3,196 for library materials. $243 of the total is for private schools in the district.

GIFTS — Accepted $1,730 in miscellaneous gifts to Santa Margarita School, primarily from the Parent-Teacher Association.

BUDGET — Postponed presentation of the preliminary budget until the next meeting.

Thirty-five years ago Harrison F. Dunning answered a classified ad for a $25 a week job at Scott Paper Co. Today he is chairman of the board.

Modular Penngrove Classrooms Approved

Plans for the construction of modular classrooms and an administration center at Penngrove School were approved last night by the Petaluma Board of Education.

The modular component systems will replace classrooms lost when the older section of the school was abandoned because it failed to meet minimum earthquake standards.

Architect Macolm Reynolds said the buildings will have heating and air conditioning units mounted on the roofs as well as outside porches and ramps for easy access.

School supt. Lesly H. Meyer said the new classrooms will bring the school capacity from 370 to 500 students. He also recommened that two adjacent acres of land be purchased with remaining bond money to replace the playground that will be lost in the placement of the builidngs.

William N. Wurzburg, administrative assistant, recommended the modular buildings because they can be modified at any time to reflect changes in classroom size and curriculum.

Reynolds said the classroom adjacent to the administrative center could be easily used as a conference room.

The architect said three or four firms will be able to bid for the project, but could not estimate cost because of the changing market for modular buildings.

The Petaluma Board Of Education Also:

ECOLOGY — Heard a report from Alfred L. Walker, McKinley School principal, on sixth grade field trips to Point Reyes National Seashore and Audobon Canyon Ranch, Zolinas, as the first phase of ecology and environment curriculum development for elementary students.

BUSES — Heard Meyer report on the possible use of school buses by the Petaluma Recreation Department. He said that if an agreement is reached, the city would pay 15 cents per mile as well as the driver's salary.

COLLEGE — Approved agreement with Sonoma State College for the juoint use of athletic facilities.

EMPLOYED — Hired as teachers to begin in September, Mark Klunk, at a salary of $8,135; Robert Lombardi, $7,764; Pamela Marks, 7,290; and Karen Vinti, $7,087.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of six teachers including Charles Bird and James Tutt, who accepted positions in other districts; Thomas Brazil and Thomas Jacobus, personal; Deboras tSewart, marriage; and Nancy Arneson, matrimony.

Man Is Critical From Pill Overdose

Julio Augusto Panduro,26,of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael, was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital as a result of an overdose of pills.

Panduro was taken to the hsopital by a friend in a taxicab yesterday at 7:42 a.m., according to police.

Even without the million or more foreign visitors expected for Expo '70, Osaka, Japan, would be crowded. Japan's second-largest city has 3,150,000 inhabitants and space is so valuable that land in parts of the city sells for nearly $600 a square yard.

Wild Session On 'Filth-In' At College

Distributions of allegedly obscene materials, a "filth-in" Monday, and disciplinary action against a 28-year-old student, led yesterday to an attempt at disrupting a meeting of the student government at the College of Marin.

Richard Stark, of 38 Park, Woodacre, who was put on probation Monday for violating college procedures on the distribution of literature on campus, was carried into the meeting gagged and bound to a chair, according to James Detro, student body president.

He and several supporters wore Indian war paint on their faces and attempted to disrupt the executive council meeting with Yippie style tactics, Detro said.

Detro said the group carried toy and squirt guns, shouted profanities and engaged in "absurd" activities in an attempt to create a free speech issue on the campus.

The group — said by Detro to represent almost no one on campus — demanded that the executive council support Stark in fighting the disciplinary action. The council eventually called an all-student vote for next Wednesday to determine student opinion on Stark's case.

Stark was put on probation by Irwin Diamond, dean of students at the school, for failing to get approval to distribute material on campus.

It is not a question of free speech or censorship, Diamond said. He said the college has a procedure to insure that materials are distributed only by students on the campus. Stark did not follow the procedure, Diamond said.

Stark has until 5 p.m. today to file an appeal of his probation, Diamond said.

Water-Filled Barriers Win Support

San Anselmo city councilmen last night indicated a perference for water-filled safety barriers as a way of protecting Isabel Cook School students who use the busy Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sonoma Avenue intersection.

The council voted 4-0 James F. Reed was absent- in favor of the water bumper barriers and then referred the plan to the San Anselmo School District board for study.

The council has been studing ways to improve the traffic flow at the intersection for several weeks and at the same time has been trying to find a way to protect the school's students who are forced to wait on the intersection's northwest corner.

The council last night also considered a five-foot high earth barrier, concrete barrier and a tapered metal railing, but discarded them.

The water barrier, f approved by the school district, would be located between the traffic lanes and the corner so that any car out of control at the busy intersectioncould not hit the children.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell told the council the water barrier, which operates much like the water bumper on cars, would cost about $3,000. The council indicated it would seek to split the cost of the barrier and necessary landscaping with the school district.

The San Anselmo City Council last night also.

BIKES — Referred to staff for study a request from second graders at Isabel Cook School for a bicycle path along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

DEMOLITION — Held off awarding a bid for demolition of a house at 16 Ramon Way for at least amonth. Golden West Savings and Loan Association; the new owner of the property, indicated last night it would try to bring the home up to city building standards within 30 days.

COTTAGE — Granted permssion to Ramon H. Castagnino, of 71 Elm Avenue, to continue renting out a second housing unit on her property. The second unit is nonconforming since her home is located in an single-family residetial area. The council stipulated that the second unit could not be inhabitated by more than two persons.

YOUTH COMMISSION — Referred tentative by-laws for the city's newly formed youth commission to the city Park and Recreation Commission.

APPEAL — Upheld a planning commission decision to deny permission to Dr. Robert Beeman, of 112 Jordan Avenue, to build a third story on his home.

SIDEWALK SALE — Approved a one-day sidewalk sale by downtown merchants for June 5. The merchants had previously sought a two-day sale, June 5-6, but changed their minds and requested only one day. They will be allowed to display their merchandise on the sidewalk for the one day.

MEETING — Authorized the city to pay the $40 registration fee for any city councilman wishing to attend the annual Councilman's Institute sponsored by the League of California May 21-22.

SIGNS — Approved free-standing signs for Senior Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant on San Anselmo Avenue and the Chapel of the Hills Mortuary on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Guilty Plea To Armed Robbery

John Charles Batts, 18, of San Rafael, has pleaded guilty to a charge of armer robbery just before he was set to go to trial in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set sentencing for June 8.

Batts confessed to being the person who held up an employee of the Minto and Son service Station at 805 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo on Feb. 11 and escaped with $150.

Rec Panel Slates Special Meeting

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall to discuss plans for passing the recreation center bond issue on the June ballot to the public.

Andrew J. Snyder, director of parks and recreation, said persons interested in working for the passage of the bond issue, should attend the meeting.

Sound Of Music Rocks Neighbors

Ronald DeMasi calls it music.

Dolores J. Sill, a neighbor, says it sounds "like a pack of wolves howling."

DeMasi says he only practices during the day.

A petition signed by 21 San Anselmo residents says whatever it is — music wolves howling — it goes on night and day and keeps everyone in the neighborhood awake.

And they want it stopped.

DeMasi, as it turns out, is a long-haired leader of a San Anselmo rock band who lives at 1 Roger Avenue and uses his home as a rehearsal hall for the entire band several times a week.

"It's my profession," he told the San Anselmo City Council last night. "My practicing is just like a businessman who brings home work from the office."

The 21 signers of the petition, however, questioned the practice of DeMasi doing his "homework" at 2 a.m. in the morning. Or, for that matter, 2 p.m. in the afternoon.

"It's horrible," said one protester. "If that's his profession, he must starve to death."

The council, which noted it is studying an ordinance on noise pollution, ordered DeMasi to appear before the city planning commission to seek a use permit to allow him to continue practicing his "profession" at home since the residential zoning prohibits commercial use of the property.

Innocent Plea To Heroin Count

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Michael R. James, 28, Marin's former New Careers program coordinator, has pleaded innocent in Superior Court to a charge of possession of heroin.

Trial was set for next Tuesday at 9 a.m. in Department 22.

James was arrested Dec. 8 in the Fillmore District of San Francisco with several small balloons in his possession containing heroin, police said.

Berkeley Rent Arbitration Tried

BERKELEY (AP) — The Berkeley City Council voted 8-1 Tuesday night to ask an arbiter ao decide rent strike disputes.

The National Center for Dispute Settlement of the American Arbitration Association could decide the disputes if both sides agree in advance to accept the decision.

The Berkeley Tenants Union has already refused such arbitration, however.

Some Berkeley tenants have withheld paying rent the past three months in protest of what they say are high rents and inadequate repairs.

Credit Card Forger Is Granted Probation

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court has placed Ronald Gregory Wiggings, 23, of San Mateo, on two years' probation and gave him a six months' jail sentence with credit for the time he had served.

Wiggins had earlier admitted forging someone else's signature to a credit card on Sept. 15, 1969.

Reed School Critic Appointed To Citizens Tax Panel Vacancy

Reed School District trustees, in a spirit of harmony, last night appointed Mervin D. Field, a board critic, to head the citizens tax election committee.

Field of 45 Bay View Avenue, Belvedere, will succeed board chairman Leo Souza, who resigned as commiteee boss, saying he felt he shouldn't serve both on the board and the committee.

Field, a member of the Save Reed Schools Committee, which has clashed with the board, said although there has been controversy, there now are signs that various factions in the district are beginning to come together

The district is seeking voter approval June 2 of a measure to increase the operating tax rate 60cents from $2.25 to $2.85 per $100 assessed valuation. The present total tax ratee is $3.735.

Trustees told Field that they support the tax hike after he stressed that unanimous board support would be a boon to the tax hike campaign.

Field also asked the board to indicate that it wouldn't levy the full 60 cents in the first year, 1070-71. Trustees explained they had already planned to consider a budget that would use only 35 cents of the boost, if the measure is passed.

During the first two hours of the sessions, trustees and residents discussed procedures for recruiting and screening applicants to ucceed Supt. Robert B. Caw, who leaves July 1.

Souza reported the three jrincipals in the distcirt, Edward Mosconi, Robert D. Cowan and John C. Fitch, weren't interested in serving as interim superintendent.

Trustees Kenneth G. Wells and Thomas S. Price were appointed to draft a recruting brochure,, to be presented to the board Tuesday and mailed out in mid-May, with the deadline for applications mid-June.

Price suggested that the screening committee have its criteria for the job ready by mid-June.

If the initial search fails, the district could get someone from the Marin County Schools Office to serve as interim superintendent, commented Wells.

At the close of the open session, trustees went into closed meeting to discuss diring two principals, one for the Reedland Woods School to open this fall and the other to succeed James I. Justeson, Granada School principal, who has resigned.

T8he meeting was adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bel Aire School.

Motorcycle Suspect Address Is Denied

William Combi of 21 Resaca Avenue, Forest Knolls, has reported that Robert Forgrieve Berner, who was arrested April 16 on suspicion of grand theft and burglary in the January theft of a motorcycle, does not reside at that address.

Berner gave the Resaca Avenue address to arresting California Highway Patrol officers.

Anti-Ferryboat Commuters To Seek Recruits

The Golden Gate Commuters Association, formed to oppose transit plans by the Golden Gate Bridge District, will conduct a membership drive from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at three Marin shopping centers.

Association members will man tables in the malls at the Northgate and Corte Madera centers, and outside Safeway at the Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center.

The drive also will boost the association's meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Marin Civic Center.

The association has declared its "total opposition" to the district's purchase of a ferryboat to serve Sausalito, saying the purchase "illustrated the total lack of concern for the taxpaying public and the determination of the bridge board to do things their way without considering what the people feel."

The district should submit its transit plans to a vote of the people before acting, the association declared.

USE OUR FLEXIBLE CHARGE PLAN

CHARGE IN BERKELEY—After being showered by rocks during an anti-ROTC demonstration at the University of California campus, police charge the crowd and push them back. Several persons were injured and some arrests made during yesterday's uproar. (AP Telephoto)

The Peace Brigade's Stormy Baptism

BERKELEY (AP) — A new group of antiwar protesters had limited success in its first attempt to head off the sort of violence which has repeatedly racked the University of California campus.

About 40 young people, calling themselves the Peace Brigade, at one point Tuesday stood between about 1,000 demonstrators and a line of police.

The police were guarding Calalghan Hall, the Naval ROTC headquarters and site of repeated violent confrontations including a three-day splurge of window and furniture smashing vandalism by demonstrators that began April 15.

The violence-prone throng, however, brushed past the Peace Brigade and bombarded police with rocks, bricks and dirt clods and cherry bombs.

Police responded with tear gas at one point, plus several charges at the mob.

Twenty-three persons — including seven C students — were arrested.

The peaceful demonstrators handed out bread, flashed the V peace sign and chanted: "No rocks, no rocks, no combat."

Demonstrators at one point produced a giant slingshot made of several strips of elastic surgical tubing attached to a leather center pocket.

While two or three demonstrators held the tubing, two others filled the pocket with stones and half brick, stretched it back, and released the barrage in the direction of the police.

But they missed their mark when the stones sailed more than 150 feet over the police at Sather Gate and hit in the vicinity of the peaceful demonstrators.

The device was not used again.

Charges against those arrested included assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer and failure to disperse.

Several nonstudents were arrested for being on the campus.

Recent emergency rules place the campus off-limits to anyone except faculty, administration or student - body members or those having special business there.

A California Highway Patrolman, a newsman, and a young girl were injured by flying rocks.

Bagley's Bay Drilling Ban Bill Extended

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to ban oil and gas drilling throughout San Francisco Bay was introduced yesterday by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley previously introduced a bill banning drilling in all state-owned tide or submerged lands off coastal counties, which in the case of Marin automatically also included state-owned tidelands in the west side of the bay.

Under his new amendment, however, the ban would apply to all bay waters west of the Carquinez Bridge. Drilling leases already have been let by the State Lands Commission east of the bridge, Bagley's staff noted, thus a ban there probably would impinge in oil companies' legal rights.

A second amendment to the bill (AB 684) would allow the Legislature to consider lifting the ban after five years, but only if new, safe oil drilling techniques were discovered. These techniques would have to be aesthetically and environmentally acceptable to the Legislature to be approved.

Bagley's bill previously clearer the natural resources and conservation committee, and is pending before the ways and means committee. A similar bill by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, was defeated two weeks ago in an upper house committee, but Nejedly is trying to revive it.

Behr Coffee

FATHER'S DAY NEXT?

Bagley Satirizes Tax Exemption Proposals

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — God-fearing, flag-waving and mother-loving legislation has been authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley initially proposed to exempt from sales taxation white canes for the blind, but in a sort of amendment-of-the-week parade has been tacking on exemptions for other deserving causes.

Last month, he tacked on an amendment exempting the U.S. flag, then earlier this month added one for bibles.

Yesterday, wiping away a mirthful tear, Bagley introduced an amendment exempting Mother's Day cards from sales taxes. And Father's Day cards will come next week, his staff predicted.

The bill (AB 347) really is not meant to go out of Bagley's revenue ann taxation committee, his staff concened, but rather was a ploy to show th absurdity of bills by other legislators to grant special exemptions. Granting eemptions just to favor deserving causes sounds fine until the eroding effect on the tax bas is figured, they noted.

For example, exemption of bibles from the sales tax would iost the state about. $3 million a year in tax revenue.

White canes, which last an average of four years, according to a state study, bring in only about $500 a year in sales tax revenue.

The flag brings in about $10,000 a year. No estimate was available for Mother's Day cards.

Asked if the bible exemption would extend to the Koran, Bagley's staff said, "That's an administrative problem."

The flag exemption would extend only to the U.S. flag, not to the state nor any other flag. This amendment was inspired by another legislator's bill a few years ago to give each taxpayer a $10 credit on his income tax for purchase of a U.S. flag. Tax experts figured at the time that it would have been cheaper for the state to buy a flag for every person in California.

Bagley's staff said that his bill already had attracted the ire of the California Association for the Blind, which objected that the blind want to be participating members of society, and did not need this kind of special tax treatment.

One-fifth of such tax revenue loses, the staff noted, would be deducted from revenue for local government, revenue that probably would have to be replaced with property tax revenue.

Flag As Shirt Leads To Arrest

Kenneth B. Stone of 362 Cascade Road, Fairfax, was free on $350 bail today after being arrested about 1:30 a.m. for wearing a shirt made out of a United States flag.

Ross police said Stone, 22, was a passenger in a car stopped for having a rear light out. Patrolman Walter Fischer noticed Stone's shirt and asked if it were a flag. Stone said it was, and was booked at Marin County Jail under a state law which prohibits mutiliating or defling the falg.

He is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Friday.

Federal Base Pollution Hit In Assembly

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A plea urging President Nixon to direct federal officials to stop water pollution from military installations, including one in Marin, has been introduced by the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality.

The Mill Valley Air Force State Station atop Mount Tamalpais was among eight Bay Area installations cited in the joint resolution. Others were at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, Concord Naval Weapons Station, Skaggs island, Yerba Buena Island, Alameda Naval Air Station, Oakland Army Base and Hunters Point Shipyard.

Also cited were sewage and oil wastes from naval vessels, and 17 installations elsewhere in California.

Noting that all were in violation of the state's water qquality standards, the resolution urges the federal government to "show leadership in the maintenance of a qquality environment for California by not polluting the state's waters."

The resolution also asks that responsible federal officials advise the Legislature "of the date on which each federal installation will meet California regulations on water quality."

PROTEST TAKES TO TREES

KOBSEFF LEARNS

Mountains Covered By Tin Cans

I-J Special Report

McCLOUD, Siskiyou County—Nick Kobseff, former postmaster, fier chief and "honorary mayor" of Nicasio, got a can tied to him in his initial venture into public service here — 120,000 cans, in fact.

Kobseff, former Rancho Nicasio proprietor who now operates the McCloud River Lodge, got into the act by announcing he would pay one cent for every discarded tin can picked up from along streets and highways and delivered to the lodge. The collection was to be made last Friday and Saturday.

John Gould, another McCloud businessman, agreed to buy one can for each one Kobseff bought. The word got around among the youngsters that every tin can would be worth two cents.

On Friday, the deluge began.

By the time the weekend was over, there were 120,000 cans piled on Kobseff's parking lot. One teen-ager arrived with 18,000.

Kobseff and Gould issued receipts for the cans, many of which were burned, rusty or otherwise bore indication they had been dug out of rubbish piles rather than picked up along the roads. They said today they may switch the rules a little to give a big party for all the youngsters, rather than paying off with 120,000 pennies.

Cities Favor New Annexation Law

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Wholesale city annexation of unincorporated territory in Marin and Sonoma would be possible under new legislation being pushed hard by the League of California Cities.

The bill, AB 2400 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, also could affect the fight by the cities of Mill Valley and Tiburon to annex the tax-rich Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center. Any annexations pending on Jan. 1, 1971, would be conducted under the bill's provisions if it became law.

Current law reserves the power to initiate annexation to residents and property owners in an area to be annexed, and puts the burden of petitions and other procedures on the proponents of an annexation. Knox's bill would reverse this, empowering cities to initiate annexations and putting on opponents the burden of acting to stop the annexation.

Under the Knox bill, for example, San Rafael could annex all of Terra Linda without a vote of Terra Linda residents. The city council would pass a resolution proposing to annex Terra Linda, then the proposal would go to the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

The commission could approve or reject the annexation, but if the commission approved it, the city council then would schedule a hearing to hear protests against the annexation.

But unless protests were filed by at least half of the registered voters within the affected area — and by at least half of the property owners in the affected area owning more than 50 per cent of the area's assessed value — the city could proceed to annex the territory.

In the case of uninhabited territory, only the provision for property owners as above would be needed to stop annexation.

The League of California Cities has worked unsuccessfully for several years for major revision of the state's annexation law, and reportedly is trying for a breakthrough this year.

League officials have been meeting with officials of the County Supervisors Association of California to get the association's support, or at least its agreement not to oppose the bill.

Private utilities traditionally oppose legislation to make it easier for cities to annex new territory. In some areas of the state, cities operating their own utility systems have been competing with private utilities by annexing new customers.

Probation Given On Defraud Charge

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior court has placed Juanita Lorraine Litteral, 18, of San Rafael, on probation for two years and ordered her to spend 90 days in jail with credit for time already served.

Miss Litteral had earlier admitted possessing a check with intent to defraud another person on April 17, 1969. She had first been charged with forging an endorsement on a check stolen by a former mailman.

Minor Injuries In 101 Crash

A 42-year-old San Rafael woman and her daughter received minor injuries in a two-car accident on Highway 101 yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers said a car driven by Patricia K. Schields, of 486 Blackstone Drive, was stopped in heavy traffic on the northbound freeway near Paradise Drive in Corte Madera at 4:30 p.m. when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Manuel Orta, of 1563 Linden Lane, San Rafael.

Mrs. Shields and her daughter, Kathleen, 13, were treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in San Rafael for cuts and scrapes.

Tax Rate Hike For Flood Zone

The San Rafael Meadows Flood Control Zone will raise its tax rate from the present 20.5 cents to 27 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the 1970-71 fiscal year.

The zone advisory board, headed by James R. Blum, met at the Civic Center last night to set the new tax rate and approve a budget of $20,000 for next fiscal year. This year's total budget is $18,850.

The 27-cent tax rate will raise about $5,700. A carryover of $13,700 will bring the total available funds next year to just under $20,000.

The flood control zone's main project for the new fiscal year will be to begin designs for widening and stabilizing an unnamed ditch that runs from Corrillo Drive to Merrydale Road, between Mirada and El Prado avenues .

Killer Appeals For Bridge Seat

VACAVILLE (UPI) — Dr. Geze de Kaplany, who went to jail for the 1962 acid-slaying of his wife, Tuesday asked the State Court of Appeal to give him back his chair on the bridge club at Vacaville State Prison.

De Kaplany made the appeal from a Solano County superior court that ruled the courts could not dictate such a policy for prisons .

The anesthesiologist was dropped from the bridge club in 1965 because of a rule that "special interest" prisoners such as himself cannot have contact with the public.

The bridge club at the facility regularly plays teams from the community.

Legal Warning Roadblocks Marin 'Hair' Production

A musical revue of "Hair" by Marin County high school students has been canceled because of a threat of legal action, according to Mark Litchfield, organizer of the student performance.

Attorney Sodney F. Weinberg, representing the producer of the play, phoned from New York last week to warn of legal action if Litchfield, a 19-year-old San Rafail High School graduate, continued with preparations to put on the show, gave the show anymorepublicity or actually put the show on.

He then wrote a letter, Litchfield said, demanding that the youth sign a document within one week of receipt obligating him to pay $5,000 damages if he didn't stop the production.

Litchfield placed an article in the Independent-Journay March 23 announcing auditions for his show and got 300 responses. A total of 50 high school students were involved in production preparations, he said.

Record Budget For Los Angeles?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A record $2.1 billion preliminary budget, representing the highest increase in the property tax rate in county history, has been submitted to the goard of supervisors.

Lindon S. Hollinger, chief county administrative officer, blamed the increase on rising costs in law enforcement and the upswing in the welfare case load.

The new budget called for a 94 per cent boost per $100 assessed valuation in the current tax rate of $2.9057 with a rise of 25 per cent in overall county spending to $365.8 million.

Today is Wednesday, April 29, the 119th day of 1970 with 246 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1878 Boston newspapers ran the ad, "Telephone, $3.00, guaranteed to work one mile. Five miles, $5.00."

In 1931 President Herbert Hoover received King Prajadhipok of Siam. He was the first absolute monarch to visit the U.S.

In 1945 U.S. troops liberated 32,000 prisoners at Dachau concentration camp.

In 1964 Princess Irene, of the Netherlands, married Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma in Rome.

A thought for the day: Scottish poet James Barry said, "We never understand how little we need in this world until we know the loss of it."

IN DUMMY

New York tournament star Ira Rubin took the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and led a trump to the ace. If East had followed suit, only the king and jack of spades would be out. Rubin would then consider taking the three top clubs in the hope of dropping the jack. This would permit declarer to lead the ten of clubs next and discard a loser while West ruffed with a trump honor.

Actually, East discarded a heart on the first spade. Since West still had the seven of spades as well as the king and jack, South couldn't gain by taking three top clubs. Declarer had to get all four club tricks and therefore had to find four clubs in the West hand.

AT CROSSROADS

Rubin cashed the queen and ace of clubs and then led a low club. West followed with the seven, and declarer was at the crossroads. A finesse would bring the contract in if West still had the jack of clubs. South would go down two instead of just one if East had the jack of clubs.

Would East have opened two hearts with two clubs and no spades, and therefore 11 red cards? Few experts would open a "weak two" bid with such freakish distribution, but Rubin knew his customer in the East seat.

ATTEMPTS FINESSE

Rubin therefore tried a finesse with the ten of clubs. When this held, he cashed the king of clubs to discard a diamond. Now he could safely give up two spades and eventually a heart, making his doubled contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

S— 5 3
H— A 9 8 4
D— K 3 2
C— K 10 8 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, intending to show the heart support at your next turn.

Your hand is too strong for an immediate raise to two hearts, but not strong enough for a jump to three hearts.

Proposed Bond Issue On Tap

The Marin Hospital District will hold a public hearing tonight on the proposed $10 million bond issue for expansion of facilities at Marin General Hospital.

Meeting at the hospital's Coral Room at 7 o'clock, the board will also hear staff and volunteer reports.

The bond issue, if approved, would provide funds for an additional 100 beds, and other facilities called for in the district's master plan.

Synanon To Face County Checkup

Marin County supervisors want to know if Synanon Foundation at Marshall is complying with all county rgulations on health, density of population and proper education of children.

On a suggestion by Louis H. Baar, the supervisors yesterday asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and Acting County Planner Werner Von Gundell to see if county requirements are being met on the 62-acre Synanon property.

Baar said some citizens in West Marin are concerned about reports of "communal living" in apartments called caves, with children living apart by themselves and cared for by everyone.

Von Gundell reported that the only recent disagreement with Synanon has been on a large metal warehouse building, which was modified after a design review approval by the planning staff. An area about 10,000 square feet, which was to be landscaped, has been blacktopped, reported Von Gundell.

In 1965, the county granted Synanon a use permit for use of 42 acres by 200 persons. In 1966 the county zoning administrator extended the use permit for an additional 21 acres.

Supervisors asked Von Gundell and Maloney to see if the use permit puts a ceiling on the population and to check on the education of children and compliance with all building and landscaping requirements.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas suggested that the education of children be investigated. "I'm opposed to the whole thing out there," said Mrs. Frederick.

Transit Study Hit At Land Development

General plans adopted in various communities in Marin call for too much land development and too few transportation facilities, according to the county's balanced transportation study phase one.

Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning, and transportation planner H. Rune Carlson reported their findings to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

County supervisors set a meeting of the Marin County Transit District for 8 p.m. May 20 at the Civic Center to discuss details of thet study. The date is tenative.

Solnit and Carlson said they took the county's 31 general plans and meshed them into one coordinated countywide plan. On the basis of these plans, Marin's population will be 609,000 in 50 years.

This would require 12 to 15 lanes along Highway 101 and at least a second deck for autos on the Golden Gate Bridge.

In order to balance highways and land development, a mass transit system would be needed to attract 60 per cent of all travelers to San Francisco and 11 per cent of all travelers within Marin County. Such a mass transit system would probably be either a rail system with feeder buses or a rapid-bus spstem operating on exclusive rights-of-way, the planners reported.

Among other findings of the study are these:

Trips to Sonoma County and North Bay locations will surpass those to San Francisco at some point before the year 2020.

Marin will have more home-to-work travel within the county than at present.

Both the optimum bus system devised by the Marin County Transit District and ferryboat system will be only short range measures to relieve existing highway jams.

A certain level of congestion may have to be "planned into" the future highway system to (1) induce travelers out of cars and onto an improved transit system and (2) reduce highway construction to preserve Marin's enviroment.

Carlson explained that the phase one study matched the 31 local plans with the existing highway system to show the extent of deficiencies. Phase two present alternatives to the local plans so that land development and transportation facilities will balance.

Supervisors Delay On Hamilton Policy

Marin County supervisors declared yesterday they are not yet ready to choose between a limited use of the Hamilton Air Force Base runway for civilian planes and full-scale civilian use on a separate runway. (Another supervisors story, page 6.)

Supervisors declared they would continue to sound out Washington on various possibilities for joint civilian-military use of Hamilton Field without trending toward either one of the other of two plans thrashed out by the Marin Aviation Commission.

On a motion by Louis H. Baar, the supervisors asked the Bay Area Study of Aviation Resources, working under the Association of Bay Area Governments, to include within its study the joint use of Hamilton Field facilities.

Ray W. Foreaker Jr., chairman of the aviation commission, recommended a limited use of the military runway. Under this plan, only scheduled air carriers would use the military runway. A civilian terminal would be built near the military runway, with taxiway connections. Access would be northward to Bel Marin Keys Boulevard. Foreaker estimated this plan would cost $3.5 million.

Another plan, pushed by former aviation commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind, calls for a 5,000-foot separate civilian runway to be built about a mile east of the Hamilton runway, with air terminals and other facilities. Cost estimate on this plan was roughly $11.5 million, including cost of buying 650 acres east of Hamilton Field.

Ostlind said the limited plan would be short-sighted and impractical. He warned that unless land is purchased now, limited civilian use of the military facilities would quickly raise prices on adjacent land, and future expansion would be difficult.

Foreaker and fellow commissioners Richard P. Nave and Herbert M. Hanson replied that the limited plan recommended by the aviation commission provides a foot in the door to joint use, and can be expanded ultimately to the Ostlind plan.

Both the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Novato Chamber of Commerce asked supervisors to hold up a decision until more study.

Look Co-Author Tells Of Rumor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A co-author of the Look magazine article which touched off a $12.5 million libel suit has testified he heard "rumors" Mayor Joseph Alioto had Mafia connections from law enforcement officers.

Lance Brisson, article co-author and son of actress Rosalind Russell and producer Fred Brisson, said Tuesday he heard the rumors and allegations" in 1968.

Brisson added, however, he could not remember names of any officers.

Alioto's attorney Maxwell Blecher asked whether an officer had told him of the allegation in the article that two alleged Mafia members, Jimmy Fratianno and Angelo Morino, met with Alioto in his office Nov. 5, 1964, Brisson replied: "Not in these words. It was a conclusion based on facts."

Brisson expressed belief Alioto had a number of meetings with Fratianno and that bank loans were one of the subjects discussed.

Surgery, Blood Call For Lygren

Philip B. Lygren, Ross town engineer, was to undergo open heart surgery today at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco.

Marin County Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. announced yesterday that he received a call from Mayor Frederick S. Allen of Ross, asking for blood donations for Lygren.

He will need about 50 pints for the surgery, said Mayor Allen. The donations can be made to the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Rafael in Lygren's name.

Lygren has been the victim of several heart attacks.

Transit Fund Agreement Is Requested

Marin County supervisors, on notice that the county will have to provide deficit financing of any intracounty bus transportation, called for a close look at the cost before leaping.

The supervisors called for a precise agreement with the Golden Gate Bridge District which will operate intercounty bus service. They asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to work with the district staff on an agreement that would spell out the county's obligation for any operation within Marin limits and that would give the county some control of that portion of the district's operation.

Supervisor Michael Wornum presented a resolution calling for payment by Marin of about $123,000 for intracounty bus service, with a greater share to be paid if the intracounty deficit proves to be larger.

The total contribution by Marin shall not exceed the amount to be raised by a 5-cent tax for the first fiscal year. This would total about $260,000.

The last paragraph in the resolution provides that "in the event the tax rate is insufficient, Marin County and/or the Marin County Transit District will make additional contribution out of its reserve fund."

Supervisor Louis H. Baar balked at this last paragraph. He said the Golden Gate Bridge District would then have unlimited authority to charge Marin for intracounty service.

Chairman John F. McInnis agreed that Marin should have some control over the operation of the intracounty service so that the county's obligation can be limited.

During the Civil War people were so leery of paper money they hoarded so many coins almost all of them were taken out of circulation.

ROLLING THE dough for diples, for the Grecian Holiday picnic Sunday at Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax are, from left, Mmes. Angelo Loizos, James Contos and Stella Mamalakis. Mrs. Mamalakis is president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Philoptochos Society, who will sell the pastries in booths at the picnic.

LAYERING THE fillo pastry for baklava is Mrs. Gus Stathis, left, as Mmes. John Papadopoulos, Isidore Natsios and Chris Christo spread a nut mixture over the fillo.

Greek Pastries Prepared For Picnic

Dancing, music, games, food and pastries will be featured Sunday when the Greek community presents a Grecian Holiday at Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax beginning at noon.

The public picnic will benefit the newly-organized Greek Orthodox Church of Marin County, which holds services at the Montgomery Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The Trio Orfeo will play throughout the day, and the Balkan Dancers will demonstrate Greek dances and give lessons to those wishing to join the dance lines.

Serving the traditional Greek luncheon, prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Philoptochos Society will begin at noon. Auxiliary members will also operate booths selling gift items, including very old icons, arts and crafts, and homemade pastries — baklava, diples, kourambiethies, koulouria and melomakarona. There will also be games for children.

Chairman is C.W. Kosturos, and Van Athanasakos is co-chairman. Committee members include Mr. and Mrs. Thano Johnson, Mrs. Gus Stathis, Mrs. Charles Banks, Peter Tsigelatos, John Papadopoulos, Chris Christo and John Mamalakis.

Tickets for admission and food are available from the Greek Orthodox Church of Marin, Spiro's Red Vest in Novato and Taverna Yiasou in San Rafael. Reservations chairmen are Peter Patrakis and William Poulopoulos, both of Mill Valley, and C.W. Kosturos of Ignacio. Tickets will be available at the gate for those bringing their own lunch.

Baking for the picnic was done recently at the home of Mrs. Charles Banks by members of the ladies' auxiliary. Some of the recipes are:

BAKLAVA
By Mrs. Gus Stathis of Terra Linda

1 lb. fillo pastry
1 lb. sweet butter (melted)
nut mixture — 6 cups chopped walnuts (or 3 cups walnuts mixed with 3 cups blanched chopped almonds)
Stir in 3 tablespoons sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
syrup — 3½ cups granulated sugar
2 cups water
½ cup honey
juice of 1 or 1½ lemons plus a small slice of lemon
1 stick cinnamon

Make syrup early in day or night before so it has time to cool. Combine sugar with water and bring to boil, add honey, lemon juice and slice a cinnamon stick. Simmer gently over moderate heat for about 10 to 15 minutes. Set aside to cool.

Brush bottom and sides of a 10 x 16 x 2 inch pan with melted butter. Lay in one layer of fillo pastry and brush with melted butter. Continue layering until you have six buttered layers. Then spread some of the nut mixture evenly over fillo. Continue with fillo, melted butter and nut mixture until the nut mixture is used, making sure to save 8 fillo layers for top. Add remaining fillo layers, brushing each with melted butter. Brush top well. Using sharp knife cut 2 inch strips the length of pan then 2 inch diagonally across to form diamond shape.

Bake about 1 hour in preheated 325 degree oven or until a golden brown. Take out and immediately spoon cold syrup over top using all syrup. Let set until cool so syrup will penetrate thoroughly. Makes 60 pieces.

DIPLES
By Mrs. Thano Johnson of Lucas Valley

4 whole eggs
8 egg yolks
2 tablespoons oil
Juice of 2 large or 3 medium oranges
2 teaspoon baking powder
5 cups flour
½ gallon oil for frying

SYRUP:
2 cups honey
½ cup water
Cinnamon stick

TOPPING:
½ cup ground walnuts mixed with 2 tablespoons sugar and
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Prepare above dough at least three hours ahead of time (prepare night before if you plan to start early in morning). Beat eggs and egg yolks until thick and frothy. Add other ingredients and as much flour as is needed to form soft manageable dough—consistency of playdough. Cover with damp cloth and let set for desired amount of time.

Divide dough into 6 equal parts. Roll out one part at a time on floured board to paper thinness or at least ⅛ of an inch. A long rolling stick the diameter of a broom handle is ideal for this. Keep remaining dough covered with damp cloth until ready to use. Cut with pastry cutter or knife into strips about 8 inches long and 2 inches wide. Form into rosettes, bows, etc., or leave strip as is and drop into hot deep oil (365 degrees to 375) one piece at a time. Using two forks (a two-pronged long cooking fork is ideal as one) turn dough over in hot fat immediately and roll quickly, jelly-roll fashion before it becomes crisp and cannot be rolled easily. A good criteria is to turn it as soon as it bubbles and roll other side immediately. You can be sure the inside is cooked this way.

Fry until very delicately brown—more on the light side. Remove from fat immediately and drain in collander or on paper towels. At this point the diples can be stored in an air-tight container indefinitely or until ready to serve. When ready to serve:

Dilute honey with water and heat with cinnamon stick. Do not boil. Diples may either be dipped in honey and drained in collander over bowl to catch syrup or the honey may be dribbled over layers of diples arranged in platter. Sprinkle on top with nuts and serve. They are best eaten by hand as of course a fork would break them apart.

KOURAMBIETHES
By Mrs. John Papadopoulos of Greenbrae

1 lb. sweet butter
½ cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup chopped almonds (blanched and lightly browned)
1 teaspoon cognac or brandy (optional)
5 cups flour, sifted before measuring
Whole cloves
1 lb. powdered sugar for dipping.

Melt butter, then refrigerate until of soft consistency. Put in electric mixer and beat well for about half an hour. Add ½ cup powdered sugar and beat until lightly colored. Stir in remaining ingredients. Add enough flour to make a soft dough. Knead dough thoroughly.

Take approximately 1 tablespoon of the dough and shape into desired forms (teardrops, stars, half-moons, balls, etc.) and insert clove in center. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet at 350 degrees about 30 minutes or until lightly golden brown.

Sift powdered sugar on a cutting board or area spread with wax paper. Place kourambiethes in the sugar and then cover them with more sifted sugar. Let them cool before removing from sugar. Place individually in cupcake papers and then into cookie jar for best storage. Makes about 60-70 cookies.

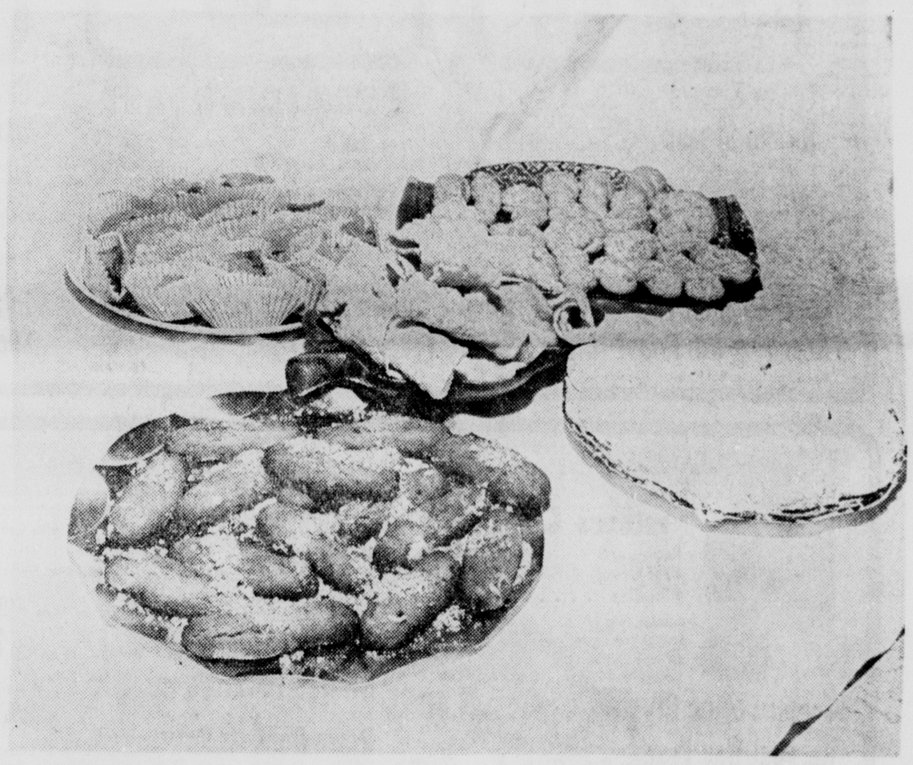
MELOMAKARONA (Honey Cookies)
By Mrs. Ted Preovolos of Peacock Gap

1 lb. butter
1 cup salad oil
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
7 cups flour, sifted
1/3 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda

Syrup

Boil 1 cup honey and ¼ cup water and simmer for about 10 minutes. ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Melt butter and add oil. Cool. Beat with electric mixer 5 minutes. Cream in sugar. Beat in eggs, orange juice, cinnamon and cloves. Sift together flour, baking powder and baking soda and slowly stir into batter. Shape into cookies the size of a 3-inch-long and 3/4-inch wide roll. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool cookies completely. Dip in hot syrup and sprinkle top with chopped walnuts. Makes about 80.



FINISHED PRODUCTS, from left, melomakarona, baklava, koulouria and kourambiethies and, center, diples, will be sold at the public picnic, Sunday, presented by the Greek community to benefit the newly-organized Greek Orthodox Church of Marin County.

Tricia Rarely Participates In White House Gatherings

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Tricia Nixon is proving you can have a private life in the White House.

Her public appearances are rare even at the glamorous gatherings in her showcase home at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

It takes a special occasion like father's day to get her to a White House worship service on Sunday.

And though she is the envy of many members of the swinging set with her ringside seat to the "evenings of entertainment" in the East Room, the blonde fragile presidential daughter passes up most of the memorable performances.

Even White House staffers were surprised that she would forego the show stopping appearance by handsome British shakespearean actor Nicol Williamson.

She also skipped Broadway singer Pearl Bailey who was a smash hit when she performed at the state dinner honoring West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

While others were begging for invitations for the Johnny Cash show—and everyone below 30 in the White House turned out for the country singer's rehearsal—Tricia stayed away.

TRICIA NIXON

"She is trying to lead a normal, personal life," said Connie Stuart, the First Lady's press secretary. "Her role is not official."

"She chooses not to attend most of these events," she explained.

Tricia, 24, however, is very much a part of the first family and fulfills her mission by devoted attention to her mail, standing in for her mother at various functions and tutoring two underpriveleged youngsters.

She keeps the first lady's staff guessing as much as reporters do about her way of life, her friends, her joys and romances.

She has no travel plans for the summer. She hopes to spend most of the time with her sister and brother-in-law, Julie and David Eisenhower, both of whom are about to graduate from college.

Tricia also is doing most of the social planning for the mid-July visit to Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Anne. One of the big events will be a White House dinner dance in their honor.

Otherwise she has organized her own life. She styles her own hair except for special occasions. She is a history buff and likes to read. She is "with it" on current events and an intelligent conversationalist.

She is poised and logical. Friends say she did not get uptight when flambuoyant Abbe Hoffman of the Chicago Seven tried to crash her ladies tea for the Finch College alumna.

"If he had been a member of the alumna I would have invited him," said Tricia with a smile.

Quilting Pieces Out Of Family Income

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The quilting bee, once an occasion mostly for neighborly socializing, now has turned into a means of piecing out family income in low-income areas.

A nonprofit group called Mountain Artisans, Inc., is making patchwork pay for some 300 women in seven rural West Virginia counties. Until about a year and a half ago, when this unusual project was started in a part of Appalachia, about the only recompense an expert seamstress received was pride in her handiwork and perhaps a prize at a county or state fair.

But now, everything that clears through Artisans earns the seamstress $2 an hour. Artisans produces the designs, under direction of Mrs. Samuel R. Dorothy Weatherford, buys the materials, precut when possible, and in effect subcontracts to 13 sewing centers in the seven counties.

"IF THIS KIND of project will work in West Virginia, why, not in other areas of poverty," said Joseph Mullins, Artisans' director. Artisans, headquartered in Charleston, W. Va., is funded through the Office of Econimic Opportunity, OEO, but Mullins said the hope is that one day it can be self-sustaining.

Certainly the project has a lot going for it. There is the current revival of patchwork or the patchwork look everywhere. Paris and New York couturiers use patchwork in clothes. Decorators push it lavishly in everything from quilts to upholstery. Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper wears it and uses it in quantity in her New York home. and Sharon Percy Rockefeller is vice chairman of Artisans' board of directors.

Then there is the talent directly responsible for running Artisans. Knoxville-born Dorothy Weatherford is a graduate of Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh and was an oil painter.

She joined Artisans after meeting Florette Angel, the organization's young, blonde director of sales and promotion, at a West Virginia State Crafts Fair, in Ripley.

"If anyone had told me two years ago that I'd be designing dresses, I'd have told them they were out of their minds," she recalled.

Mullins, an art major at Kansas State University and Morris Harvey College, Charleston, W. Va., had worked in the planning section of the governor's office before he took over general direction.

ALL THREE ARRIVED in New York the other day to stage a fashion and home show for buyers and press and to stay on at the Gotham Hotel to take orders from some of the top stores around the country.

They brought patchwork evening dresses, at-home pants costumes, quilts, tablecloths, costume, quilts, tablecloths, placemats, handbags, children's outfits, dolls and a color riot of pillows of all sizes.

"We're trying to put the old crafts to use with new fabrics and contemporary colors," said Mrs. Weatherford, a pretty brunette mother of three.

"We're not trying to deal with a fad," she said of all the patchwork designs around. 'Patchwork isn't a fad, anyway. . .it's hundreds of years old. But our women have other skills we will use. . .weaving, crocheting, tatting, rug hooking, knitting, and embroidery."

She's also expanding into work with leather and one of Artisans staff, Rita Bank, wore a leather miniskirt of white with silver embroidery and a white leather weskit.

Both she and Mullins said the project had important by-products. One is the pride the women feel from their product going to the nation's most sophisticated and demanding customers.

Another is preservation of crafts that otherwise would not be handed down "unless we get the young involved. . .and they will not get involved unless there is a reason," said Mullins. "They will not continue unless it is economically feasible."

DESIGNER RITA Bank appears to be drowning in patchwork during an interview at a midtown hotel in New York. It's all part of her work as a member of the staff of Mountain Artisans, Inc., a non-profit group making patchwork pay for some 300 women in seven rural West Virginia counties.

Ideas On Living Together Without The 'Hypocrisy' Of Legal Marriage

DEAR READERS:

When "good old Bill" turned out to be Billie Jean, the "Not That Modern Father" of the college man asked how other parents would react to a female room mate for their son.

Here are answers, not only from parents, but also from young people:

DEAR HELEN :

I liked the following letter I clipped from a newspaper just about the time "Not So Modern Father" asked for comments:

Sir: "We are not promiscuous. We love sincerely. We don't think marriage is important or that what we are doing is wrong so long as we aren't hurting anyone. Our parents never lived by the moral code they preach. The world never has. We love without hypocrisy."

This in essence is the general defense of the new morality as it is touted in our magazines, newspapers, theaters, television and college seminars.

Unless he is depraved, man instinctively values the opinion of his fellowman. This accounts for the pretense of morality on the part of many who are not moral. Though it is a poor substitute for real virtue, lip service to morality is better than no service at all. The fact that hypocrisy exists today indicates that, while man has fallen far short of his moral and spiritual goal, he is still reaching.

The new morality is not new. It is as old as sin and hypocrisy. It has been conspicuous in the crumbling of every great civilization which abandoned its moral traditions and pretenses. It is and always has been an escape from responsibility; it is an excuse for failure, it is a license for unrestrained self-indulgence. And it is, therefore, the greatest hypocrisy of all. — A.F.C.

DEAR HELEN:

"Not So Modern Father" seems to object to his son's living arrangements with his girl only because they cause embarrassment to the parents. Instead, they should be thankful that their son is now being honest, and has decided "what they don't know won't hurt them" is for the birds.

Face it: All these kids have done is to make an artificial weekend live-in a permanent, working relationship. They are not married because they are not ready for total commitment, and they understand the doubts they have might lead to a painful divorce.

As long as there are no children involved, Dad, don't pressure them and be thankful they are still your friends and are being honest with you.—Y.M.

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter said she was going to live with a fellow at college. But when I announced that my gentleman friend and I had decided to follow her example, and added, "Do bring your boy friend down to make it a foursome over spring vacation—you two can have our back bedroom. . ." she reverted to old fashioned morality fast. Result: We're both waiting for marriage. Isn't it strange, how children condone for themselves what would shock them green if their parents indulged? — WIDOW

DEAR HELEN:

Young people today are looking for truth and honesty, not tangible possessions or phony titles.

A mature, intelligent, responsible couple can live together before a "legal marriage" to discover if they are mutually and truly compatible. My husband and I lived together a year. We then married out of respect for our families, but only after we were sure it would be a lasting marriage. We've been married five years, which we consider six, and our love has grown each year. We stayed together through thick and thin, particularly through that difficult first year of adjustment, because of our love and respect for each other, not because of two signatures on a legal document.

NTMF should be proud that his son is concerned about the future and not just blinded by the romance of young love. — HAPPY WIFE.

Dining Out With Children Requires Some Preparation

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
Associated Press

Parents, when dining out with your children have you found yourself yelling "No, three sugars are enough; Don't eat with your fingers; Don't stare in that man's face."

After repeated incidents of this type, you already may have decided to give up on restaurant dining with your children rather than face a side order of indigestion.

However, wise parents know that taking children to a restaurant needn't be tantamount to a nightmare.

MOST PARENTS tend to forget that dining out is a whole new world to a child. That's why some children tense up—and end up by spilling the milk or knocking over flowers. Other children over-react and explore under, over and around every table.

Dining out in a restaurant with children takes preparation. Before you start the actual expedition, brief them. Talk about restaurants, show the children pictures of people dining out. Answer any questions the children may have—such as: "You mean strangers eat with you? We get served, like by a maid? We're not alone in the bathroom?"

Play restaurant at home. Make up menus offering a choice between two or three items. Sit with the children to help them choose. Dad might give his order to Mother, who cooks up the items in the kitchen. Just emphasize one fact—no changing of mind.

NEXT, PRACTICE makes perfect. Stop in an informal restaurant — a sit-in hamburger stand, a coffee shop, a pizza palace.

Now for the actual staging. Since patience is not a virtue of children, for your first real trial don't select a restaurant that specializes in leisurely two and a half hour dinners. Instead, select a restaurant that specializes in facilities for children (booster chairs, high chairs, children's menus and bibs, even bottle-warming service). Consider a buffet. Here feed the children first. Then one adult can remain at the table while the other loads his plate.

Avoid the temptation to indulge in the exotic. You might love Chinese food and so might your children, but their questions about the waiter may lead to embarrassing moments.

If possible, ask to be seated near washrooms and windows. Windows give children something to stare at besides the face of the man in the booth behind.

DON'T ALLOW a child to scan an entire menu. Limitless choices only make for limitless indecision.

If you're having a cocktail before dinner, order ginger ale or a Shirley Temple for the children. And have the children's drinks brought to the table immediately. This will keep the children occupied in addition to making them feel more grown-up.

After ordering, suggest a walk to the washroom. A careful wash-up allowing a child to enjoy but not destroy soap dispensers, hot-air dryers, etc., takes time and gives youngsters a chance to release nervous energy.

To make the time between ordering and service go faster, try to engage the children in a discussion about all the people who work in a restaurant to make the meal a success. You can point out the busboy, cook, cashier, hostess and talk about their exact functions.

MENU GAMES also make the time fly. Find the longest word or the shortest word on the menu. Find as many words as you can beginning with C.

To help you relax, there's the blessed quiet game. First child to talk is a monkey; last one to talk gets an extra handful of mints on the way out.

If possible, have the waitress bring the children smaller plates and glasses, plus extra napkins. Have her fill their glasses only halfway. If you really want to play it safe, bring big smocks or extra bibs from home.

When the meal is finished, compliment the children on what they did well—even if it was only finishing all their chips. No matter what—keep your cool.

Report Pollution And Collect Half The Federal Court Fine

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The ultimate tool has been found for fighting water pollution.

It's a 71-year-old Federal law that makes every dumping of refuse into a public waterway a criminal violation and then, believe it or not, allows the person who provided evidence leading to conviction half of the monetary penalties imposed on the polluter.

In other words, it is possible for private citizens to make money by pointing out sources of pollution.

The source of this gem of information is the House Subcommittee on Conservation and Natural Resources headed by Rep. Henry Reuss, (D-Wis.) It was contained in a subcommittee report dated March 18 (No. 91-917) entitled "Our Waters and Wetlands . . ."

The law is entitled the Refuse Act of 1899; the applicable part is Section 407 of U. S. Code 33.

As the subcommittee report points out, there are two avenues open to private citizens. They can either:

— Report evidence about polluters to the local United States Attorney and collect half of the fines eventually assessed by the courts, or

— File a civil suit to collect half the fine even though no prosecution is undertaken by the U. S. Attorney.

Section 411 of the same law sets maximum penalties at $500 to $2,500 for each violation. Now, let's see, half of that could amount . . . to not a bad day's pay.

The only trouble is that the law has never yet been tested. According to Administration and Congressional authorities, there are no reported cases in which a private citizen has filed suit and collected.

Two Congressmen, however, have filed reports in the form of legal affidavits to the U. S. Attorneys in their areas. They are Rep. Reuss and Rep. Michael Harrington (D-Mass.). Both have also stated that any money they earn will be turned over to pollution-fighting agencies.

Back in February, the Justice Department cited the same law in a criminal suit charging 11 industrial companies with dumping refuse into public waters in the Chicago area. The case is still pending.

There is one escape hatch available to polluters. If they can obtain a permit for such dumping, they can be exempt from the law. But there are no known cases where permits have been issued under this law.

Perhaps the easiest part of all is spotting the polluters. In states that have adopted water quality standards, names and addresses of polluters are open to public inspection in appropriate state agencies.

For a list of suggested steps that private citizens can take under this law, write for a free copy of a three-page outline from the office of Congressman Harrington, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

In the long run, of course, taxpayers and consumers will be paying the bill for cleaning up pollution. But a few successful suits underthis ancient law might speed up the process.

Ross Valley Players Will Mark 40th Birthday Friday

Suspect Denies Bonds Swindles

Robert Sessions, 35, of Redwood City, pleaded innocent to grand theft yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Sessions, also known as James E. Waring, is charged with swindling two elderly Petaluma brothers of $20,000. Judge Alexander J. McMahon set a preliminary hearing for May 15 at 10 a.m.

Police accused Sessions of masquerading as a treasury agent and selling phony treasury bonds to William J. Guglielmetti, 92, of 907 C Street, and Robert P. Guglielmetti, 89, of 415 A Street.

RARE MUSICAL

'Mahagonny' Is Satire At Its Best

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The brilliant score that the late Kurt Weill wrote for "Mahagonny" finally was heard in a New York theater Tuesday night when this satirical opera, with libretto by Bertolt Brecht, was presented at the Anderson Theater.

The work had its German premiere 40 years ago. It had never been done here, yet it is more prestigious than their widely played and derivative "The Threepenny Opera."

Weill's music is interpreted in remarkable fashion by a 30-piece orchestra under the baton of Samuel Matlovsky, and the singing of the principal male roles by opera tenor Frank Porretta, Jack De Lon, Val Pringle, Bill Copeland, Alan Crofoot and Dan Crabtree is grand.

"THREEPENNY" PRODUCER

Carmen Capalbo, who sponsored the highly successful revival of "The Threepenny Opera" in the 1950's, has produced and directed "Mahagonny" in elaborate style.

The libretto, most of which is sung in the opera manner, is in Brecht's most extravagant vein of caricature. Written in the late 1920's, it pillories human frailties stemming largely from the drive for money, reflecting the hedonistic, warped moral attitude of a Germany seeking a way back from the debacle of World Wor I.

It all seems rather pertinent today, as it undoubtedly would have been 100 years ago or any time you choose.

FANTASTIC PLOT

The fantastic plot deals with the mushrooming of a city called Mahagonny, founded at some indefinite spot in the American South by a bordello madam and two male convicts, all fleeing the law.

The leading female roles are played well enough by top actresses Estelle Parsons and Barbara Harris. Their singing is adequate, but it seems a bit tame alongside the fine vocalizing by the males.

The lyrics, which actually are the libretto and not lyrics in the usual Broadway show sense, are, of course, by Brecht. There is bitter humor throughout and the accent is constantly on social ills and human foibles.

The music is the thing with "Mahagonny." The show should be seen by anyone who loves Musical theater.

What other critics said:

William Glover, Associated Press: ". . . at last and what a blooper. Miscast, misconceived and just plain miserable . . ."

James Davis, Daily News: ". . . There were too many dreary spots for this onlooker to overlook."

State Forester Eyes Logging Firm Actions

DRAMA REVIEW

'Little Malcolm' Is Frustrating Evening

By GARY TISCHLER

SAN FRANCISCO—To watch a performance of David Halliwell's "Little Malcolm and his Struggle Against the Eunuchs," which joined the American Conservatory Theater at the Marines' Memorial Theater last night, is to wind up just a shade frustrated.

There ought to be something to really sink one's teeth in, but one is never quite sure what, which is not so much the fault of the production and certainly not the actors as it is the play itself.

The play, which concerns the somewhat grotesque and grandiose revolutionary dreams of a British college failure named Malcolm and the three fantasy-prone cohorts he enlists in his wild scheme to kidnap a college official, skirts around and through several obviously "important' ' themes that cry for attention.

The very anti-Establishment, revolutionary nature of the plot hangs ominously in the air in this age of student discontent. And Malcolm's king-like fantasies offer a perfect and classic example of revolution's built-in poisons—paranoia, scapegoats, martyrs, suspicion and trial within the group, and finally a kind of shocking violence.

Yet the overriding picture that is left over is that of an unbearably inept Walter Mitty who dreams in nightmares in order to feel alive, a virginal (sexual and otherwise) quartet of bumbling misfits, children playing a mad, real gamethat is at once cruel and funny.

The humor of the play, and the virtuoso performances of the actors is what keeps the evening afloat. It IS funny, almost embarrassingly so, and Herbert Foster as Malcolm and Michael Cavanaugh, Martin Berman and Robert Ground as his followers make it that way.

Foster, already in two ACT plays this season, scores as a portrait of a failure in in-action, agonized by indecision and self-hate, when alone, and galvanized into a kind of dream-leader whenever he is in the company of his cohorts. Cavanaugh as the shy, introverted and basically realistic Irwin, is fine in portraying a character trying to get out of its skin while Berman is John, an energetic No. two man.

But the evening really belongs to and is almost stolen by Ground as Dennis Nipple, the pimply, skinny would-be-great-author forever describing turgid, flaming grand moments who winds up as the group's first victim. It is a beautiful piece of caricature that remains human and touches all of us—the picture of the obnoxious, clumsy boy in school, the gangly, whiny-voiced kid with glasses who is forever crying "Can I play too?" It's a beautiful piece of work by the youngest member of the acting company.

Mother And Son Trial Recessed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The murder trial of Elsie Nyhan and her son, Daniel, has been recessed until Thursday.

Superior Court Judge Robert H. Schnacke, presiding over the trial of the 72-year-old widow and her 43-year-old-son from Tiburon, had the trial put over Tuesday because of business out of town.

They are accused of beating to death a friend of Mrs. Nyhan, Genevieve Donal, 61, of San Francisco in October 1968.

Panel Overrides Objections To Use Permit For Office Building

Over the objections of San Rafael Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner that the action was highly illegal, improper and incinsistent with the wishes of the city council, the city planning commission last night approved a conditional use permit and architestural approval for the construction of an office and warehouse building at 517 Jacoby Street.

Dino Ghilotti, owner of the property, had applied for the permit and architectural approval for two buildings, the second to the rear of the property and facing on a proposed street.

Hotchner's staff recommended that the commission approve both buildings on the condition that Ghilotti dedicate a strip of land, up to 30 feet, at the rear of the property for the proposed street.

Ghilotti said last night that he was asking only for approval for the building on the front of the property along Jacoby Street, and therefore the commission should not add the condition concerning the 30 feet at the rear of the property.

After an explanation by Hotchner that the planning staff felt the right-of-way should be obtained now so that future street development in the area will be able to preceed more smoothly, Commissioner Jorgen V. Lunding moved that the one building be approved and the rear of the property "frozen."

Hotchner said he would consult with the city attorney, and if it is found that the commission's action jeopardizes the city council's program for development of the area, he will appeal the commission's action before the council.

If such an appeal is made, he suggested that the commission send a representative to the council to present the commission's viewpoint, as he will speak in opposition to the action.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

SUBDIVISION — Granted a four-lot subdivision of property owned by Harry Diner in the Gracie Tract on the northeast side of Irwin Street after adding to the conditions of the approval that a soil engineer's report be obtained before a building permit is granted and a concrete-lined drainage ditch be constructed behind the entire piece of property if an easement can be obtained to run drainage pipes down to Hill View Avenue.

STREETS — Granted a three-lot subdivision of property owned by Lee R. Ceccotti at 2031 Francisco Boulevard with one of the conditions being that three strips of the property be deeicated for future street developmnt, with a city decision on such development to be made within two years. made within two years.

SUBDIVISION — Granted a two-lot subdivision of property owned by Margaret Chapman and Albert and Mary Sarhad between Greenfield and Terrace avenues, between 161 and 151 Greenfild. The largr of th two lots was sold about eight years ago without subdivision action by the city.

ZONING — Recommended to the city council that one of two adjoining lots on Oak Drive be rezoned single family residential and the other be left unclassified. The commission Feb. 24 recommended that both parcels be classified residential, but the council disagreed and sent the matter back to the commission.

WAREHOUSE — Held over until May 12 at 7:30 p.m. a request for a use permit and architectural approval for construction of a warehouse and office complex on property owned by Holiday Magic at 529 Jacoby Street.

PERMITS — Granted a use permit for a commercial parking lot on property owned by Stephen Duff at 840 Thrid Street; for a day care center for persons using and considering using drugs at 805 D Street operated by Rex Hutchinson and Raymond Menjour; for a family care facility for five mentally retarded children at 593 Montecillo Road owned and operated by Henderike Slager; for a new illuminated sign at the Lincoln Market, 1492 Lincoln Avenue; and for a directional sign, to a new subdivision, located on San Pedro Road south of Knight Drive. The sign is owned by the city.

ARCHITECTURE — Granted architectural approval for an addition covering a portion of the driveway of Tijuana Taco at 151 Bellam Boulevard; for remodeling of a Standard Oil of California service station at 949 Del Presidio Boulevard; for reconstruction and site improvements to the Standard Oil station at 475 Third Street on the condition that Second Street be widened at the cost of the applicants; for construction of an outside patio at Margarita Plaza, 4380 Redwood Highway; for replacement of a sign at 1444 Fourth Street; and for warehouses with offices at 45 Mark Drive, owned by Marin Title Guaranty Co., and at 12 Mark Drive, owned by Al Villa Builders.

Underwear Torch A Costly Idea

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —It doesn't pay to set your underwear afire in a national forest in New Mexico.

The U.S. Forest Service said it had billed Troy Wayne Klaus, 19, of Albuquerque for $51.22. This was the cost to the Forest Service for putting out a fire started by burning underwear.

A Forest Service ranger said Klaus and three friends used their underwear on sticks as torches to light their way along a trail. Bits of the burning cloth ignited patches of grass and pine needles.

Perhaps The Thief Is Competitor?

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The owner of an Albuquerque gasoline station recently reported to police the theft of 2,400 gallons of gasoline.

Pete J. Chavez told police, "I thought the one pump had broken on me so I called for repair. Then the other pump quit so I checked the tank."

He found the tank empty. "Whoever took the gas," he said, "would have had to have a tanker truck with a pump." He valued the missing gasoline at about $800.

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District Engineering Study Set

An engineering study to provid cost estimates for complete upgrading of the district's plant, wa ter teratment system and collection system has been authorzed by directors of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District.

President Cyril G. Hansen said the board voted Monday night to hire Ben C. Albritton of the San Rafael engineerin& firm and John Jenks and Adamson, Palo Alto engineers, to make the survey.

The directors also agreed to send letters to the City of Sausalito, Tamalpais Community Services District and Richardson Bay Sanitary District, asking them to make repairs in their systems to eliminate seepage of storm water into the district's system. The Sausalito-Marin City District treats sewage from all three areas, Hansen said.

In other action, directors approved Hansen to serve on an advisory committee to the Marin Municipal Water District. Director George F. Carney was appointed alternate representative to the committee which will study a plan for joint treatment facilities for all sanitary districts in the Richardson Bay basin, according to Hansen.

Industrialist Sees Turmoil Over Ecology

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—For 15 years the nation "has slept on the problem of environmental pollution, and now suddenly it has become the dominant theme of the day," says Chattanooga Gas Co. President Jacob Greenberg.

He also complains that students "now are going to run off half-cocked without careful planning or expert knowledge, and miracles are to be accomplished with political and student oratory, disorder and fun."

Novato Police Sgt. Donald Dupar yesterday loaded his trunk with hundreds of copies of a 38-page "Guide for Youth and Parents" which will be given to Marin County school children May 20 to take home. Dupar, and police throughout Marin, picked up the booklets at the Holiday Magic warehouse in San Rafael. The firm paid for production of the guide, which was prepared by Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin, including sheriff's and police departments, probation department, county and district school personnel. Police took the booklets to schools for distribution.

Roth Rules Pot Warrant Invalid

A search warrant which allowed officers to raid the home of a Santa Venetia man accused of furnishing marijuana to neighborhood youngsters yesterday was ruled invalid by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court.

Marijuana and LSD seized in the residence of David Malcolm Estep, 30, was ruled out of the case after the judge said that the 13-year-old youth who said that Estep had the drugs did not qualify legally as a "reliable informant."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon Smith said that his office has not yet decided whether to proceed to press charges of furnishing pot to minors against Estep in light of yesterday's decision.

The case has been continued to May 7 for furthur preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Estep was arrested March 11 after a 13-year-old girl was hospitalized from a bad trip caused by LSD reportedly stolen from his home. The 13-year-old boy said that he had swiped the drug after being shown it by Estep, who, the boy said, had given him puffs from marijuana cigarettes in the past.

Another youngster present at Estep's home when officers arrived with the search warrant told a similiar story, according to the officers.

Flames Kill Kin Of Supervisor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fire killed a top San Francisco official's two daughters and housekeeper early today as he tried to rescue them from his burning home.

Then Ronald Pelosi, a member of the Board of Supervisors, fell from a ladder and was hospitalized with a broken leg.

Two sons, Brennan, 8, and Matt, 11, jumped from the second floor to safety in a neighbor's arms.

Dead are Gwen Yeng, 35, and Cynthia Pelosi, 13, on the third floor, and Caroline, 1, who was on the second floor.

Firemen estimated damage to the three-story shingle home and two adjoining it at $150,000. The cause was under investigation.

Billing Error Is Windfall For District

Discovery of a billing error has spared the Almonte Sanitary District a painful $1,400 bookkeeping entry, according to Secretary John J. Crncich.

The district at its last meeting voted to ask the City of Mill Valley, which treats Almonte's sewage, for itemization of a bill which directors thought was too high.

Mill Valley's reply, read at a board meeting Monday night, disclosed that the district had been overcharged by some $1,400, Crncich said.

The Almonte Sanitary District board also:

TO WATER PANEL — Appointed Edmund J. Prosch, board chairman, as representative to the Marin Municipal Water District's advisory committee on sewer district consolidation.

ASSESSMENT — Agreed to set next year's assessment rate at the next meeting, May 25 at 8 p.m. at the district offices, 223 Shoreline Highway.

CONSTRUCTION — Agreed to ask Mill Valley to advise the district about proposed sewer line construction that would affect the district and also to defer any construction until the consolidation advisory committee makes its report in about three months.

Marinites Indicted In Big Marijuana Haul

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two Marin men have been indicted by the San Francisco Grand Jury on charges of possessing marijuana for sale and conspiring to sell marijuana.

The men, Henri P. Baylacq, 26, of 14 Hillside Drive, Mill Valley and Lee D. Malcolm, 26, of 1 Lincoln Road, Sausalito, were ordered to surrender themselves Friday at the San Francisco Hall of Justice. They will be arraigned on the charges next week in San Francisco Superior Court.

The pair, along with a San Francisco man, were arrested April 15 on a San Francisco street when they attempted to sell 203 kilos, about 400 pounds, of marijuana to an undercover agent. The retail value was put at $500,000.

The marijuana recovered at the arrest is the largest haul ever seized in San Francisco, Inspector Charles J. Wettstein said yesterday.

The men, if convicted, could receive a sentence of from one to five years in state prison, Wettstein said.

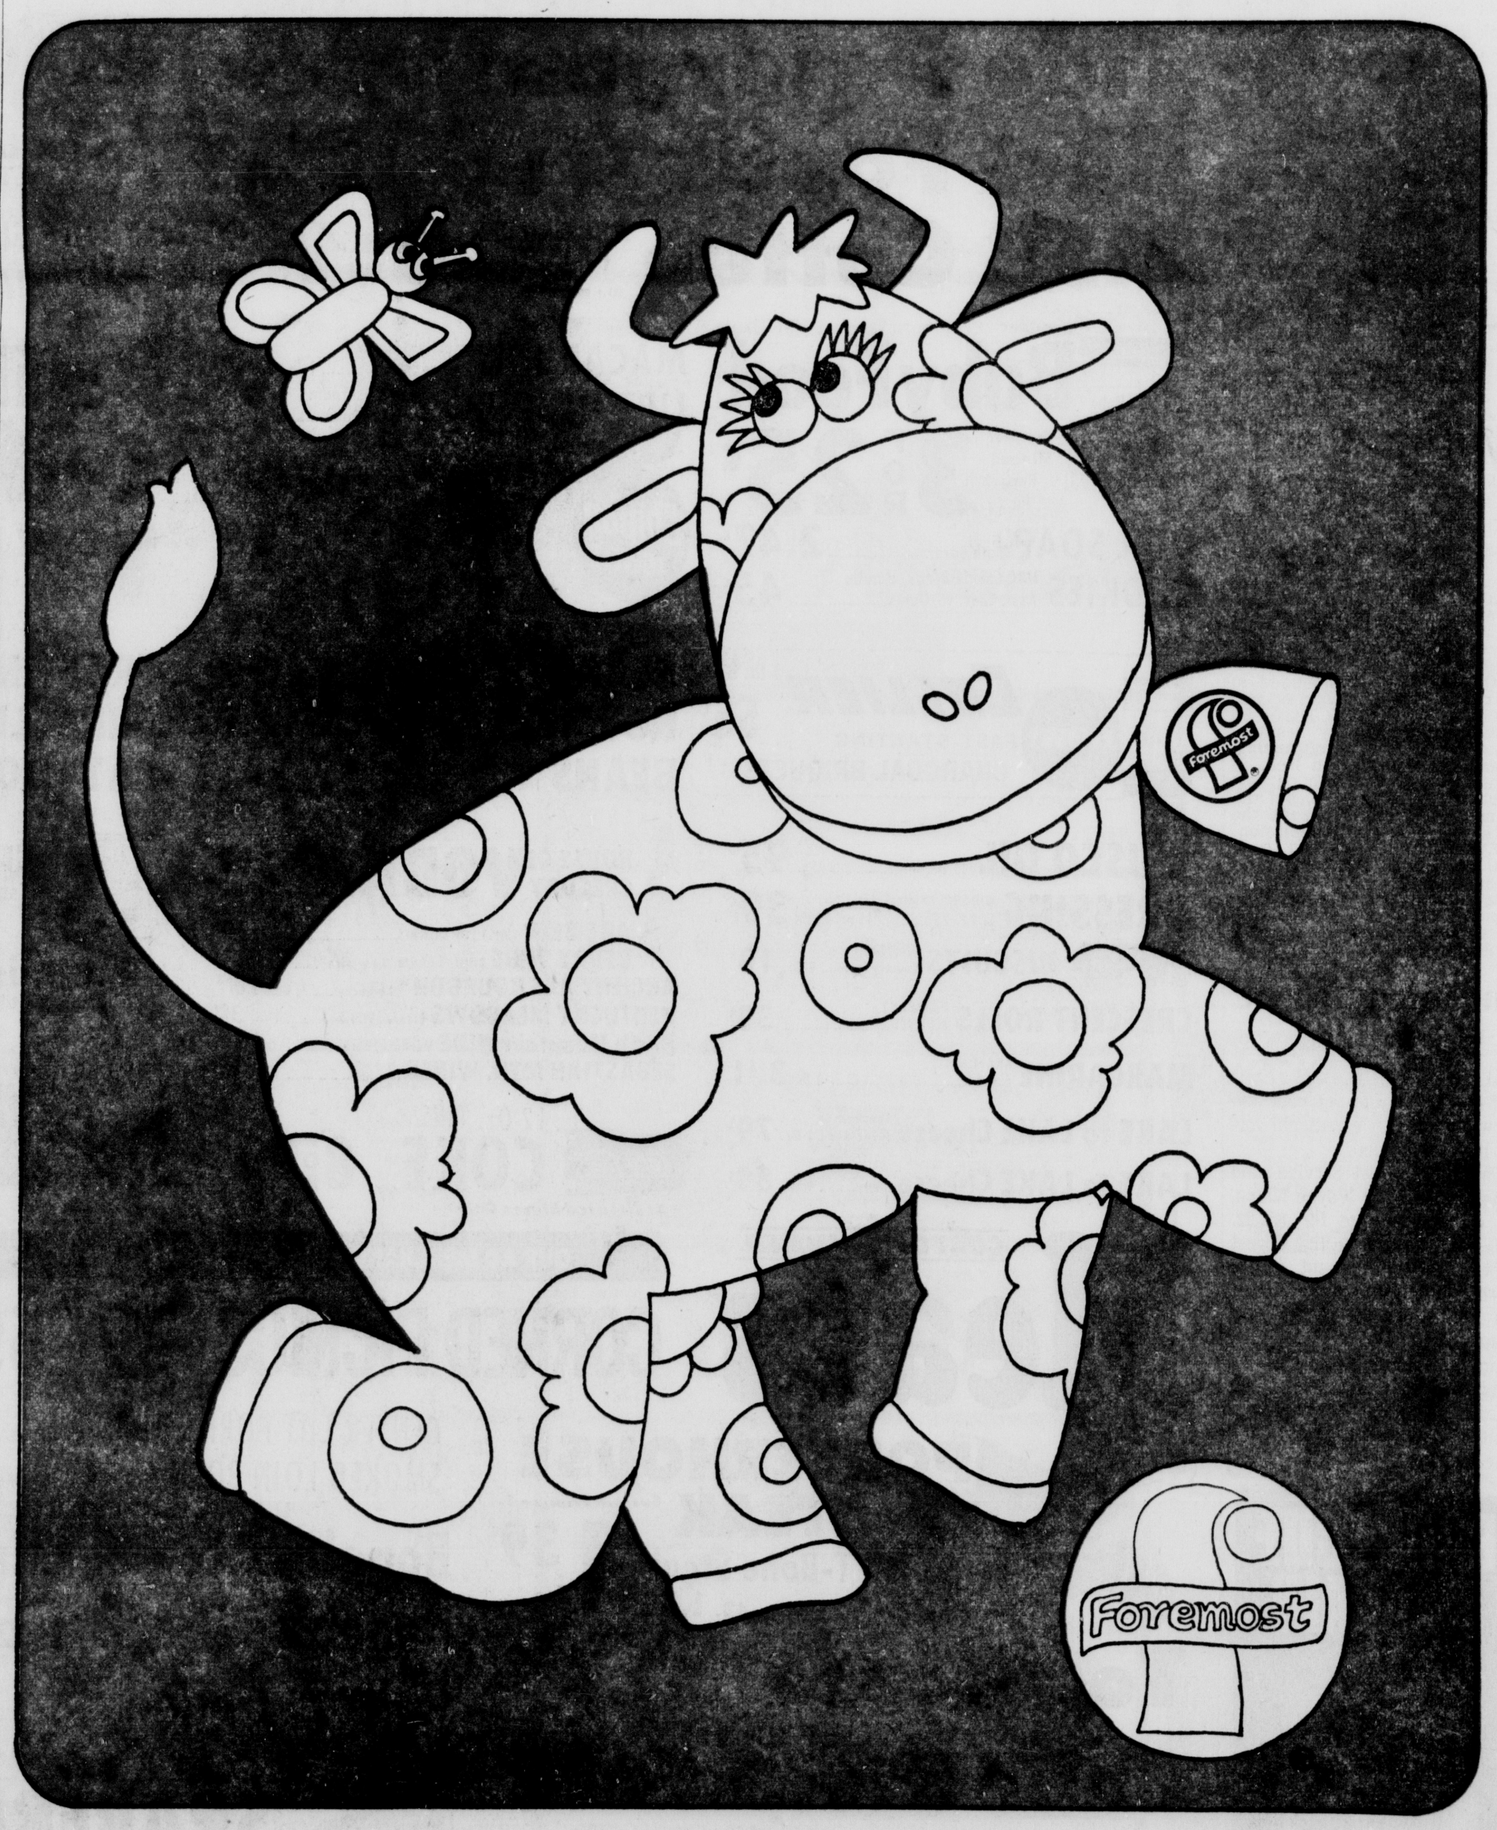
Grab-a-box-of-crayons and-win-a-cow-contest



A while back, we ran another contest and successfully gave away a few thousand cowbells. We said, "Who knows? Maybe next time we'll give away a few thousand cows." Well, we're going to keep our word.

Yes, contest-lovers, we're going to give away a whole herd: 3,003 colorful Foremost cows! Each one is inflatable, stands 3 feet high, and is made out of tough, durable vinyl. (She may not give much milk, but then you won't have to get up at four-in-the-morning to milk her, either!)

To win, here's what you have to do: (1) Color this cow, with crayons, or with whatever's handy. (2) Pick up an official entry blank, which carries detailed contest rules, from your favorite store that sells Foremost dairy products – the freshest dairy products you can buy. (3) Send your artistic effort and properly completed official entry blank (or facsimile) to us.

An independent judging organization will select winners for each area on the basis of originality. Neatness counts. No purchase required. And, you'll find more cows to color wherever you find official entry blanks, as well as on our milk cartons. Remember, we have 3,003 cows to give away, so we need 3,003 winners!

Will this madness never end? Who knows?

GOP Panel Won't Take Resignation

The Marin County Republican Central Committee declined last night to accept the resignation of David Winslow of Tiburon, who had sought to quit because of his open support of Fairfield Mayor Don Pinkerton for state Senate.

Rodgers C. Broomhead, committee chairman, said members of the group said they, too, were working for various candidates and that this was no reason to resign.

Winslow said in a recent letter to Broomhead that he felt his "active and open" support of Pinkerton, who is seeking to replace the retiring John F. McCarthy, San Rafael Republican, would affect his "neutrality" as a committee member.

Also last night, the committee heard from four Republicans seeking the Third District seat on the state Board of Equalization — Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo, Sesto F. Lucchi of San Rafael, John M. Mayfield Jr. of Ukiah and George R. O'Connor of Red Bluff.

The committee endorsed Proposition 1 on the June 2 ballot that would enable a $246.3 million bond issue to provide additional medical school facilities on the campuses of the University of California and heard that a cocktail party is scheduled at Sabella's May 21 for Wendell Handy, secretary of the Compton Board of Education, who is running for secretary of state.

Injured Bicyclist In Good Condition

Annette F. Lavoie, 26, of San Francisco, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a skull fracture received Sunday when her bicycle was struck by a car on South Street in Sausalito.

Police said Miss Lavoi was hit from behind by an auto driven by Toril Orre, 29, of San Francisco. The accident occurred at 2:15 p.m., just south of Alexander Avenue.

New Librarian For Mill Valley

Alberta L. Hankerson, 37, head of the Castro Valley branch of the Alameda County library, has been named head of the Mill Valley Public Library.

Miss Hankerson, a resident of Berkeley, was chosen from a field of 20 applicants. She will succeed Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, retiring after 20 years.

Miss Hankerson will assume the post May 18. Her starting salary will be $11,800 a year.

Miss Hankerson, a native of San Francisco, received her bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of California at Berkeley. She is a member of the Bay Area Reference Librarians and the California Library Association's Intellectual Freedom Committee.

Youth Panel Votes Rules On Vacancies

Marin County Youth Commission members last night approved a set of by-laws, including procedures on how to select nominees for youth vacancies that develop on the 11-member panel.

Seven of the members are youths under 21, and the turnover rate is expected to be high because many of them will be going to college.

The commissioners met at the Civic Center and decided that when a youth member resigns, he will submit nominations from his district. Other nominees will be solicited from schools and the youth commission of his district. The county youth commission will then interview the applicants and recommend three candidates for each vacancy. The Marin County Board of Supervisors will make the appointment.

The commissioners also approved an application from Switchboard of Marin for $1,000 in matching funds from the county. Switchboard of Marin, with headquarters at 1017 D Street in San Rafael, operates a telephone service to keep in touch with youths who have problems to discuss or ideas to offer.

Thoughts Of Tax Hike Vote Dropped

With 70 per cent of the residents reportedly opposed to a tax rate increase, the Cotati School District board last night dismissed thoughts of an election.

Members of a citizens advisory committee said an extensive survey showed most residents of Rohnert Park and Cotati would not approve an increase.

Dist. Business Mgr. James Davidson had recommended that a 90-cent increase be put to the voters to raise the tax rate limit from $1.65 to $2.50 per $100 assessed valuation. He said reduced state and federal assistance and higher operationg costs would make the increase necessary.

The citizens committee reported that only residents of the west section of Rohnert Park were favorable to a tax increase while residents of the astern section and Cotati were strongly opposed.

The Cotati School District Board Also:

LOTTERY — Received requests for a hearing from Marjorie Bascherini and Pat Hebert, teachers whose names were drawn in a lottery because of diminishing enrollment. Thomas Hitchcock, deputy county counsel, told the board the lottery procedure was correct and that a hearing need not be given. Supt. Duncan A. Coleman said a resignation was expected to save Miss Hebert's position and that only Miss Bascherini's job was still in question.

CLASSES — Scheduled a meeting for district parents May 14 at 8 p.h. at Cotati School to discuss class locations and busing needed for the next school year.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of speech therapist Norma Charpentier who is moving.

ANNEXATION — Scheduled a public hearing May 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the district office on plans to annex the entire City of Rohnert Park into the district.

PSYCHOLOGIST — Employed Adam Wolf as school psychologist at an annual salary of $13,008.

ADDITION — Scheduled a meeting of the building committee at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to review plans for an addition to the Waldo Rohnert School.

100TH BIRTHDAY TUESDAY

Remembers Voting Before Turning 21

Edmond W. Tulloch of Corte Madera has been old enough to vote for almost 79 years, but he cast his first ballot 80 years ago.

Tulloch, who will be 100 years old on Tuesday, first voted in 1890 in Morris, Wis. "I and my brother Alexander voted because the man we were working for was running for sheriff," he explained yesterday.

Although he was 20 and his brother only 18, they voted because the owner of the sawmill they were working in ordered all his employees to vote. They didn't complain and since the sawmill's 20 to 25 employees made up almost the whole population of town, no one else did either. People did what the boss said, or they didn't stay in Morris, according to Tulloch.

Tulloch and his brother left the mill and parted ways in 1893, but he has never missed an election since. He said hte first voted in a national election either in 1892 for the loser, Benjamin Harrfison, or in 1896 for the winning William McKinley.

Since then he has voted straight Republican — most recently by absentee vallot for Barry Goldwater and Richard M. Nixon.

Tulloch and his wife, Nettie, seldom leave ther pleasant suburban home at 79 Mohawk Avenue in Corte Madera. They moved there from Minneapolis, Minn., six years ago because "we're at the stage where we have to be near someone," Mrs. Tulloch said.

Their son, Edwin W. Tulloch Jr., 60, an Internal Revenue Service employee, lives three blocks away at 3 Mohave Court. However, they manage with a minimum of help.

A boy comes weekly to mow the lawn and a girl to do the heavy house cleaning, but Tulloch and his wife, who is 94, keep the large house and yard immaculate. Tulloch, who is still very lively, often weeds the garden and waters the yard, but his activities are restricted otherwise.

"You can't have hobbies at that age," his wife said. His hearing is bad and his eyes are failing, but he says his health is "the very best." He has only been to a doctor once this year for a routine cherk-up.

Tulloch, though unable to read, follows current affairs through television and radio.

Tulloch was born on a farm in Napanee, Canada, 100 miles east of Toronto. His parents owned 150 acres of wheat, barley and oats that his grandfater had homesteaded. The farm is still in the family, he said.

He went to a one-room school until he was 15, then went to work for neighboring farmers for $10 a month. When he left Canada for Wisconsin at the age of 19, he was earing $150 a year.

He and his brother drifted to Saginaw, Mich., in the fall of 1889 and arrived in Ashland, Wis., in the spring of 1890 to take a job riding logs through a string of thawing lakes and rivers to the sawmill in Morris.

In 1895 he returned to Ashland and became a traveling salesman for Swift and Co. Tulloch held the job for 25 years while moving to Decorah, Iowa, in 7905, and Minneapolis in 1918.

He and his wife were married in Decorah in 1906.

Tulloch said he had a rougher time than today's salesman. There were no roads or cars in Iowa when he left in 1918, he said. He traveled the state on whatever train would stop for him and even on stage coaches that groaned hub-deep through spring and fall mud.

"I rode everything that went over the road and that would top for me," he said. He normally left home Monday morning and returned on Friday night.

Tulloch ended his exhausting travels through Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Texas and Oklahoma for Swift in Minneapolis in 1920, but 50 was too young to retire. He was in the real estate business until 1935 and the coal business until 1947. He finally retired at 77.

Tulloch doesn't have anything left that he wants to do in his old age. "I might want to do something, but I couldn't do it anyway," he said.

"Take me to your leader."

Smaller Mower Sought For City

he Mill Valley Parks and Recreation commission has asked the city council to approve purchase of a 30-inch lawnmower for use on the grassy median of Miller Avenue, according to Recreation Director Don L. Dimitratos.

The commission took the action at its Monday night meeting because the city's 72-inch mower is too large for the narrow area, Dimitratos said. The smaller machine would cost $900.

The commission also heard a proposal fro Dimitratos that the area behind the city's corporation yard be turned into a golf driving range to provide the city with revenue.

PROTEST HALTS STOCK MEETING

Demonstrators mill outside a shattered glass door at the site of an attempted meeting of stockholders of Honeywell, Inc., in Minneapolis, Minn. Protesters, who had bought stock and obtained proxies, yesterday stormed the annual session to object to the firm's production of war materials. A company guard tossed a Mace cannister; the meeting was adjourned after 14 minutes. Similar outbreaks at the Gulf Oil Co. meeting in Pittsburgh, Pa., led to arrests and ejections.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Self-Inflicted Cancer Is Rife, But We Keep On Using Tobacco

A recent Gallup poll found that 71 per cent of adults believe that cigaret smoking causes lung cancer. Ten years ago only 44 per cent held this belief.

The American Cancer society has found that it takes a long time to convince some people that lung cancer is a self-inflicted disease. In their opinion, the casual relationship between cigarets and lung cancer was proved beyond reasonable doubt 15 years ago. Recently scientists were able to induce lung cancer in dogs via cigaret smoking.

YET EACH YEAR more and more people die of lung cancer. For example, in 1930, 2,357 deaths in the United States were reported as due to lung cancer; in 1940, 7,121; in 1950, 18,313, and in 1960, 36,340. The projected estimate for 1969 was 59,200 (49,400 men and 9,800 women). Unless something is done, 125,000 will succumb to lung cancer in the year 2000.

And this does not include cancers of the mouth, throat, larynx, esophagus, and stomach that may be related to smoking.

WHAT ABOUT the harmful effects of inhaling occupational dusts? It is well-known that death rates from lung cancer are high among uranium miners. Additional studies show that the disease is rare among uranium miners who do not smoke cigarets. The public health service reported that of 101 cases of lung cancer among uranium miners, 100 were cigaret smokers.

A somewhat similar situation exists among asbestos workers. The smokers in this occupation have 13 times the risk of developing lung cancer as those who do not smoke. It is believed that the increased risk in this group as well as in uranium miners is due to the combined effects of cigaret smoke and uranium and asbestos dusts.

THE SAME APPLIES to the air pollution in our cities. Lung cancer is more common among city dwellers than country folks. But in both the country and the city, the risk of getting a malignancy is greatest among the smokers. There is a good possibility that air pollutants contribute, but in the final analysis, smoking in itself is concentrated air pollution.

SENSITIVE TO PROCAINE

E.S. writes: I have had two reactions to shots of procaine for dental work. Does this mean that I am sensitive and should not be given any again? What happens when I need further dental work done? Is there a test for procaine sensitivity?

REPLY

I assume that you are sensitive to procaine but tests are available to prove or disprove this possibility. Hereafter, you may have to "take" the pain unless the dentist is able to use a different anesthetic.

ALL-INCLUSIVE ALLERGY

F.T. writes: If an individual is allergic to sulfa, antibiotics, and aspirin, what can he take when he develops an infection?

REPLY

Use common sense and do what people did before these drugs were discovered: call your physician and go to bed. In serious infections, an antibiotic may prove lifesaving even though the person has a mild reaction to it. The allergy aspect often can be nullified with adrenalin, an antihistamine, or a steriod.

SPECIAL TECHNIC

M.S. writes: Can an ordinary chest X-ray detect cancer of the breast?

REPLY

Occasionally, a tumor will cast a shadow on the film, but this is not usual. On the other hand, a special technic (mammography) has proved to be most successful. In this procedure, only the breast tissue is X-rayed.

Reagan Tax Bill Gets To Floor; One Change

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan's $1 billion tax reform package reached the Assembly floor today after surviving two Democratic attempts to impose major changes.

But a surprise bipartisan move in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee Tuesday succeeded in weakening an oil depletion clause.

The tax package author, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the controversial measure could go to a crucial floor vote as early as Monday. Though Bagley voiced optimism for continued "bipartisan" support, indications during the hearing suggested substantial opposition still exists to the program.

On strict partisan votes the committee rejected Democratic trys at diverting $270 million from tax relief proposals into new school support funds and to alter Reagan's formula for giving homeowners a tax break.

Three Democrats joined with nine Republicans to approve Reagan's reforms, with two Republicans and two Democrats opposed.

Bagley said floor prospects are "good" on the Assembly side, though he said he had not made a head count. He said he hoped to make the bill a special order of business Monday to send it to the Senate.

A surprise amendment which drew bipartisan support was Assemblyman Carley V. Porter's move to weaken the oil depletion feature of Reagan's tax revision.

George N. Zenovich, the Democratic caucus chairman in the Assembly, was one of four Democrats voting in favor of enlarging the oil depletion to 22 per cent from the 14 per cent Bagley's bill proposed.

Bagley said the change means the loss of about $9 million in revenue which would have to be made up elsewhere, probably by a slight increase in bank and corporation taxes.

The final vote for passage of the controversial measure was 12-4. Two of the opponents were Republicans.

Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, R-Los, Angeles, voted against the package because it contained withholding, which he termed "sinister" and "evil." Assemblyman Peter Schabarum R-Covina, also opposed the bill, without stating why at the hearing.

Bagley said he hoped the Democrats "do not take a caucus position against tax reform." He said he was willing to give them "all the credit I can" for passage of a "bipartisan" program.

Bagley speculated also the prospect was "bleak" for any change in the oil depletion formula, specifically citing Zenovich's vote for the pro-industry tax break.

71 Townhouse Units Win Council's Nod

The Novato City Council last night approved construction of 71 units of a proposed 442-unit townhouse development on Scottsdale Boulevard west of Highway 101.

The go-ahead was given to Western Hosts Inc. of San Francisco, provided that 21 revisions in plannings are made.

The proposal won unanimous approval even though new councilmen George Quesada and F. Wayne Sartain voted against it when they were on the planning commission.

Quesada explained that the price tag of about $20,000 per dwelling removed his reservations. He noted a need for low-cost family housing in Novato.

The townhouses will be grouped around courts with provisions for open space, Mattson said.

The planning commission approved ahe plan April 6 with the 21 conditions after discussing it for three meetings.

Brown Rally Finds Civic Center Home

The Marin committee to elect George Brown to the U.S. Senate yesterday was given approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to use the civic center park area for a political rally May 23.

The committee had claimed earlier that it had been "repeatedly frustrated" in its attempt to obtain a site for the rally, saying that it had been unable to obtain use of Mount Tamalpais, parks in San Rafael, Mill Valley and Corte Madera, or a county park.

The commiteee, however, did not report that Mount Tamalpais and Albert Field in San Rafael both had been reserved prior to its request, that the county parks and recreation department suggested the Civic Center, that its application for Corte Madera's park had not been acted on yet, and that it was told that any money raised in Mill Valley would have to be given to the city but that it could appeal the rule to the city council.

Larkspur Carnival Permit Advances

The Larkspur Planning Commission conditionally recommended approval last night of a carnival to be held May 27-31 in the Disco Store parking lot at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

The matter now goes to the city council.

In other business, the commission approved a zoning change from residential to commercial for Charles McLeran at Estrelle Avenue and Murray Lane, endorsed the design of a warehouse planned by the Romac-Pacific Co. at 30 Rich Street and allowed a lot split for the Schultz Investment Co. on Sir Frnacis Drake Boulevard near El Portal Drive.

Dog Bites Youngster; Mother Seeks Owner

Kimberly A. Muny, 9, of 17 Wolfe Avenue was treated by her physician Saturday after being bitten behind the knee by a collarless Scottish terrier at 5 p.m. on the 100 block of D Street, San Rafael police reported today.

The child's mother, Mrs. Penny Muny, is trying to locate the owner of the medium sized white dog to determine if the animal has had its rabies shots, police said. The owner may call either Mrs. Muny or police.

Smoking Troubles

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — More than 1,800 fires were started in Louisville last year by burning cigarettes, matches, lighters or other equipment for smokers, according to Maj. Mele Brown, city fire marshal.

Apartments Plan Gains In Cotati

The Cotati Planning Commission last night approved the design for a four-unit apartment house, but requested an overall plan before granting the lot split needed.

The commission said that August Lovmark should submit plans for his property at 128 to 190 Valparaiso Avenue before his four-acre parcel can be divided into four lots.

The apartment house design on one lot won approval, but the commission asked for detailed plans for off-street parking as part of the lot split details.

The Cotati Planning Commission also:

MARKET — Approved the design of the Pam Market, 7646 Redwood Highway, and asked for details on landscaping, signs and lighting.

Firemen's Bargaining Plea Tabled

The Marin Community Services District board last night tabled until its next meeting a request from district firemen that it recognize an employees association as bargaining agent for the firefighters.

According to Genevieve T. Bolding, district secretary, the board referred the firemen to the salary and fringe benefit committee for next year's budget planning.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Stockholders Of Company Vote Firm's Name Change

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Shareholders of Parvin-Dohrmann Co. voted Tuesday to change the company's name to Recrion Corp. and also learned a new lawsuit had been filed against their already litigation-plagued company.

At their annual meeting, the stockholders of the company which owns three Las Vegas, Nev., casinos learned for the first time a suit had been filed Friday in New York against the firm and the current management.

The action, filed on behalf of Philip J. Levin, a New York investor and businessman, also charged the shareholders meeting itself was illegal and asked that any results of the session be set aside. Levin, along with his wife, acquired 126,000 shares of Parvin-Dohrmann stock in February, according to the suit.

The action, another in a series of litigations against the company, listed a second plaintiff, Robert Evans, who was described as a shareholder of undisclosed duration and magnitude.

The firm had been in trouble at various times with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the American Stock Exchange and Nevada gaming authorities.

The Levin-Evans lawsuit alleged Levin and others who bought their stock after the American Exchange lifted its ban on trading of the issues Feb. 16 were excluded from voting at the meeting. Feb. 27 was selected as the cutoff date at which shareholders must have owned their stock to be able to vote.

The shareholders reelected three of the present four directors. William B. Hamilton, John A. Prosser and George A. Fry, all of Chicago, were renamed while Lester B. Knight lost his reelection bid to Kenneth J. Sullivan, executive vice president of Valley Bank of Nevada.

TV REVIEW

First Class Scheduling Is Needed

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If pro basketball is to be the big sport of the 1970's as many predict, then it is about time it made its television arrangements first class.

As of the moment, the National Basketball Association is in the midst of its world series, but it sometimes seems hard to realize it because of the spotty, inconsistent arrangements to televise the various games.

The archaic sport of baseball may be taking it on the chin from the new generation, which is moving more to football and basketball. But whatever one feels about baseball, there is no question it goes first class on television, and wouldn't put up with some of the conditions basketball is suffering.

THE SHORT END

When baseball has its World Series, everyone knows it, and everyone sees it who wants to, and it has precisely the time it desires on the home screen. But because of contracual tangles that need undoing, the New York Knickerbockers-Los Angeles Lakers basketball finals are getting the short end.

As an example, ABC-TV, which carries the NBA games throughout the season, will broadcast the fourth contest this Friday night, and the sixth encounter, if there is one, next Wednesday. But thus far the network has made no announcements about carying the fifth game next Monday.

This undoubtedly means, as matters currently stand, that viewers around the nation who want to see the fifth game and the others not on the network simply have to hope that the off-network arrangements to telecast it are picked up by local stations. Tonight's third game, for instance, is not being broadcast by ABC-TV, but by Sports Network, Inc., which means it's syndicated.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Furthermore, there are such problems as television blackouts where games are played—despite sellout crowds. And here in Los Angeles, when we get a telecast of a contest from New York, it is on a one-hour tape delay because the later showing is considered more convenient for most viewers.

When baseball has its World Series, it gets straight, full-scale network coverage on all action, has absolutely no blackouts and is presented coast-to-coast precisely as, and when, it happens.

One of the NBA problems is the strain between those trying to get the upper hand in televising the games — for example, ABC-TV and some teams that have profitable video arrangements with local stations. But these are things that the hierarchy of pro basketball should realize are harming the sport's ascendancy, and need quick cleaning up to take full advantage of the enthusiasm for this great game — the most perfectly suited for television.

OAKLAND (AP) — The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has been asked to adopt a $32.5 million tax increase for its 1970-71 budget.

County administrator Earl Strathman told the supervisors in presenting the $234.5 million budget Tuesday that the increase would mean a 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation hike, bringing the basic county rate to $2.75 per $100.

The county's current budget is $202 million.

Hope Springs Eternal For Faithful Fans

Hope springs eternal in the human breast:
Man never is, but alwasy to be, blest.
Or, how about this one:
Hope is the thing with feathers
That perches in the soul
And sings the tune without the words
And never stops at all.

I forget where I first read those familiar ditties but I came across them again the other day, between the lines in the preliminary prospectus of the San Francisco 49ers, a booklet titled, "If. ." and subtitled, "Never go gloomily, man with a mind! Hope is a better companion than fear."

A 49er football filbert is optimism personified and 1970 is no exception. The team's prospectus explains the optimism comes naturally this year ". . .because San Francisco continues to operate one of the game's most exciting offenses, and Coach Dick Nolan, through trade and draft, has made positive moves toward repairing last year's breakdowns."

The breakdowns, as everyone knows, came in two areas—defense and the special units. The fans also had breakdowns. Nervous.

Depth Is Greatest Problem

Says Nolan: "Achieving depth (on defense) is our greatest problem. Las year injuries gave us as much trouble as they did simply because we were not deep enough. In fact, only great effort by the ones who stayed healthy enabled us to come out as well as we did. If we can get all of the injured back, and our draft is as productive as we feel it will be, we can be a tough defensive team. I think we will be."

About the special teams' predicaments, Nolan explains: "This area of play was a real disappointment last year. It won't be this year."

"We have Jon Kilgore and Steve Spurrier and some rookies (John Isenbarger and Mike Culton) who can punt."

"Bruce Gossett is a proven outstanding place kicker, and we have some potentially good rookie return men such as Bruce Taylor and Scott Perkins, plus Noland Smith."

Gossett appears to be the key man in the 49er hope chest as he becomes the first dependable and most productive toe the team has had in many seasons. Getting him from Los Angeles in the trade that sent controversial, hot and cold cornerback Kermit Alexander south looks like the best deal the Niners have ever made. Gossett, says the prospectus, "will provide a desperately needed addition to an otherwise versatile and effective offense.."

Quarterback Position Sound

About that offense, Nolan, starting his third season as head coach, notes: "We expect John Brodie's arm to be 100 per cent throughout the season and we were pleased with the development of Steve Spurrier last year. Our quarterback position will be sound."

Nolan added that last year's 49er attack gained 4,694 yards in total offense, second in the NFL, and even though a sore-armed Brodie missed four and one-half games, the Niner passing game of 3,339 gross yards was the best in its league with fine receivers in rookie Gene Washington, vets Dick Witcher and Bob Windsor all enjoying fine seasons.

Indeed, Brodie's arm is even more golden that Gossett's toe. Last fall John-John came off the injured list with a flourish. In his final six games the ex-Stanford ace completed 61.5 per cent of his passes, 101 for 164 and 1,349 yards, 11 TDs and only 5 interceptions.

Brodie since has undergone further treatment and training program for his problematic shoulder tendons and should be healthy for Seventy.

Young Line Performs Well

Also, the young offensive line performed well, Nolan said, mentioning Elmer Collett and Woody Peoples at guards, Len Rohde and Cas Banaszek at tackles and Forrest Blue at center.

Nolan added, "We must develop some depth in the line and the progress of Randy Beisler and switch of Kevin Hardy from defense may do that for us."

All in all, the 49er Prospectus is full of goodies to encourage the team's diehards who are approaching their 25th season with an 0-24 record on the championship ledger.

Rookies like Nos. 1 and 2 draftees Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor and such established vets as Charlie Krueger, Dave Wilcox, Ken Willard, Roland Lakes etc. all are mentioned prominently in this best seller of 1970.

It's too bad this booklet isn't for general distribution because it is just the tonic needed by the long-suffering 49er filberts. Why, I just read the first paragraph and was moved to enthusiastic hand springs.

It says: "If it gets together and stays together, San Francisco's Silver Anniversary professional football team could strike 49er gold."

And hope springs eternal. . .

Terry Leads Marin Past De Anza '9'

Mike Terry pitched and batted College of Marin to a 6-2 win over De Anza Junior College Cupertino yesterday at Kentfield.

Terry, who went the distance and scattered six hits, belted a three-run double in the second inning to sew up the victory. A walk to Jim Peters, a base hit by Dee Fedrick and Roger Offenbach's ground ball fielder's choice had loaded the bases.

PORTOLA VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The four top-seeded players in the 70th California State Tennis Championship advanced to third round play today at the Alpine Hills Tennis and Swimming Club.

Former Davis Cup player Barry MacKay, the second seed, from Ross, got by Larry Dodge of San Francisco, 7-5 and 6-2. Hans Plotz of West Germany, the third seed, defeated Tom Munch of Mountain View, Calif., 6-4 and 7-6.

Fourth-seeded Roscoe Tanner, a Stanford University freshman from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., breezed past Bruce Antal of Sunnyvale, Calif., 6-1 and 6-1.

Dave Marshall Is Quick To Hand Out His Revenge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It didn't take Dave Marshall long to strike back at his former San Francisco Giants teammates — only one pitch, as a matter of fact.

Marshall walloped a 400-foot, grand-slam homer on the first pitch Tuesday night, capping the New York Mets' five-run first inning for a 5-2 victory over the Giants.

"I'd never hit a grand slam before in my life—not even in junior high," said Marshall, who came to the Mets with Ray Sadecki in a winter swap for Bob Heise and Jim Gosger, since sold to a minor league club.

"No, I'm not any stronger this year," added Mrashall. "I only hit one or two homers a year and just happened to get my first one early this season. I hit that ball about as well as I can."

Rookie Mike Jorgensen, who like Marshall was making his second start of the season for the Mets, opened the first with a walk. Bud Harrelson then was safe on a fielder's choice when Jorgensen beat the throw to second.

Ken Boswell's bloop single loaded the bases and Art Shamsky's infield single to the right side scored Jorgensen. After Donn Clendenon struck out, Marshall slammed Gaylord Perry's first pitch for the homer.

That made it easy for right-hander Gary Gentry, 2-0, to post the win, although he served up Willie Mays' 602nd career homer in the first. The Giants added a run in the eighth on doubles by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey.

Gentry, who was relieved by Tug McGraw in the ninth, yielded some long blasts to the Giants, including a 400-foot belt by Dick Dietz that Jorgensen gloved for the final out in the eighth.

Lee Hurls Bosox Win

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Lee, former star pitcher at Terra Linda High School, checked Oakland with late relief help from Ray Jarvis Tuesday night as the Boston Red Sox edged the Athletics 2-1 on solo homers by Tony Conigliaro and Mike Andrews.

Lee retired the first 11 men he faced, before Reggie Jackson broke the spell with a double in the fourth inning. The 23-year-old Boston left-hander came back to set down 12 more batters in a row before he finally ran into trouble in the eighth.

SINGLES

Frank Fernandez singled with two out to start the Oakland rally, and Bob Pena also singled. Pinch hitter Bert Campaneris also singled to score a run and Jarvis came in and got Felipe Alou on a fly ball for the final out.

Lee wound up with six strikeouts and didn't walk a man en route to his first victory of the season and the second of his brief major league career.

Oakland starter Al Downing gave up a leadoff double to Andrews, then retired 11 Red Sox batters in a row until Conigliaro smashed a tremendous shot over the 60-foot screen in left center field in the fourth inning for his second homer of the year.

In the fifth inning Andrews, swinging on a 3-0 pitch with two out and nobody on, drilled it into the screen in left field for his third circuit clout of the season.

Ken Gnoss Continues Tear; Redwood Wins

San Marin High School's Ken Gnoss ripped a home run and double yesterday as the Mustangs outfought Terra Linda, 8-5 for second place in the tight Marin County Athletic League race.

Redwood remained in first place by virtue of a 4-1 win over Novato. In other high school games Tamalpais edged Marin Catholic, 5-4 and San Rafael pounded Drake, 9-5.

BIG YEARS

Gnoss, who seems on his way to winning the triple crown in the MCAL, had a perfect three for three day to raise his batting average to .577. He also leads the league in homers with four and runs batted in with 15.

San Marin's Jim Thompson had three hits including a triple. Dennis Bueler went the distance for the win, his fifth without a loss this season.

Roger Smith picked up his fourth victory for Redwood as the Giants ran their record to six wins against a single loss.

HELPS HIMSELF

Tam pitcher Bill Secor won his own game in the bottom of the seventh when he singled with two outs to score Bill Rudolph after Jan Brink's base hit scored Clifford Hall to tie things at 4-4. The victory pushed the Indians into a fourth place tie with Novato. Both teams have 3-4 win-loss records.

San Rafael scored six times in the fourth inning in dealing the Drake Pirates their seventh loss in a row.

Mays Disappointed, Then Thrilled Kids

Willie Mays will be 39 next week. For two decades now Mays has been to baseball what Babe Ruth was in another era—the hero of countless thousands of Little Leaguers. Kids are terribly disappointed when they go out to see the Giants and the captain of the team is not in the lineup.

It was that way the other day in Candlestick Park on Bat Day. More than half of the crowd of 27,966 were kids who came to get a free bat—and to see Mays. When the lineups were announced and Mays' name was missing, the kids were disappointed.

FOR FIVE innings they contained their disappointment in a kind of gloomy silence. Finally, one youngster in the upper stands could stand it no longer. He shouted "We want Mays." Soon every kid in the stadium was commanding "We want Mays." The insistent chant, accompanied by a pounding of bats, was deafening in the sixth inning.

When the Giants came to bat in the seventh, Mays came racing to the dugout from the right field bullpen where he rests his aging legs when he is not playing. Willie went to the on deck circle for a seventh inning pinch hit role that never materialized because the Expos got three fast outs.

BUT MAYS was the leadoff batter in the eighth and the kids gave him a thunderous ovation. They were delighted when their hero lined a single off the leg of the Expo pitcher. The Giants ultimately lost the ball game in the ninth inning but it wasn't a complete day of disappointment, especially for those youngsters who rode buses considerable distances for two reasons: (1) to get a bat, (2) to see Mays.

MAYBE MAYS deliberately planned his belated appearance on Bat Day. Maybe he wanted to run a test. What better way was there to run a check on his own popularity? What better way to answer those who have been saying that Mays should retire?

There was no disputing how the kids feel. They want their hero to continue playing baseball indefinitely. They don't care whether Willie will be 39 or 49 May 6. They just want to see him at bat and in center field. He may not be able to hit home runs as he once did and he may no longer tap his glove as confidently as he once did.

BUT HE still is Willie Mays and whenever his name is announced in the lineup—in Candlestick or any other ball park—a cheer always goes up. When it's missing from the lineup, the disappointment, particularly that of kids in the stands, is deep.

HAPPY DAVE—New York's Dave Marshall shows his feelings after hitting a grand slam against his ex-mates, San Francisco, on the first pitch he saw. Waiting to greet him after last night's smash were Ken Boswell, Art Shamsky (24) and Bud Harrelson (3). Catcher is Dick Dietz. The blow enabled the Mets to top the Giants, 5-2.

Sport Of Wristwrestling Headed For The Olympics?

PETALUMA, (UPI) — Spacemen of 1980 may see Mars and sportsmen of 1980 may behold something equally miraculous—an Olympic Games wristwrestling contest.

It would not be a case of something new breaking the Olympic barriers, but something old—one of the most ancient games of them all. Wristwrestling may have been a popular pastime in ancient Greece and Rome. In this country, Abraham Lincoln whiled away many hours at the sport.

But it wasn't until 17 years ago, when a brainstorm hit columnist Bill Soberanes of the Petaluma Argus-Courier, that wristwrestling took on a new life and luster He teamed up with local saloonkeeper Mike Gilardi and Jack Homel, a vacationing trainer for the Detroit Tigers, to stage a wristwrestling contest in Gilardi's bar.

In that epic year of 1953, there was an acute shortage of contestants, so Homel had to play the role of participant as well as promoter. The only man who could be found to pit against him was Oliver Kullberg, a hay-baler who weighed 200 pounds. Some say that 200 people watched the match, others claim there were only 14.

Soberanes described the event in his column as a "smashing success," and decided then and there to hold annual matches. They were staged for nine years straight at Gilardi's. But the crowds got bigger each year, and the barroom furniture took such a beating that the tournaments, now dubbed the "World Championships," were moved to a large hall in 1962.

Friday's world contest will be in Veterans Memorial Building.

Fifty strong men entered that first world contest. The final match was a David and Goliath encounter between beefy five-foot-eight Earl Hagerman and Duane (Tiny) Benedix, six-foot-four and weighing 270.

The two men faced each other across the table. The strength of Hagerman, who knew the trick of sudden wrist action, came as an electric shock to Benedix. Hagerman's teeth were clenched. The blood vessels in his temples bulged. Benedix's fist came closer to the table. He rallied for seconds. But with relentless strength, Hagerman sent Benedix's fist crashing to the table.

That resounding bank marked the creation of the world's first wristwrestling champ. And little Petaluma was on the map.

The man who sees wristwrestling as an Olympic sport 10 years hence is nationally known boxing referee Frankie Carter who has assisted at past contests. He said:

"There is no other sport that sees a man so completely alone. The wristwrestler has no team behind him, no seconds to spur him on."

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Perez Continues His Red-Hot Spree

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

His teammates have hot-hitting Tony Perez figured out which is more than you can say for the rest of the National League.

"He's hitting everything and everybody," said Pete Rose, an expert on the subject who has won the NL bating title in each of the last two years.

That's the straight-forward explanation. Bobby Tolan, another Cincinnati slugger, subscribes to a more mystical approach.

"He must be trying," said Tolan, "to get into the next higher league."

Whatever Perez has up his sleeve, he gave Houston more of the same Tuesday night, equalling a major league record with his 10th home run this month as the Reds Whipped the Astros 4-2.

He tied the mark set by Frank Robinson of Baltimore in April 1969.

OTHER SCORES

Elsewhere in the NL Tuesday night, Pittsburgh slugged Chicago 6-1 Atlanta edged St. Louis 3-2, New York dropped San Francisco 5-2, Philadelphia edged Los Angeles 3-2 in 10 innings and Montreal swept a doubleheader from San Diego 4-2 and 7-3.

In the American League, New York topped California 7-5, Cleveland dropped Minnesota 3-1, Washington outlasted Milwaukee 9-6, Boston edged Oakland 2-1, Detroit defeated Kansas City 8-3 and Baltimore downed Chicago 4-2.

In addition to his homer, Perez had an RBI single and boosted his major league leading batting average to .461. He has 26 RBIs.

'FEEL STRONG'

"I feel strong and I see the ball all the way up there," said Perez. "I feel like I'm going to hit it everytime I step up to the plate."

Gary Nolan rode Perez' heavy hitting to his fourth straight victory with Don Gullett providing ninth inning relief after a pinch homer by John Mayberry.

The Pirates ended Chicago's 11-game winning streak with two home runs by Manny Sanguillen and combined three-hit pitching by Luke Walker, Bruce Dal Canton and Dave Giusti.

Sanguillen tagged a two-run homer over the left field wall in the first inning and then reached the identical spot with the bases empty in the sixth.

Dal Canton rescued Walker from a fifth inning jam, then left the game with a pulled muscle and Giusti finished up. It was the Cubs' first loss since April 12.

Clete Boyer unloaded a two-run homer in the ninth, giving the Braves their victory over St. Louis. Mike Torrez had been riding a 2-1 lead produced by Richie Allen's fifth homer of the year for the Cards until Boyer struck.

Hank Aaron tagged his seventh of the season for the Braves in the first inning.

TIES IT

Larry Hisle's two-out homer in the ninth tied the game and then a pinch homer by Rick Joseph leading off the 10th gave Philadelphia its sixth straight victory and beat the Dodgers.

Billy Grabarkewitz had snapped a 1-1 tie with a leadoff homer in the eighth for LA before Hisle tied it again in the Phils' last gasp. Reliever Dick Selma earned the victory and finished the game at third base when left-hander Joe Hoerner came on to retire left-handed batter Willie Davis with the tying run on second in the bottom of the 10th.

Montreal bunched all its runs in the eighth inning of the opener to beat San Diego. Ron Fairly hammered a two-run homer and Bobby Wine's single drove two more across for the Expos. Steve Huntz homered for the Padres.

Fairly homered again in the nightcap and Steve Renko pitched a six-hitter as the Expos completed the sweep and extended San Diego's losing streak to six games. The Expos have won three straight.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

From Golden Gate To Belvedere Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

If the courts at Belvedere Tennis Club are starting to look like those at San Francisco's Golden Gate Park it's really because of the personnel.

Bill Kennedy, teaching pro at Golden Gate Park for the last five years, is now full-time teaching pro at the Belvedere club, while finishing up a five-year contract with once a week work at the S.F. courts.

He teaches tennis at Belvedere Tuesdays through Saturdays, and at Golden Gate Park courts on Sundays, His wife, Pat, is running the pro shop on the S.F. courts.

Also spending time these days at the Belvedere Tennis Club are the Louie sisters—Marcelyn, Marna, Marisa and Mareen—very well known tennis family which plays out of Golden Gate Park.

Kennedy, 54, came over to help out Jack Bracken at the Belvedere club a year ago and when Bracken went back to teaching in a San Francisco junior high, Kennedy, a resident and native of San Francisco, started teaching on a full-time basis. He's been doing that since Sept. 1.

Kennedy also did some teaching at the Mill Valley Tennis Club from 1961 to 1965, before starting his days at Golden Gate Park. He's been in professional tennis since 1958.

"I used to be an insurance broker and just taught tennis as a hobby," Kennedy said. "Then I decided to teach professionally and I have been at it ever since."

Among his early students when at Mill Valley was Andy Moffat, now aged 18 and No. 1 man on the Tamalpais High School tennis team. Dan Tierney of Tiburon was also one of his early students who went on to win his share of tournament matches.

Bill and wife Pat have two daughters, Lee, married and living in Daly City, and Maureen, 17, a student at Mercy High School in San Francisco. Maureen is quite a tennis player herself, competing in junior girls 18 events.

Wall Street Rises After Brief Panic

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved sharply upward today after recovering from a midsession selling wave apparently prompted by the announcement of a new commitment regarding Cambodia. Trading was heavy.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed up 13.06 at 737.39. This was the first time this week the market had closed on the upswing.

During the morning, the Dow average had been up more than 7 points. But it fell some 4 points below Tuesday's close after news that the United States was providing advisers and tactical air strikes for South Vietnamese troops in Cambodia, Tuesday's close of 724.33 was the lowest since President Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963, when the averages closed at 711.49.

At 2 p.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.64 to 726.97, after having been up over 7 points earlier. Trading was active.

Declining issues led advances by a good margin. Earlier, advances had been ahead by almost 2 to 1.

Analysts said the market, highly sensitive at present levels, temporarily panicked at the Cambodian announcement.

The earlier rise was attributed by analysts to news of a meeting today between security-industry officials and Paul W. McCracken, chief presidential economic adviser. The rise was considered technical.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Keep Certificates With A Big Broker

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some of my stock is held by my broker. I am worried by the seeming increase of financial difficulty and even bankruptcy faced by these firms. Would I be wise to hold all my certificates myself?—H.C.

A. In the year that has elapsed since I last discussed this subject, the profit picture has seriously deteriorated for some brokers. Certainly each investor should weigh the pros and cons of his own situation carefully before making a decision. If you are not a trader, there is very little to be gained by having your broker hold your shares. A margined trader has no choice. Certain managed accounts also require leaving shares in the broker's custody, but if the account is in a large well-financed house, there is no reason to worry.

Are you dealing with a large firm or a small one? Read the firm's statement of financial condition carefully—don't just toss it in the wastebasket. The industry itself deserves commendation for the various programs which have been self-generated to protect investors. A $26 million fund, contributed by member firms of the New York Stock Exchange, was set up to reimburse customers in case of a member's forced liquidation. It is understood, however, that recently serious inroads have been made into this fund.

Congress is presently studying a plan, among others, proposed by Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, for setting up a federally insured program for brokerage accounts. The plan, similar in operation to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.'s systems, would protect cash and securities held in an account up to a maximum figure.

A move by one broker which may be followed by others would provide additional incentive for the small investor to hold his own certificates. Accounts which do not generate sufficient revenue will incur a semiannual $50 custodial fee. Handling costs on inactive accounts are said to average $100 a year.

It bears repeating that if your shares are held by a large, financially strong brokerage firm, your chance of loss is negligible.

POSSIBLE WAY TO CONTROL OIL SLICK

A mixture of treated sand and water is sprayed on water covered with an oil slick off the Netherlands' coast from a specially built dredger during test of a method to control oil slicks. The method, devised by an oil company and reportedly successful during this experiment, is based on an idea of the chemically treated sand with particles of oil adhering to it, sinking to the bottom, thus clearing the water's surface of the oil slick. The mixture is sprayed from booms extending from the boat's midship. (AP Wirephoto)

150,000 Within A Year —But When Is The End?

There has been surprisingly little reaction to President Nixon's announcement of a week ago that 150,000 more U.S. troops will be withdrawn from Vietnam within a year.

Few shouts of approval have greeted an announcement that last year might have caused considerable rejoicing. Few cries of outrage have been heard from the advocates of a quick pullout — only a bit of grumbling.

This probably is due in large part to the fact that to many of us, the President's announcement brought a feeling of relief that he had not instead disclosed a new buildup of forces to meet new threats in neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

THE PRESIDENT must be credited with both fortitude and consistency.

He appears to be following the timetable he set himself last year. But as we commented then, it is too slow a timetable to be very reassuring, and it gives no promise of a complete U.S. pullout from the morass of Southeast Asia.

Developments in Laos and Cambodia have shown that our involvement there is deeper than President Nixon had admitted. And withdrawing troops from South Vietnam will mean little if we remain snarled in the wars, the revolutions, and the venal politics of the rest of that part of the world.

A REDUCTION of 150,000 troops in Vietnam is considerable. However, the figure needs to be put in perspective.

When Mr. Nixon assumed the presidency in January, 1968, the U. S. manpower in Vietnam was reported at 550,000. As of this month, according to his own figures, it is 434,500.

Withdrawing 150,000 more will leave it a year from now at 284,500.

THAT IS APPROXIMATELY the number we had there two years after the escalation began in the wake of the infamous Tonkin Gulf Resolution of August, 1964, in which the Congress gave away to the President its power to launch a war.

The figure did not reach 150,000 — the number Mr. Nixon promises to withdraw within the next 12 months — until more than a year after the Tonkin Gulf incident. Even with the extremely rapid escalation then under way, it took it another year to reach 285,000 — the figure to which Mr. Nixon promises to return it in 1971, or five years later.

THE PRESIDENT said last week: "The decision I have announced tonight. . . is based entirely on the progress of our Vietnamization program."

This sounded oh, so much like earlier pronouncements during an earlier administration.

On Feb. 13, 1963 — when the U.S. had fewer than 50,000 troops in Vietnam — then-Secy. of State Dean Rusk said: "The South Vietnamese are fighting their own battle, fighting well."

Seven years later, we must wait a year to reduce our support of the "improved" South Vietnamese army to six times when it was when Secretary Rusk said that.

SOME DAY, the President and the rest of us are going to have to face up to this hard fact: There may never be a time when South Vietnam can defend itself. To base our calculations on such a time coming may be to commit ourselves in Southeast Asia forever.

Is "saving South Vietnam from communism" worth it? For that matter, are we saving it? Whatever we may think about the matter, the Vietnamese people might "rather be red than dead."

A Spring Morning Chorus

The dawn chorus of birdsong is a year 'round thing in Marin, but in the spring it is particularly lovely.

Birds sing with more enthusiasm in the spring. Their winter ordeal is over, the weather is warmer, the days are longer, green plants are sprouting, making more food available. They are hatching eggs and caring for the young, and the world is brighter. They sing for their territory, for their mate and for the exultant joy of singing.

The chirpers, the warblers, the cooers and the trillers — all are in fine voice these spring mornings.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Propositions 4 And 5 Would Delete Parts Of Constitution

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— Continued revision of the state constitution is contemplated in Proposition 4 and Proposition 5, appearing on the June primary election ballot.

Proposition 4 would delete provisions relating to state penal institutions, homesteads, state lands, and unimproved lands.

However, the provisions to be deleted would be written into the statutes by the legislature, at least presumably.

AMONG THE deletions would be the provision which specifically permits the legislature to establish and govern penal institutions.

Another would be the prohibition against letting out of convict labor to private persons or agencies, but this would be transferred to another section of the constitution.

The third deletion would be the section protesting homesteaders and certain heads of families from forced sale of land.

State Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Orange, opposing this proposition, says "nothing could be gained and something could be lost" if the people repeal guarantees for their protection.

Senator Schmitz, in writing the argument against Proposition 4, notes it is one of four propositions appearing in place of the "package" deal defeated by the people in 1968, and accuses the Constitution Revision Commission of attempting to change the meaning of the constitution rather than revise and simplify the language, which it was supposed to do originally.

PROPOSITION 5 is the third of these second-run propositions which were defeated in the 1968 package. This provides procedures for amending and revising the constitution, deals with the initiative and referendum, and gives some latitude in the civil service law.

At present, civil service covers some of the employees of the lieutenant governor, but under a portion of Proposition 5, all appointees of his office would be exempt.

The proposition appears to be one which has little opposition, although there is some objection to the provision for calling of a constitutional convention to change, revise or adopt a new constitution.

The provision has not been used in more than 30 years, and its use resulted in nothing. Meetings were called in Santa Barbara to effect revisions in the constitution, and lengthy hearings were called, but the result was nil.

The sections to be changed with regard to the initiative and referendum appear to be not very important. They would provide that if two or more initiative or referendums were voted by the people on the same subject, the one obtaining the highest number of votes at the election would prevail. Thus, duplication and argument over which was which would be eliminated.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What Twain Said Applies Today

Mark Twain said: "An inglorious peace is better than a dishonorable war."

We have a Me Too in the White House, trying to follow the wishy-washy Eisenhower, the Bay of Pigs Kennedy and the Texas quitter Johnson.

Our Congress and Supreme Court are shot through and through with moonlighters and our boys are still dying by the hundreds in the rice fields of Vietnam. Our country so divided that tear gas and bayonets are the order of the day.

Mark also said: "Only two in 10,000 have the brains to think." Due to the condition of the country it doesn't look like the two thinkers have been around Washington lately.

Shopper Column Full Of Nonsense

Some of your syndicated columns are often a little "far out" but the discerning reader makes some allowances for the writers need to fill up the space every day. However the "Smart Shopper" for April 20 by Arthur E. Rowse goes beyond mere stupidity. It succeeds in deceiving the reader to a far greater extent than do the food suppliers he so artfully condemns.

Not only does he copy a list of items from a crusading magazine of questionable authority, but he insinautes that the items are bad for the user, who would avoid them if they were listed on the label.

Mr. Rowse lists sodium chloride, as a preservative in sausage, and as a substance to prevent browning in Fruit Cup The uninformed person sees it under that name, as a possibly harmful chemical, when in fact it is common table salt. He relates that calcium hypochlorite is used as a germicide and that sodium hydroxide is used as a peeling agent. He does not explain that both are washed off the products after use, or that calcium hypochlorite is often used to purify contaminated water to make it usable for drinking, and that sodium hydroxide has been used for generations in making hominy from corn. He cites hydrogen peroxide as a germicide in milk and as a bleach in butter, without explaining that in either case it gives up its extra oxygen and becomes ordinary water. Identifying sodium bicarbonate as an alkali rather than by its common name of baking soda is an obvious attempt to make the reader think it is something poisonous. Many other examples could be pointed out . . .

It seems to me that Mr. Rowse has revealed that he is simply an opportunist, trying to profit from public gullibility, without real knowledge of the food supply problem. Being retired, I have no interest in the food industry except as a consumer.

Daughter's Speech Not Endorsement

I note in (Paul) Peterzell's column of April 21 he infers Ronald Reagan has endorsed Don Pinkerton by permitting Maureen Reagan to be a guest speaker at a Pinkerton banquet.

For the record, Maureen Reagan is a professional speaker and will appear before any group which will pay her fee. This is how she earns her living. Secondly, she also is a paid political worker, now on the payroll of the Harmer for attorney general campaign in Los Angeles. Do you think this constitutes a Reagan endorsement of (John L.) Harmer?

Rock Concerts Deserve Support

The letter in last week's I-J by Neal and Marilyn Dineen regarding arrests made at a rock concert were reminiscent of another police-youth fracas in Fairfax at which an incident between a teen-ager and a policeman were blown up all out of proportion and made several page one articles. The rest of the affair was fun, tea was served at another concert. These are creative, art form expressions and we would do well to encourage attendance at these affairs. The sensationalism which is being associated with these concerts is rather deplorable.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A month after model prisoners in an Illinois jail were first allowed to watch daytime TV for a limited period each day, the publicity head of a nearby TV station asked one inmate what he thought of the programs. "Frankly," sneered the inmate, "I regard them as part of the punishment."

A cagey old farmer sold a distant neighbor a horse one afternoon. The neighbor loaded it into a truck and let it out to pasture as soon as he got home. Much to his surprise, the horse started bucking, then ran smack-bang into a tree. Backing off and shaking his head, he started his cavorting again, only to smack into another tree.

At this, the farmer who bought the animal called up the seller. "Hey," he exclaimed. "That horse you sold me. He's running around the pasture, bumping into every tree in sight. He must be blind."

"Not him." answered the seller of the horse. "He ain't blind — he just don't give a darn!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Muskie's Dilemma Shows Basic Prosperity Vs. Pollution Conflict

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—There is no better example of the nation's bind over pollution than Sen. Edmund Muskie's bind as a politician.

Despite the way the environment is being despoiled, we are still pulled in opposite directions by conflicting needs—the need to do things which decrease pollution and the need to do things which cause it.

These conflicts are visible all at once in the difficult dilemma in which such a conscientious political leader as Muskie finds himself.

Here is an ardent advocate of environmental purity for the nation simultaneously urging a project in his own state of Maine which many believe seriously risks environmental impurity.

HOW IS THIS? He is advancing the most stringent antipollution legislation to come before Congress and he is also supporting the building of an oil refinery in Machiasport, Me., to whose coasts crude-oil tankers would be bringing the same dangers of spills and pollution which have occurred elsewhere.

Why does Senator Muskie want to do this? Certainly not because he takes any casual, light-hearted we'll-meet-pollution-later attitude. He is a dedicated environmentalist. But he's also dedicated to helping create jobs for the people of his state and to reducing oil prices for all New England, and he must be sincerely convinced that these needs are greater than the risks of new pollution.

This is exactly the dilemma which the whole nation faces, and there are conflicting roles which can't be resolved by calling names. The nation needs more jobs for the unemployed but this means more production which means more pollution.

IF WE ARE to rescue our environment from unlivable pollution, we must act on the facts, not the myths, of what does the most to cause it.

This means that the earnest antipolluters, which includes about all of us, will need to do two things:

1—Abandon the "devil theory" about who's to blame for polluting our air, our water and our earth. On this theory many comfortably and virtuously shed all individual responsibility and point the finger of guilt at industry because it has produced so much good which has produced so much waste which has produced so much pollution.

Of course, industry contributes greatly to pollution, but the goal of economic growth has been the goal of our whole society for decades—not just the goal of a few producers—on the grounds that such growth was good in itself because it produced more jobs and a higher material standard of living.

If we are to escape pollution, we will all have to come to see that unchecked economic growth may not automatically be a boon—and accept the consequences.

2—WE MUST ALSO reject the myth that it is "they," not "we," who create pollution. One placard in an Earth Day parade read: "They who brought us Vietnam, brought us pollution." As long as we keep thinking that it is primarily the "other fellow" who brings pollution, we will be putting a high hurdle in the way of effective action. Only when we recognize that we're all to blame—manufacturer, farmer, consumer, serviceman, politician, citizen—will we achieve the concerted will to do the job.

It isn't going to be easy to cut production to cut pollution. The gross national product in the United States increases by about 3 per cent every year solely because of the increased productivity of workers. Can we force workers and managers to depress productivity? Can we persuade farmers not to farm efficiently—and do we want to?

The consequences would be higher prices, more unemployment, less opportunity for the disadvantaged, more people on welfare and a lower material standard of living.

To avert these consequences will cost plenty. It will cost taxpayers. It will cost consumers. But the only way out is to speed the technology which can reduce pollution to measurable proportions.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Bill On Campaign Shows Puts Nixon On Spot

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans are loaded with funds for this year's election campaigns, with the promise of more coming in, and they are not out to make things any easier for Democrats, who are loaded with debts.

But it might cause President Nixon some embarrassment, if he should veto a bill to limit campaign spending for political broadcast time in federal elections.

The study goes back 10 years, when John F. Kennedy and Nixon were running for President.

CONGRESS SUSPENDED the so-called equal time provision of the Federal Communications Act to enable broadcasters to make available free time for Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960 without doing the same for fringe candidates.

In 1964 when President Lyndon B. Johnson was running for election, and in 1968 when most people expected him to, similar legislation was bottled up quietly in Congress.

Johnson had no desire to debate his opponents nor to grant them free broadcast time to campaign against him. Democrats used their majorities to see to it that proposals to suspend the FCC provision never saw light.

THINGS ARE different now, with a Republican in the White House again and Democrats still in control of Congress.

Planning for the 1972 elections, Democrats started moving through Congress a bill to repeal the equal time provision so that the major presidential candidates would get some free broadcast time.

a To make it acceptable to Nixon, the measure made clear that the format was not to be frozen on the line of the 1960 debates which were considered to have played a part in the Nixon defeat. The candidates could use the free time as they saw fit fter negotiations with the networks.

In Senate committee, the Democrats wrote into the bill a provision to make available to all candidates for public office—from town councilman to President—wholesale rates for political broadcast time. It would go into effect this year.

WHEN THE BILL reached the Senate floor, the Democrats amended it with a third provision—to limit broadcast spending for candidates for federal office to an amount equal to 7 cents per vote based on the total vote for that office in the last election.

That would drastically cut back on spending for broadcast political time. Example: the formula would permit each candidate for President to spend little more than $5 million in 1972 for broadcast time.

According to the Federal Communications Commission, Nixon spent more than $12.5 million in 1968; Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey more than $7 million.

With the GOP campaign treasury well-filled, Republicans opposed the amendment but it passed in the Senate, 50 to 35.

Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton denounced the amendment.

If the amendment prevails in the House, Morton will urge President Nixon to veto the bill.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Unification Goes Into Reverse In Some Areas

By LRYCE W. ANDERSON

The course of school district unification has never been smooth in California. But until this year, unification proponents could cite a gradual reduction in the number of districts.

This year, it appears a reversal may be setting in.

UP IN THE NORTH end of the state, defeat of a bond issue to build a high school gymnasium in Alturas for the Modoc-Tulelake Unified School District — which overlaps the Siskiyou-Modoc county line — wos followed quickly by a move to dissolve the unified district which may prove successful.

In Calaveras County, petitions sufficient to force an election were filed to remove the Murphy-Ebbetts Pass area from Calaveras Unified School District and annex it to Vallecito Elementary School District.

Petitions in Yuba County forced calling an election to de-unify the Yuba City Unified School District.

AND IN THE MOST unusual move, residents of tiny Iowa Hill, Placer County, are seeking to secede from Colfax Elementary School District and create a new school district of their own.

The Iowa Hill residents' reason is simple. They pay a Colfax school tax of $2.57 per $100 assessed valuation — and there is nary a school child in Iowa Hill. By setting up their own district, they figure they could support a "paper school" with a 3-cent tax rate.

Bucking the trend, however, is Kern County. On the June 2 primary ballot there will be a proposal for a county-wide Kern County Unified School District. There are now 52 school districts in the county, some of which already are unified districts.

UNIFICATION of school districts means putting high schools and elementary schools in the same district. In California, however, it is much more complicated than that.

Two decades ago, a law was passed requiring every elementary school district's territory to be included in some high school district. If it had instead required merger of elementary with high school districts, unification might have been forced rapidly. But it didn't. Instead, it resulted in Californians in most cases paying taxes to two school districts (three, if they live also in a junior college district).

A little later, another law set up a complicated system of county committees and county master plans to work out unification of school districts with difficult criteria and with a 1959 deadline. The deadline arrived with most counties not even having master plans, let alone unification.

TO SPEED things along, Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, put through his Unruh Education Act with the "carrot and stick" approach — the "carrot" being a tax break where residents voted to unify, the "stick" a tax penalty where they voted against it. The act also called for resubmitting unification proposals every four years until passed.

This has worked but little better. One of a handful of bills in this year's legislature to change the unification laws is SB 520, by Sen. Fred W. Marler Jr., R-Redding, which would cancel the area-wide tax that provides the "stick" of Unruh's measure.

ANOTHER LEGISLATOR, however, has taken a new approach to the problem of the small school district.

AB 322 by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco, provides that any school district with fewer than 200 pupils in average daily attendance would go out of existence as of July 1, 1971. The county committee on school district organization would then designate to what district the territory should be annexed.

A recent California Department of Education report lists 190 elementary school districts with enrollment under 200 — all of which would go out of existence next year if Ryan's bill became law.

Originally, a prime purpose of unification was held to be elimination of the districts that were too small to be practical. To attain that end, Ryan's approach would seem much simpler and more effective than the endless master plans, studies, revisions and elections that characterized the last decade.

It would, of course, kill Iowa Hill's tax-saving plan.

Missing Any Items? Check San Francisco

Marin County residents whose homes were burgled in the last five years should contact their local police departments to see if any of the stolen property recovered Saturday with the arrest of Henry Garrison in San Francisco belongs to them.

Inspector Robert Sisk of the Mill Valley Police Department said the property is on display at the Hall of Justice in San Francisco.

Police suspect that a string of 38 Marin burglaries were cleared up with the arrest of Garrison and the recovery of more than $60,000 in furs, jewelry, electronic equipment, guns and ammunition.

Garrison, driving a speedy sports car, always had been able to elude police until Saturday when officers, armed with a search warrant, broke down the door of his apartment and arrested him.

The league has opened a new office at 1368 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, a spokesman announced.

Novato Subdivision Wins Panel Approval

Novato planning commissioners have approved a 34-lot subdivision on Hill Road near South Novato Boulevard over the objections of a group of neighboring property owners concerned that the new construction might cause mud to run onto their land.

The commissioners voted unanimously Monday night to approve the Rancho Village subdivision after an engineer for Crown Development Co. of San Francisco, builders of the project, explained drainage would be controled and would not spill onto adjoining lots, according to Mark Westfall, senior planner.

The commissioners also stipulated, Westfall said, that sidewalks run along one side of the street rather than both sides.

Commissioner William R. Wilson was absent.

P.U. 214-1

The Novato Planning Commission also:

BYPASS — Continued indefinitely consideration of amendment to Novato general plan for future state freeway bypass.

ZONING — Adopted amendment to zoning ordinance on commercial zoning in the city and referred matter to Novato City Council.

PARLOR — Granted a use permit for Harry's Billiard Parlor at 850 Grant Avenue.

BANK — Approved a use permit for a Bank of America building to be constructed on corner of Sixth Street and Grant Avenue with the building design yet to be approved.

SIGN — By a 2-2 vote with commissioners Beverly Ehreth and John C. Schoonover dissenting, denied a variance for a increase in heighth of a sign for Young Brothers Mobil Home Sales, Highway 101 near Olive Avenue.

PATIO — Approved a variance for a patio cover at the home of Richard Oliver, 36, San Miguel Way.

TREES — Denied application of Crown Development Co. for removal of a cluster of bay trees on Taft Court.

OFFICERS — Elected Wilson commission chairman to succeed George S. Quesada and Paul Otis, vice chairman, to succeed Wayne Sartain.

MEETINGS — Adjourned to a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at Novato Park and Recreation Building to discuss 1970-71 budget and hold study session.

The next regular meeting will be May 11 at 8 p.m. at Novato Community House.

Plans Attract Large Turnout In Mill Valley

A capacity audience crowded the Mill Valley council chambers monday night for public hearings by the city's planning commission on three proposed housing developments, according to Harvey E. Bragdon, planning director.

Two hours of the meeting, which lasted until 1 a.m., were spent on a request by William E. Cullen for approval of a master plan for a 30-acre development called Mill Ridge.

The request was continued to May 11 at 8 p.m. in the council chambers for additional hearings.

The commission unanimously approved a request by Cal-Fong Investment Co. that it be allowed to construct a development with a density of 4.4 on land zoned for a density of three in the Alto Bowl area, conditional upon flood control improvements.

The third project, proposed by Morton Kirsch, would leave 13.8 out of 18.2 acres in permanent open space. The commission approved unanimously the 46-unit development, which would cluster townhouses in groups of 13, Bragdon said.

Child, 7, Hurt Crossing Street

A 7-year-old San Rafael boy was treated at Marin General Hospiaal Monday for multiple body bruises sustained when he was hit by a car while crossing Second Street at East Street.

Johnny Wayne Huffman of 11 Jessup Street, was struck at 4:50 p.m. by a vehicle driven by Ronald P. Kern, 24, of 5 Racquet Club Drive, San Rafael.

Kern, according to police, said he was traveling in the westbound fast lane when he saw an auto stopping in the slow lane. He said he saw no reason to stop and continued through the intersection and hit the boy, whom he had not seen.

Farm Burning Out For Marin

Agricultural burning will be banned in Marin starting Thursday until Dec. 1, the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District announced yesterday.

Fruit and nut tree growers have been permitted to burn tree prunings under controlled meteorological conditions during the five-month period from December through this month, the district said.

Agricultural burning will only be permitted during the next seven months to control disease, insect pests, for field stubble burning or for the control of vegetation growth in irrigation ditches, the district said.

Inquest: Judge Faults Kennedy

Report On Kopechne Released

BOSTON UPI — The judge who presided over a secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car said he found "probable cause" Kennedy "operated negligently" and appears to have contributed to the girl's death, according to inquest documents made public today.

The 12-page inquest report of District Judge James A. Boyle of Edgartown and the 764-page transcript of inquest testimony were released in Suffolk Superior Court nine months after Miss Kopechne died when the car driven by Kennedy went off a bridge on Chappaquiddick Island.

Judge Boyle's report was a bombshell which cast doubt on some of the essential parts of the senator's previous two public accountings of the accident.

The documents had been under legal wraps since the inquest ended Jan. 8. The accident occurred last July 18.

The judge said, "I...find there is probable cause to believe that Edward M. Kennedy operated his motor vehicle negligently on a way or in a place to which the public have a right of access and that such

Saigon's Aim: Neutralize Foe

SAIGON (AP) — With U.S. backing, thousands of South Vietnamese troops launched a new operation against Communist command forces inside Cambodia today, the Defense Ministry announced.

It said the South Vietnamese command had requested and received U.S. combat support, logistics assistance and medical evacuation. The South Vietnamese will withdraw from Cambodia once their mission of neutralizing the enemy there is completed, a Defense Ministry communique said.

In Washington, the Pentagon announced the United States will send advisers, tactical air strikes and other support for the South Vietnamese in "a necessary and effective measure" to save U.S. and other allied lives.

The Defense Ministry said the operation was launched "with a view to neutralize the North Vietnamese Communists' scheme of using the Cambodian territory as operation bases to infiltrate, shell and attack the territory of the Republic of Vietnam."

The operation is centered in an area inside Cambodia shown on military maps as the "Parrot's Beak," west and northwest of Saigon.

The communique gave no details of the opening stage of the offensive, though newsmen along the border region had recently observed a massive buildup of South Vietnamese troops and armored personnel carriers operating out of Tay Ninh City, 50 miles northwest of Saigon. The Cambodian operation is centered southwest of Tay Ninh City.

It was the first official acknowledgment of armed forays into Cambodia by the South Vietnamese forces, although they have conducted at least half a dozen others since the March 18 overthrow of the Cambodian chief of state, Norodom Sihanouk.

The communique said, "This operation is also a necessary measure in the framework of the policy of the Republic of Vietnam to gradually take more of the responsibility to defend its land and to replace Ameri-

Regional Health Planning Hit

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Expressing fear that too much authority over community health programs may wind up in the hands of the Regional Comprehensive Health Plannng Council, the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday refused to support Marin's health plan. (Other supervisors stories, page 11.)

The supervisors said state and federal laws were paving the way for a nonelected government structure to decide what health programs should be funded, as well as when and where.

The county's health plan, a product of about two years work by the health council, was ordered by the federal government to determine how federal health care dollars will be used. Nine regions were established in California, with Marin belonging to the Bay Area region.

Members of the health council and the county administrator's staff yesterday clashed over the merits of the study and the concept of regional planning.

Thomas F. Campanella of the administrator's staff told the board he was shocked by what the report says, and the implications it thrusts at the county government.

Campanella said the report fails to set priorities for program needs, lacks detail, and would establish "a single purpose regional form of government."

He said, "The organization does have the power to prohibit local governments from securing needed funds to implement programs that the elected bodies of local governments believe to be in the best interest of the community which they serve."

Speaking in favor of the plan, Mrs. Herbert J. Baum, a member of the health council, said the plan was purposely kept vague "to leave the varius community agencies free to propose specific plans to meet the general priorities. . .

"For example, we are not telling the agencies interested in the problem of alcoholism whether to start a detoxification center before they establish a half-way house.

"If we are occupying a more commanding position than has been supposed, this is not due to any power-grab on our part. Mr. Campanella evidently has a quarrel with the federal government.

"There is absolutely no foundation for the allogation that the council might use its power to 'prohibit local government from securing needed funds.'

"We are not a regional form

U.S. Plans To Assist In New Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today the United States will send advisers, tactical air strikes and other support for South Vietnamese operations in Cambodia. It called the move "a necessary and effective measure" to save U.S. and other allied lives.

Following the announcement President Nixon arranged to address the nation Thursday night to explain the decision.

The Pentagon thus confirmed an announcement by the South Vietnamese Defense Ministry in Saigon that U.S. combat and other support for a major operation in the "parrot beak" area of Cambodia jutting into South Vietnam about 35 miles from Saigon.

STATEMENT TEXT

Asst. Secretary of Defense Daniel Z. Henkin read a statement to newsmen saying:

"The United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam (MACV) in response to the request of the government of Vietnam is prepared to provide support" for the South Vietnamese operations.

"This support will take the form of advisers, tactical air, air coordinators, medical evacuation, and some logistics assistance."

Master Plan Scrapped For Marin Hospital

Marin Hospital District members learned last night proposed expansion of facilities at the hospital is likely to cost $4 million more than the $10 million they thought. (Another hospital district story, page 5.)

Learning the bad news, they forsook the hospital's master plan and directed the district's architect to develop a new construction plan. Pending his results, the board tentatively set March 1971 for a special bond issue election.

Architect Rex Whitaker Allen told the board, which last month proposed a $10 million bond issue for new construction, that many factors caused the price increase.

Allen said construction and material costs have soared since the hospital's master plan was developed in 1966. At that time, he added, the cost of adding 100 beds and additional service support areas would have cost $6.6 million.

"It must be realized that this hospital wasn't built to go beyond its present capacity," Allen pointed out.

According to the architect, the $14 million figure was a projected construction cost for 1973. If built today it would cost about $11 million.

The master plan calls for the hospital's 250-bed capacity to be increased to 500 beds in two phases. The first would provide 100 additional beds and service support space for 500 beds. The second phase calls for 150 beds bringing the total to 500 beds.

"There is no question that we could build the same number of beds at another location for a cheaper price," Allen said, "but you wouldn't have a medical center offering complete services."

The architect suggested the board consider forsaking its master plan in favor of a newer concept which allows greater flexibility within a new building, and also reduces construction costs.

Allen said the concept calls for one floor to be used solely

Novato Freeze Voted To Permit Rezonings

The Novato City Council last night banned commercial development in three proposed regional shopping center sites for 90 days. The emergency ordinance is effective immediately.

The ban and a corollary authorization for the city's planning commission to begin proceedings to permanently reclassify the areas for regional shopping center development represented a departure from past council action and an extension of the downtown study area. (Another Novato council story, page 30.)

The council had previously granted use permits for new commercial building in the area of the downtown study plan, often overruling planning commission recommendations, as in the recent controversial case of a Lucky Store and a Thrifty Drug store in the area of the Diablo Avenue — South Novato Boulevard triangle.

This area and sites at the Highway 37 interchange and in the San Marin East area fall under the ban. They are being considered for a regional shopping center along the lines of Northgate in Terra Linda.

The emergency measure effective immediately was strongly opposed by Councilman J. Wayne Womack. He accused the council of prejudging the downtown plan without public hearings by accepting the opinion of design consultants Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco.

He urged delay of the measure until a special meeting slated for next Tuesday for discussion of the downtown plan.

Mayor Douglas Merrill agreed that the action was hasty, but said the action was urgent. Voting with the mayor and Councilman Joseph Gargiulo were F. Wayne Sartain and George C. Quesada, both former planning commissioners who ousted incumbents Babe Silva and Har-

FACT BULLETIN #7 (The Strike)

The Mech. Superintendent -A Case of Coercion

The National Labor Relations Board has issued a complaint against S.F. Typographical Union 21 charging coercion of the I-J composing room foreman in violation of federal law. In its negotiations the union insisted that the I-J mechanical superintendent (foreman) must be a member and subject to union discipline. On Jan. 18 it fined him because he carried out his duties as a representative of the publisher. The National Labor Relations Act, as confirmed by federal courts, states that the foreman is not properly a member of the bargaining unit. The courts have ruled that while a union may bargain on this issue it may not strike because of it. The union has not only struck the I-J but has called for disciplinary action against the I-J superintendent — in part for working at the I-J since the strike was called. This places the union in the position of attempting to fine and discipline an executive for "violating" the union's practices. It may be noted that the union has as yet never discussed this in public print.

Vatican Scraps Old Law On Rearing Of Children

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Non-Catholics marrying Roman Catholics no longer need make any promises concerning the upbringing of children under new mixed marriage regulations announced today.

In a 2,400 word apostolic letter, Pope Paul VI said Catholics would be required to promise to do "all in their power" to have their children baptized and brought up in the Roman church.

But he scrapped a centuries-old law excommunicating—or cutting off from the sacraments—Catholics who knowingly bring up their children in another faith.

The document falls far short of the hopes of many Protestants and liberal Catholics who argue that each couple should be free to decide the uprbringing of its children.

A Vatican source said the document was a step forward in that it removed much of the coercion formerly connected with mixed marriage vows.

The Pope made it clear the Roman church dislikes the idea of mixed marriages in the first place.

He ruled out Protestant and Catholic clergymen jointly officiating at a wedding ceremony or having another religious ceremony before or after the Catholic wedding.

The Pope's letter, signed March 31, was made public by Vatican press spokesman Msgr. Fausto Vallainc.

The Pope said the church would regard marriage between a Catholic and another baptized person as legal only if the couple obtained a dispensation from the local Catholic bishop.

To get such a dispensation, the Pope said, "the Catholic party shall declare that he is ready to remove dangers of falling away from the faith. He is also gravely bound to make a sincere promise to do all in his power to have all the children baptized and brought up in the Catholic church."

Until the last revision, in 1966, the non-Catholic partner had to make the same promise. Since then he has been required to promise — either in writing or orally—not to obstruct his partner's faith or the Catholic education of his children.

The new rules state merely that he "must be informed of these promises which the Catholic party has to make, so that it is clear he is cognizant of the promise and obligation on the part of the Catholic."

TEL AVIV CLAIMS RUSS AIR GUARDS

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Israel said today Soviet pilots are flying "operational missions" from Soviet-run bases in Egypt. Well informed Tel Aviv newspapers said the Russians were guarding Egyptian air space against Israeli air force attacks and that there had been at least one near clash.

The newspaper Ma'ariv said Prime Minister Golda Meir had sent a special message to President Nixon which pledged "Israel's determination to defend herself" in the face of Soviet involvement. Israel also was reported asking Nixon to free more F4 Phantom jets for Israel.

The government announcement said none of the Soviet-piloted aircraft had penetrated Israeli air spoce or participated in dogfights against Israeli fighters. But it termed the presence of the Russian fliers a "grave new development" that signals an "escalation of Soviet involvement in Egypt."

(In Cairo, a military spokesman said an Egyptian patrol crossed the Suez Canal today and destroyed three halftracks, killing all the Israelis in them, is an area south of the Great Bitter Lakes. The spokesman said Israel tried to move up tanks but they were driven off with Egyptian artillery.

(Egypt had no immediate official comment on the Israeli pilots announcement but informed sources in Cairo said it was intended to sway U.S. Middle East policy and bring pressure to obtain additional warplanes, especially Phantom jets.)

(UPI diplomatic correspondent K.C. Thaler, quoting defense sources, reported in London the Soviet Union had decided to use the Middle East as a testing ground for its new weapons including SAM3 surface-to-air missiles and the very sophisticated MIG23 fighter.)

The Tel Aviv newspaper Harrtz, in an extra edition, reported that two weeks ago "a contact almost took place between Israeli jets and Soviet-piloted planes."

Oscar Winner Ed Begley, 69, Dies; The First Charley Chan

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ed Begley, a character actor who won an Oscar in 1963 for his portrayal of a sadistic political boss in "Sweet Bird of Youth," is dead at 69.

Begley succumbed to an apparent heart attack Tuesday night during a party at the home of his publicist, Jay Bernstein.

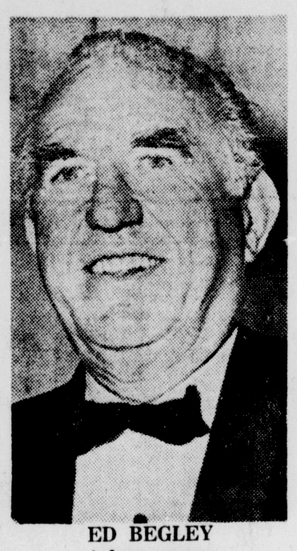
Begley was equally at home on stage, television and in movies.

Among his notable films were "Twelve Angry Men," "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," "It Happens Every Spring" and "Sorry, Wrong Number."

A fifth-grade dropout, he was a self-taught actor.

Radio was his first big stepping stone. During the 1930s he appeared on more than 12,000 programs. He was detective, doctor, gangster—anything the program required. He was radio's original Charlie Chan.

Begley came to Hollywood in 1947 and within four years had acted in 21 pictures.



ED BEGLEY

He appeared on the stage in "Inherit the Wind," "Look Homeward, Angel," "Advise and Consent," "All My Sons," "What Price Glory" and "John Loves Mary."

He demonstrated his versatility when, on Broadway, he played William Jennings Bryan to Paul Muni's Clarence Darrow in "Inherit the Wind." The following matinee, circumstances dictated that he play Darrow, instead of Bryan.

He did so with such distinction that he won applause from critics, who had been invited without his knowledge.

In more recent years Begley had appeared on many television shows.

He was born in Hartford, Conn., on March 25, 1901. He began running away from home at an early age to join carnivals and fairs.

"I don't know why I made so much misery for my parents," he once remarked. "They were kind to me and I had a good home and I liked to come back to it." He was the son of an immigrant father from Kerry County, Ireland.

In addition to his widow, Helen, who was his third wife, he leaves a son, Ed Jr., and a daughter, Maureen.

Cabinet Aide Drafts Car Insurance Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Transportation says it will recommend reforms in the American auto insurance system because it is "working poorly and inadequately."

Richard J. Barber, deputy assistant transportation secretary, said a department study provides "a startling and shocking factual picture of the auto insurance system."

He said the government would issue this summer its recommendations for changing the system.

Many critics favor changing to the "no fault" method under which an individual would collect damages from his own insurance company rather than those of others involved.

The department study said death and injury from 1967 highway accidents caused $5.1 billion in financial losses of one kind or another to those involved. But it said payments totaled only $2.5 billion, and only $1.1 billion of that was paid by auto insurance. The remained was collected from such soures as life insurance, social security, medical and hospital insurance, Barber said.

Barber said the report demonstrated the extent of "human suffering" associated with auto accidents. He said that 22 per cent of cases of death or serious injury of an accident victim, another family member had to get a job; 14 per cent had to move to cheaper housing; 30 per cent had to draw on savings, 28 per cent had to borrow money, and "45 per cent had to change their standard of living."

Other findings:

—Legal bills took about 25 per cent of judgements awarded by courts in accident cases.

—Accident victims with losses of more than $25,000 got only one-hourth of their losses back.

—Conversely, victims with losses of less than $500 got back "four and one half times their losses" because insurance companies were less prone to prosecute small cases.

—It took an average of 16 months to settle a claim.

Rioters Hit

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish government today condemned demonstrators against U.S. Ambassador erome H. Holland as "scoundrels" who damage Sweden's reputation. But the government reiterated its opposition to American policy in Vietnam.

Opening a foreign policy debate in parliament, Premier Olof Palme and Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson said:

"For our part, we have in substance criticized American policy in Vietnam. That is one thing. Precisely because of that we have reason to condemn with utmost severity the insulting actions to which the newly arrived American ambassador has been subjected by a handful of scoundrels. Such actions are deeply unworthy in a country where the right freely to express ones opinion is self-evident. They damage the reputation of our country."

Belching Cows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists have found that when cows belch they can set up a chain reaction which can produce off-flavored milk, according to an Agriculture Department report.

Tests were conducted in which cows were fed onions and leeks. The belched gases were found to be partially absorbed into the bloodstream from the lungs and within a few minutes caused off-flavors in the milk.

A mature cow, officials said, can belch as much as two liters —more than half a gallon—of gas per minute.

operation appears to have contributed to the death of Mary Jo Kopechne."

Kennedy had said his car plunged into a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island as he attempted to drive Miss Kopechne from a party to a ferry between the island and Edgartown, about 120 yards away on the larger island of Martha's Vineyard.

Judge Boyle also said after reviewing the facts in the case, "I infer a reasonable and probable explanation of the totality of the...facts is that Kennedy and Kopechne did not intend to return to Edgartown at that time; that Kennedy did not intend to drive to the ferry slip and his turn onto Dike Road was intentional.

"Having reached this conclusion," the judge continued "the question then arises as to whether there was anything criminal in his operation of the motor vehicle."

(pickup as prev 5th pgh 038a: A Judge Boyle said "two personal views" and an engineer's statement fully convinced him "that Dike Bridge constitutes a traffic hazard, particularly so at night, and must be approached with extreme caution. A speed of even 20 miles an hour, as Kennedy testified to, operating a car as large as this Oldsmobile, would at least be negligent and, possibly, reckless.

"If Kennedy knew of this hazard, his operation of the vehicle constituted criminal conduct."

Judge Boyle went on to state flatly that Kennedy had driven over Dike Road and Dike Bridge twice on the day of the accident, and he said Miss Kopechne had done the same.

The judge said he found Miss Kopechne's death due to drowning. He also said Kennedy's apparent failure to seek help for the young Washington secretary as she lay at the bottom of the tidal pond did not "constitute criminal conduct."

According to the transcript, Kennedy told the inquest he had "never been on Chappaquiddick Island before that day," although he had been to Martha's Vineyard a number of times.

He testified his driver, John Crimmins, made him "a drink of rum and Coca Cola" about 8:30 on the night of the accident. He left the cookout reunion about 11:15 p.m. with Miss Kopechne and no one else, the senator testified.

"I noticed the time, desired to leave and return to the Shiretown Inn (in Edgartown) and indicated to her that I was leaving and returning to town. She indicated to me she was desirous of leaving, if I could be kind enough to drop her back at her hotel," Kennedy said.

He said he was driving "approximately 20 miles per hour" on Dike Road.

In Berkeley Heights, N.J., a spokesman for the Kopechne family said Mrs. Kopechne would have "absolutely no comment" until she had read a copy of the transcript and Judge Boyle's report.

Kennedy testiifed he did not notice during his two trips from the ferry slip to the cottage whether the road was paved or unpaved. The road was paved.

However, the road leading to Dike Bridge was unpaved. Kennedy told the inquest almost immediately after he realized he was on an unpaved road, "I went off Dike Bridge, or I went off a bridge."

can troops by Vietnamese troops."

The U.S. Command had no immediate comment on the South Vietnamese announcement.

The communique did not elaborate further on American involvement. It did not say exactly what the U.S. troops were doing. The U.S. Command has said that no American forces are authorized to cross into Cambodia for the purpose of taking part in military operations. In previous South Vietnamese operations into Cambodia, American forces have given support by flying supplies as far as the border where they then have been transferred to South Vietnamese transports.

American infantrymen also have acted as blocking forces just on the South Vietnamese side of the border in order to trap any enemy forces that might move back across the frontier while attempting to elude South Vietnamese units in Cambodia.

In explaining the offensive, the communique said: "This operation is an indispensible and efficient measure to save the lives of the people and the lives of the soldiers of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam as well as the allied forces.

"The units participating in the operation have received orders to strictly respect the lives and properties of the people, if any, in the area of operation. These units have also received orders to return to the territory of the Republic of Vietnam right after the completion of the operation in the spirit of the respect of the independence, neutrality and the territory of neighboring Cambodia."

Earlier, South Vietnamese and U.S. forces tacitly agreed to a temporary cease-fire around the Dak Seang Special Forces camp. They halted offensive operations so the Viet Cong could release wounded South Vietnamese prisoners, but by nightfall, none had been set free, a military spokesman said.

of government. We are the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council, a part of the regional body and our purpose is to see that Marin is properly considered in any regional plans."

Board chairman John F. McInnis, quickly pointed out that local as well as a regional council would review any repuest for funds from a local agency.

"If Marin General Hospitla wishes to add an extension to its existing facility, and the regional body decides Hayward needs the expansion instead, then we're down the drain," McInnis added.

"If we approved the plan," McInnis continued, "we would be giving the council veto power over local programs. It frightens me."

At this point, Campanella told the board the local health council was not obliged to have it approved by the board of supervisros.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar said it didn't matter if the plan were approved or not by the supervisors. "What we have to do is change the laws in Washington," he added.

"I agree," McInnis replied, "we should work to change the laws, but in the interim I'm not going to vote approval because I would lose my right to go into the arensa in Sacramento and Washington adn fight for health programs Marin needs. . . I can't find a group of people in Sacramento or Washington that know what it's about. They are going outside normal government channels."

The supervisors voted, with McInnis abstaining, to direct the county administrator to draft a statement reflecting their views and return it with the health plan in two weeks for action.

bodian border, the United States government was fully consulted. The determination was made that the action is a necessary and effective measure to save American and other free world lives and to strengthen the Vietnamization program."

CALLS THE SHOTS

Thus, the Pentagon—speaking for the Nixon administration—cast the new development in terms of supporting the over-all objective of shifting the Vietnam war burden to the South Vietnamese and gradually withdrawing U.S. troops.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., long a critic of U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia, took a different view, calling the action a "great mistake" and a "major escalation" of the Indo-Chinese warfare.

If the reports are true, Fulbright told reporters, "it would be a great mistake, a great tragedy, directly contrary to what we have been led to believe."

Fullbright is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Noting that Secretary of State William P. Rogers indicated to the committee Monday that the administration had not reached a decision on Cambodian requests for massive military aid, Fulbright said, "It looks as if they weren't very candid."

Asked if it was conceivable Rogers didn't know a decision had been made, Fulbright replied, "Yes, it is concievable in our kind of government." He emphasized that "the impression when he was there was that no decision had been made."

"This would seem to indicate they are going for a military victory," the foreign relations chairman said, adding "I don't think the Senate will approve. I know the committee doesn't."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the South Vietnamese action "lays the groundwork for escalation of the war and could be the first step in spreading of the war."

"If it's a question of protection of our troops along the frontier, the answer is to pull them out and let South Vietnam take over protection of that area rather than get U.S. troops involved," Mansfield said.

He added: "Cambodia is a new ball game. If we become involved directly or indirectly, it becomes a general Indochina war."

Young Father Bound Over

Dean Allen Lampiris, 20, a Wisconsin resident who had recently been living in San Francisco, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a felony charge of abusing his infant son who died April 14 in a tent on Mount Tamalpais.

He is to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Also charged with abusing the 5-month-old child, who had bruises and scrapes on his body as well as seven broken ribs, is Lampiris's wife, Debra, 17, whose case is being heard in juvenile court.

The cause of deah is sill under investigation by the coroner's office.

The young couple, who had been living on welfare since coming to Californa, was camping in a tiny tent when the baby was found dead.

ley McAskill in the April 14 municipal election.

In the past the planning commission favored moratoriums on commercial construction until the downtown plan is completed, but the City Council passed an interim ordinance in April 1968 allowing commercial construction in the designated downtown area whenever the council granted a use premit.

The ban was recommended last night by Paul H. Sedway of the consulting firm to forestall any commercial development that might be incompatible with the ultimate zoning proposal.

He also urged the council to move immediately for a permanent reclassification of the areas.

Planning Director Brian Mattson told the council it would have to act last night if it hoped to change the zoning of the Diablo Avenue — South Novato Boulevard triangle area before the 1968 interim ordinances expires July 2. Since such a change requires a minimum of two months to complete, Mattson told the council to start the proceedings immediately if such a change was considered.

Haste is necessary only for this area. The Highway 37 interchange and San Marin East areas have not been included under an interim ordinance before so consideration of their rezoning is not urgent, Mattson said.

Sedway urged that the Highway 37 area be used for the shopping center if possible, but recommended that construction at all three sites be frozen until a decision is made one way or the other.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered John Eugene Fox, 19, of San Bruno to spend one year in the county jail. Fox earlier had admitted that he was the burglar who fired on Sausalito police Jan. 25 and then escaped their dragnet.

He received a nine-month sentence for the burglary and three additional months for assault on a police officer.

Police chased Fox after he had burglarized a residence on Santa Rosa and after firing at them, Fox escaped and was not arrested until Feb. 6 when he was traced to a restaurant in San Francisco avenue belinging tot his mother.

for utility equipment. Piping and wiring is then run to floors above and below, offering flexibility in placement of service areas such as X-ray rooms and laboratories.

Thus usage of space could be interchanged, by relocating utility connections as use required, Allen said. Current plans call for fixed utility connections on each floor, he added.

"I see no point in pursuing the present master plan any further," board member George E. Croke said. "This would give us more flexibility."

The board unanimously agreed that the architect should study the new approach and present figures prior to July 15.

BRIAN PERKINS
Near perfect management

Award For Management Of Route

A hard working, 14-year-old Independent-Journal newspaperboy is $250 richer today as a result of near perfect management of his route and high academic marks at Davidson School in San Rafael.

Brian Perkins is one of 21 young businessmen to be awarded a $250 scholarship from the California Newspaperboy Foundation. They were selected from a group of several hundred carriers.

Young Perkins, who was selected to represent the I-J, carried impressive credentials into the competition which compared entrants' business management and school grades.

According to the I-J circulation department, Brian has never received a customer complaint in his year and a half as a carrier. He has accumulated 15 straight achievement awards, which are based on the absence of complaints and the number of new customers signed each month. Perkins has acquired more than 100 new customers since joining the I-J carrier force. He also has close to a straight-A average in school.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Perkins of 23 Robinhood Drive, San Rafael, Brian's route covers the Glenwood Area of San Rafael. His district incorporates parts of Robinhood, Maplewood, Lockwood, Main and Surfwood drives, as well as Manzanita Avenue.

Young Perkins received a certificate today and upon entering a college will receive the scholarship.

Another Novel By Hemingway

NEW YORK (UPI)—A complete novel by Ernest Hemingway that includes autobiographical material will be published in September, the author's widow announced Tuesday.

In a news conference at the office of the publisher, Charles Scribner's Sons, Mrs. Mary Hemingway said the book, The Islands and The Stream, was written mostly in Cuba from 1947 to the middle 1950s.

The four-part novel describes the life of Thomas Hudson, American painter, including his life on Bimini Island in the mid-1930s, his involvement in secret antisubmarine activities in Cuba during World War II, and his mission hunting for survivors from a German submarine. Hemingway was involved in such activities during the war.

No Hospital Tax Levy For Next Year

he Marin Hospital District board last night voted not to levy an operational tax for fiscal 1970-71 on district property owners. (Another hospital board story, page 1)

The board flirted with the idea, before turning thumbs down, as a means of paying a $27,000 road improvement assessment along Bon Air Road.

Since the improvement will not begin until late summer of 1971, the board decided to wait on acquiring the funds.

Thus next year will be the first in 20 years of hospital operation that a taxes will not be levied. The current rate of .035 cents per $100 assessed valuation will be dropped in June when a bond issue it supported is fully paid.

The Marin Hospital District Board also:

BIDS — Learned the state health department had approved plans for remodeling the intensive care unit and the special procedure room and that the calls for bids have already been published.

LEASE — Approved unanimously a one-year lease for office space at 20 H Street, San Rafael, for out-patient children's services to the Community Mental Health Center.

GIFTS — Received monetary gifts totaling $24,718 from hospital volunteer groups for the purchase of needed hospital equipment.

Parks Set Fees On Extra Wheels

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Visitors to state campgrounds who bring motorcycles and dunebuggies along with their cars and camper trucks will have to pay an extra $1 camping fee from now on, the state Parks and Recreation Department announced Tuesday.

"Increasing use of recreational vehicles such as dunebuggies, motorcycles, trail bikes and four-wheel-drive vehicles" made the action necessary, the department said.

"This has increased the problems of enforcement and maintenance in state parks."

Under the new system, a camper at a class A campground using a second vehicle would pay the regular $3 fee plus an additional $1.

Beatle Talks Of Reunion To Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatle George Harrison says the four members of the musical group may get together again.

Paul McCartney has announced his intention to break away and perform separately. Harrison, here on a business trip, commented Tuesday:

"Everyone this year is trying to do his individual album, but after that I am ready to go back to work together again."

In Washington, the State Department said Beatle John Lennon and his wife, Yoko, also were in the United States for business discussions. The department said they opened with talks in Los Angeles and would be in New York May 7-16.

Minorities Rap KRON Coverage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — KRON-TV does not do enough to meet the needs of minority group members, according to testimony by a Chinese-American, a black man and two Mexican-Americans.

Speaking Tuesday at the license renewal hearing of the station, the witnesses conplained that KRON did not broadcast programs that would aid the people of their races.

Ling Chi-Wang, representing the Chinatown-North Beach District Council, criticized the station for not presenting lessons in English for non-English speaking Chinese.

Manuel Larez, spokesman for La Raza Junta, a Mexican-American organization, complained that "the 747 plane has been given more coverage in one month than Cesar Chavez has had in the five years of the grape strike."

But he said he favored retention of the license because KRON has agreed to present programs on Spanish culture.

Library Survey

Donald R. Hegstrom of the Consulting Organization will report on his survey of San Rafael public library needs at a public meeting of the San Rafael Library Board at 7:45 p.m. today in the children's room of the library, E Street at Mission Avenue.

Suspect Admits To Burglar Tools

Ronald Sharper, of no known address, has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing burglary tools and a second count of attempted burglary was dismissed.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set sentencing for June 15.

Sharper, who gave his name as Ray Byrd when arrested, was arrested March 26 in Sausalito when police saw him running out of an alleyway after a burglar alarm had gone off in a Sausalito pharmacy.

They said he dropped two metal bars when ordered to stop.

Two men also arrested on same charges were later released when there was insufficient evidence to tie them to the offenses.

Agnew Asks Ouster Of Brewster From Yale Job

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Blaming campus violence on faculties that fail to guide students, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has singled out Yale University and called for the replacement of its president.

Speaking at a $250-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner Tuesday night, Agnew declared:

"The true responsibility for these aberrations and the nurturing of arrogance and contempt for constitutional authority rests not with the young people on campuses, but with those who so miserably fail to guide them.

"I can well understand the attitude of the majority of the student body at Yale University when most of the Yale faculty voted to endorse a strike in support of members of an organization dedicated to criminal violence, anarchy and the destruction of the United States of America."

PANTHER PREFERENCE

This was a reference to the Black Panthers, eight of whose members face trial on murder and kidnaping charges in New Haven.

(At New Haven, there was no immediate comment from Brewster. However, today, a 1,500 student-signed petition was presented to Brewster supporting his statement on fair trial policies.)

"And," Agnew added, "when the president of that respected university describes the election of a president of the United States by the people of the United States as a 'huckster ized process' under which they could not expect much better 'whichever package was bought or sold,' it is clearly time for the alumni of that fine old college to demand that it be headed by a more mature and responsible person.

"President Kingman Brewster of Yale has also stated that he does not feel that black revolutionaries can get a fair trial within our judicial system.

NO FAIR IMPRESSION

"I do not feel that the students of Yale University can get a fair impression of their country under the tutelage of Kingman Brewster."

The vice president said American univerisities have become a spawning ground and sanctuary for revolution and rebellion. He proposed a nine-point program for handling what he called "the criminal left."

Agnew's proposals included:

—Establish a clear set of rues for campus conduct with immediate expulsion for serious violations.

—End open door enrollment policies for unqualified students.

—Eliminate amnesty for lawlessness or violence.

—Bar campus organizations which publicly declare intention to violate the rules of an academic community and then do so.

Agnew said campus radicals are the offspring of "affluent, permissive upper middle class parents who learned their Dr. Spock and threw discipline out the window—when they should have done the opposite.

"They are the children dropped off by their parents at Sunday school to hear the 'modern' gospel from a 'progressive' preacher more interested in fighting pollution than fighting evil—one of those pleasant clergymen who lifts his weekly sermons out of old newsletters from a National Council of Churches."

"To most academicians the traditional enemy has always been on the right," Agnew said.

"The sixties showed how pitifully unprepared the academic community was for an assault from its ideological rear."

Relic Mound Fence Fund Drive Set

The Dixie School District board last night authorized a fund drive for the construction of a fence to preserve the Indian mound found on Mill Creek School property, according to Supt. Clifford W. Campbell.

The action came after a report to the board by Charles Slaymaker, a master's degree candidate in anthropology at aSn Francisco State College, who has been escavating in the area since last summer.

He and his team of student archaeologists have unearthed artifacts from Coast Miwok Indians dating back to the time of Christ.

Donald Thieler, principal of Mary E. Silveira School, will head the fund raising drive to preserve the mound as an historical and archaeological site.

The Dixie School District board also:

CALENDAR—Amended its tentative 1970-71 school calendar to coincide with that of the San Rafael High School District. Classes will begin Sept. 8 and end June 10.

GUIDE — Authorized Campbell to distribute the "Guide for Youth and Parents" prepared by Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin.

MUSIC CAMP — Gave formal approval to a five-week summer program for 6th and 7th grade music students. The program will consist of four weeks of intensive instruction, followed by a one-week music camp at Camp CAzadero. It will be financed from state funds, with the execption of $40 the students must pay for room and board at the camp.

LIBRARIES — Agreed to open all district school libraries during summer school hours for use by all students in the community.

CONTRACTS — Authorized issuance of contracts for next year to the current teaching staff based on the current salary scheduled.

GRANT — Approved application to the federal government for $3,196 for library materials. $243 of the total is for private schools in the district.

GIFTS — Accepted $1,730 in miscellaneous gifts to Santa Margarita School, primarily from the Parent-Teacher Association.

BUDGET — Postponed presentation of the preliminary budget until the next meeting.

Thirty-five years ago Harrison F. Dunning answered a classified ad for a $25 a week job at Scott Paper Co. Today he is chairman of the board.

Modular Penngrove Classrooms Approved

Plans for the construction of modular classrooms and an administration center at Penngrove School were approved last night by the Petaluma Board of Education.

The modular component systems will replace classrooms lost when the older section of the school was abandoned because it failed to meet minimum earthquake standards.

Architect Macolm Reynolds said the buildings will have heating and air conditioning units mounted on the roofs as well as outside porches and ramps for easy access.

School supt. Lesly H. Meyer said the new classrooms will bring the school capacity from 370 to 500 students. He also recommened that two adjacent acres of land be purchased with remaining bond money to replace the playground that will be lost in the placement of the builidngs.

William N. Wurzburg, administrative assistant, recommended the modular buildings because they can be modified at any time to reflect changes in classroom size and curriculum.

Reynolds said the classroom adjacent to the administrative center could be easily used as a conference room.

The architect said three or four firms will be able to bid for the project, but could not estimate cost because of the changing market for modular buildings.

The Petaluma Board Of Education Also:

ECOLOGY — Heard a report from Alfred L. Walker, McKinley School principal on sixth grade field trips to Point Reyes National Seashore and Audobon Canyon Ranch, Zolinas, as the first phase of ecology and environment curriculum development for elementary students.

BUSES — Heard Meyer report on the possible use of school buses by the Petaluma Recreation Department. He said that if an agreement is reached, the city would pay 15 cents per mile as well as the driver's salary.

COLLEGE — Approved agreement with Sonoma State College for the juoint use of athletic facilities.

EMPLOYED — Hired as teachers to begin in September, Mark Klunk, at a salary of $8,135; Robert Lombardi, $7,764; Pamela Marks, 7,290; and Karen Vinti, $7,087.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of six teachers including Charles Bird and James Tutt, who accepted positions in other districts; Thomas Brazil and Thomas Jacobus, personal; Deboras tSewart, marriage; and Nancy Arneson, matrimony.

Man Is Critical From Pill Overdose

Julio Augusto Panduro,26,of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael, was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital as a result of an overdose of pills.

Panduro was taken to the hsopital by a friend in a taxicab yesterday at 7:42 a.m., according to police.

Even without the million or more foreign visitors expected for Expo '70, Osaka, Japan, would be crowded. Japan's second-largest city has 3,150,000 inhabitants and space is so valuable that land in parts of the city sells for nearly $600 a square yard.

Wild Session On 'Filth-In' At College

Distributions of allegedly obscene materials, a "filth-in" Monday, and disciplinary action against a 28-year-old student, led yesterday to an attempt at disrupting a meeting of the student government at the College of Marin.

Richard Stark, of 38 Park, Woodacre, who was put on probation Monday for violating college procedures on the distribution of literature on campus, was carried into the meeting gagged and bound to a chair, according to James Detro, student body president.

He and several supporters wore Indian war paint on their faces and attempted to disrupt the executive council meeting with Yippie style tactics, Detro said.

Detro said the group carried toy and squirt guns, shouted profanities and engaged in "absurd" activities in an attempt to create a free speech issue on the campus.

The group — said by Detro to represent almost no one on campus — demanded that the executive council support Stark in fighting the disciplinary action. The council eventually called an all-student vote for next Wednesday to determine student opinion on Stark's case.

Stark was put on probation by Irwin Diamond, dean of students at the school, for failing to get approval to distribute material on campus.

It is not a question of free speech or censorship, Diamond said. He said the college has a procedure to insure that materials are distributed only by students on the campus. Stark did not follow the procedure, Diamond said.

Stark has until 5 p.m. today to file an appeal of his probation, Diamond said.

Water-Filled Barriers Win Support

San Anselmo city councilmen last night indicated a perference for water-filled safety barriers as a way of protecting Isabel Cook School students who use the busy Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sonoma Avenue intersection.

The council voted 4-0 James F. Reed was absent- in favor of the water bumper barriers and then referred the plan to the San Anselmo School District board for study.

The council has been studing ways to improve the traffic flow at the intersection for several weeks and at the same time has been trying to find a way to protect the school's students who are forced to wait on the intersection's northwest corner.

The council last night also considered a five-foot high earth barrier, concrete barrier and a tapered metal railing, but discarded them.

The water barrier, f approved by the school district, would be located between the traffic lanes and the corner so that any car out of control at the busy intersectioncould not hit the children.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell told the council the water barrier, which operates much like the water bumper on cars, would cost about $3,000. The council indicated it would seek to split the cost of the barrier and necessary landscaping with the school district.

The San Anselmo City Council last night also.

BIKES — Referred to staff for study a request from second graders at Isabel Cook School for a bicycle path along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

DEMOLITION — Held off awarding a bid for demolition of a house at 16 Ramon Way for at least amonth. Golden West Savings and Loan Association; the new owner of the property, indicated last night it would try to bring the home up to city building standards within 30 days.

COTTAGE — Granted permssion to Ramon H. Castagnino, of 71 Elm Avenue, to continue renting out a second housing unit on her property. The second unit is nonconforming since her home is located in an single-family residetial area. The council stipulated that the second unit could not be inhabitated by more than two persons.

YOUTH COMMISSION — Referred tentative by-laws for the city's newly formed youth commission to the city Park and Recreation Commission.

APPEAL — Upheld a planning commission decision to deny permission to Dr. Robert Beeman, of 112 Jordan Avenue, to build a third story on his home.

SIDEWALK SALE — Approved a one-day sidewalk sale by downtown merchants for June 5. The merchants had previously sought a two-day sale, June 5-6, but changed their minds and requested only one day. They will be allowed to display their merchandise on the sidewalk for the one day.

MEETING — Authorized the city to pay the $40 registration fee for any city councilman wishing to attend the annual Councilman's Institute sponsored by the League of California May 21-22.

SIGNS — Approved free-standing signs for Senior Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant on San Anselmo Avenue and the Chapel of the Hills Mortuary on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Guilty Plea To Armed Robbery

John Charles Batts, 18, of San Rafael, has pleaded guilty to a charge of armer robbery just before he was set to go to trial in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set sentencing for June 8.

Batts confessed to being the person who held up an employee of the Minto and Son service Station at 805 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo on Feb. 11 and escaped with $150.

Rec Panel Slates Special Meeting

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall to discuss plans for passing the recreation center bond issue on the June ballot to the public.

Andrew J. Snyder, director of parks and recreation, said persons interested in working for the passage of the bond issue, should attend the meeting.

Sound Of Music Rocks Neighbors

Ronald DeMasi calls it music.

Dolores J. Sill, a neighbor, says it sounds "like a pack of wolves howling."

DeMasi says he only practices during the day.

A petition signed by 21 San Anselmo residents says whatever it is — music wolves howling — it goes on night and day and keeps everyone in the neighborhood awake.

And they want it stopped.

DeMasi, as it turns out, is a long-haired leader of a San Anselmo rock band who lives at 1 Roger Avenue and uses his home as a rehearsal hall for the entire band several times a week.

"It's my profession," he told the San Anselmo City Council last night. "My practicing is just like a businessman who brings home work from the office."

The 21 signers of the petition, however, questioned the practice of DeMasi doing his "homework" at 2 a.m. in the morning. Or, for that matter, 2 p.m. in the afternoon.

"It's horrible," said one protester. "If that's his profession, he must starve to death."

The council, which noted it is studying an ordinance on noise pollution, ordered DeMasi to appear before the city planning commission to seek a use permit to allow him to continue practicing his "profession" at home since the residential zoning prohibits commercial use of the property.

Innocent Plea To Heroin Count

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Michael R. James, 28, Marin's former New Careers program coordinator, has pleaded innocent in Superior Court to a charge of possession of heroin.

Trial was set for next Tuesday at 9 a.m. in Department 22.

James was arrested Dec. 8 in the Fillmore District of San Francisco with several small balloons in his possession containing heroin, police said.

Berkeley Rent Arbitration Tried

BERKELEY (AP) — The Berkeley City Council voted 8-1 Tuesday night to ask an arbiter ao decide rent strike disputes.

The National Center for Dispute Settlement of the American Arbitration Association could decide the disputes if both sides agree in advance to accept the decision.

The Berkeley Tenants Union has already refused such arbitration, however.

Some Berkeley tenants have withheld paying rent the past three months in protest of what they say are high rents and inadequate repairs.

Credit Card Forger Is Granted Probation

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court has placed Ronald Gregory Wiggings, 23, of San Mateo, on two years' probation and gave him a six months' jail sentence with credit for the time he had served.

Wiggins had earlier admitted forging someone else's signature to a credit card on Sept. 15, 1969.

Reed School Critic Appointed To Citizens Tax Panel Vacancy

Reed School District trustees, in a spirit of harmony, last night appointed Mervin D. Field, a board critic, to head the citizens tax election committee.

Field of 45 Bay View Avenue, Belvedere, will succeed board chairman Leo Souza, who resigned as commiteee boss, saying he felt he shouldn't serve both on the board and the committee.

Field, a member of the Save Reed Schools Committee, which has clashed with the board, said although there has been controversy, there now are signs that various factions in the district are beginning to come together

The district is seeking voter approval June 2 of a measure to increase the operating tax rate 60cents from $2.25 to $2.85 per $100 assessed valuation. The present total tax ratee is $3.735.

Trustees told Field that they support the tax hike after he stressed that unanimous board support would be a boon to the tax hike campaign.

Field also asked the board to indicate that it wouldn't levy the full 60 cents in the first year, 1070-71. Trustees explained they had already planned to consider a budget that would use only 35 cents of the boost, if the measure is passed.

During the first two hours of the sessions, trustees and residents discussed procedures for recruiting and screening applicants to ucceed Supt. Robert B. Caw, who leaves July 1.

Souza reported the three jrincipals in the distcirt, Edward Mosconi, Robert D. Cowan and John C. Fitch, weren't interested in serving as interim superintendent.

Trustees Kenneth G. Wells and Thomas S. Price were appointed to draft a recruting brochure,, to be presented to the board Tuesday and mailed out in mid-May, with the deadline for applications mid-June.

Price suggested that the screening committee have its criteria for the job ready by mid-June.

If the initial search fails, the district could get someone from the Marin County Schools Office to serve as interim superintendent, commented Wells.

At the close of the open session, trustees went into closed meeting to discuss diring two principals, one for the Reedland Woods School to open this fall and the other to succeed James I. Justeson, Granada School principal, who has resigned.

T8he meeting was adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bel Aire School.

Motorcycle Suspect Address Is Denied

William Combi of 21 Resaca Avenue, Forest Knolls, has reported that Robert Forgrieve Berner, who was arrested April 16 on suspicion of grand theft and burglary in the January theft of a motorcycle, does not reside at that address.

Berner gave the Resaca Avenue address to arresting California Highway Patrol officers.

Anti-Ferryboat Commuters To Seek Recruits

The Golden Gate Commuters Association, formed to oppose transit plans by the Golden Gate Bridge District, will conduct a membership drive from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at three Marin shopping centers.

Association members will man tables in the malls at the Northgate and Corte Madera centers, and outside Safeway at the Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center.

The drive also will boost the association's meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Marin Civic Center.

The association has declared its "total opposition" to the district's purchase of a ferryboat to serve Sausalito, saying the purchase "illustrated the total lack of concern for the taxpaying public and the determination of the bridge board to do things their way without considering what the people feel."

The district should submit its transit plans to a vote of the people before acting, the association declared.

CHARGE IN BERKELEY—After being showered by rocks during an anti-ROTC demonstration at the University of California campus, police charge the crowd and push them back. Several persons were injured and some arrests made during yesterday's uproar. (AP Telephoto)

The Peace Brigade's Stormy Baptism

BERKELEY (AP) — A new group of antiwar protesters had limited success in its first attempt to head off the sort of violence which has repeatedly racked the University of California campus.

About 40 young people, calling themselves the Peace Brigade, at one point Tuesday stood between about 1,000 demonstrators and a line of police.

The police were guarding Calalghan Hall, the Naval ROTC headquarters and site of repeated violent confrontations including a three-day splurge of window and furniture smashing vandalism by demonstrators that began April 15.

The violence-prone throng, however, brushed past the Peace Brigade and bombarded police with rocks, bricks and dirt clods and cherry bombs.

Police responded with tear gas at one point, plus several charges at the mob.

Twenty-three persons — including seven C students — were arrested.

The peaceful demonstrators handed out bread, flashed the V peace sign and chanted: "No rocks, no rocks, no combat."

Demonstrators at one point produced a giant slingshot made of several strips of elastic surgical tubing attached to a leather center pocket.

While two or three demonstrators held the tubing, two others filled the pocket with stones and half brick, stretched it back, and released the barrage in the direction of the police.

But they missed their mark when the stones sailed more than 150 feet over the police at Sather Gate and hit in the vicinity of the peaceful demonstrators.

The device was not used again.

Charges against those arrested included assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer and failure to disperse.

Several nonstudents were arrested for being on the campus.

Recent emergency rules place the campus off-limits to anyone except faculty, administration or student - body members or those having special business there.

A California Highway Patrolman, a newsman, and a young girl were injured by flying rocks.

Bagley's Bay Drilling Ban Bill Extended

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to ban oil and gas drilling throughout San Francisco Bay was introduced yesterday by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley previously introduced a bill banning drilling in all state-owned tide or submerged lands off coastal counties, which in the case of Marin automatically also included state-owned tidelands in the west side of the bay.

Under his new amendment, however, the ban would apply to all bay waters west of the Carquinez Bridge. Drilling leases already have been let by the State Lands Commission east of the bridge, Bagley's staff noted, thus a ban there probably would impinge in oil companies' legal rights.

A second amendment to the bill (AB 684) would allow the Legislature to consider lifting the ban after five years, but only if new, safe oil drilling techniques were discovered. These techniques would have to be aesthetically and environmentally acceptable to the Legislature to be approved.

Bagley's bill previously clearer the natural resources and conservation committee, and is pending before the ways and means committee. A similar bill by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, was defeated two weeks ago in an upper house committee, but Nejedly is trying to revive it.

Behr Coffee

A coffee for Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, candidate for the Republican nomination for state Senate, scheduled yesterday at the Terra Linda home of Dr. William T. Foulette, 748 Beechnut Court, has been postponed to 8 p.m. on May 6.

FATHER'S DAY NEXT?

Bagley Satirizes Tax Exemption Proposals

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — God-fearing, flag-waving and mother-loving legislation has been authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley initially proposed to exempt from sales taxation white canes for the blind, but in a sort of amendment-of-the-week parade has been tacking on exemptions for other deserving causes.

Last month, he tacked on an amendment exempting the U.S. flag, then earlier this month added one for bibles.

Yesterday, wiping away a mirthful tear, Bagley introduced an amendment exempting Mother's Day cards from sales taxes. And Father's Day cards will come next week, his staff predicted.

The bill (AB 347) really is not meant to go out of Bagley's revenue ann taxation committee, his staff concened, but rather was a ploy to show th absurdity of bills by other legislators to grant special exemptions. Granting eemptions just to favor deserving causes sounds fine until the eroding effect on the tax bas is figured, they noted.

For example, exemption of bibles from the sales tax would iost the state about $3 million a year in tax revenue.

White canes, which last an average of four years, according to a state study, bring in only about $500 a year in sales tax revenue.

The flag brings in about $10,000 a year. No estimate was available for Mother's Day cards.

Asked if the bible exemption would extend to the Koran, Bagley's staff said, "That's an administrative problem."

The flag exemption would extend only to the U.S. flag, not to the state nor any other flag. This amendment was inspired by another legislator's bill a few years ago to give each taxpayer a $10 credit on his income tax for purchase of a U.S. flag. Tax experts figured at the time that it would have been cheaper for the state to buy a flag for every person in California.

Bagley's staff said that his bill already had attracted the ire of the California Association for the Blind, which objected that the blind want to be participating members of society, and did not need this kind of special tax treatment.

One-fifth of such tax revenue loses, the staff noted, would be deducted from revenue for local government, revenue that probably would have to be replaced with property tax revenue.

Flag As Shirt Leads To Arrest

Kenneth B. Stone of 362 Cascade Road, Fairfax, was free on $350 bail today after being arrested about 1:30 a.m. for wearing a shirt made out of a United States flag.

Ross police said Stone, 22, was a passenger in a car stopped for having a rear light out. Patrolman Walter Fischer noticed Stone's shirt and asked if it were a flag. Stone said it was, and was booked at Marin County Jail under a state law which prohibits mutiliating or defling the falg.

He is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Friday.

Federal Base Pollution Hit In Assembly

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A plea urging President Nixon to direct federal officials to stop water pollution from military installations, including one in Marin, has been introduced by the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality.

The Mill Valley Air Force State Station atop Mount Tamalpais was among eight Bay Area installations cited in the joint resolution. Others were at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, Concord Naval Weapons Station, Skaggs island, Yerba Buena Island, Alameda Naval Air Station, Oakland Army Base and Hunters Point Shipyard.

Also cited were sewage and oil wastes from naval vessels, and 17 installations elsewhere in California.

Noting that all were in violation of the state's water qquality standards, the resolution urges the federal government to "show leadership in the maintenance of a qquality environment for California by not polluting the state's waters."

The resolution also asks that responsible federal officials advise the Legislature "of the date on which each federal installation will meet California regulations on water quality."

PROTEST TAKES TO TREES

KOBSEFF LEARNS

Mountains Covered By Tin Cans

I-J Special Report

McCLOUD, Siskiyou County—Nick Kobseff, former postmaster, fier chief and "honorary mayor" of Nicasio, got a can tied to him in his initial venture into public service here — 120,000 cans, in fact.

Kobseff, former Rancho Nicasio proprietor who now operates the McCloud River Lodge, got into the act by announcing he would pay one cent for every discarded tin can picked up from along streets and highways and delivered to the lodge. The collection was to be made last Friday and Saturday.

John Gould, another McCloud businessman, agreed to buy one can for each one Kobseff bought. The word got around among the youngsters that every tin can would be worth two cents.

On Friday, the deluge began.

By the time the weekend was over, there were 120,000 cans piled on Kobseff's parking lot. One teen-ager arrived with 18,000.

Kobseff and Gould issued receipts for the cans, many of which were burned, rusty or otherwise bore indication they had been dug out of rubbish piles rather than picked up along the roads. They said today they may switch the rules a little to give a big party for all the youngsters, rather than paying off with 120,000 pennies.

Cities Favor New Annexation Law

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Wholesale city annexation of unincorporated territory in Marin and Sonoma would be possible under new legislation being pushed hard by the League of California Cities.

The bill, AB 2400 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, also could affect the fight by the cities of Mill Valley and Tiburon to annex the tax-rich Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center. Any annexations pending on Jan. 1, 1971, would be conducted under the bill's provisions if it became law.

Current law reserves the power to initiate annexation to residents and property owners in an area to be annexed, and puts the burden of petitions and other procedures on the proponents of an annexation. Knox's bill would reverse this, empowering cities to initiate annexations and putting on opponents the burden of acting to stop the annexation.

Under the Knox bill, for example, San Rafael could annex all of Terra Linda without a vote of Terra Linda residents. The city council would pass a resolution proposing to annex Terra Linda, then the proposal would go to the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

The commission could approve or reject the annexation, but if the commission approved it, the city council then would schedule a hearing to hear protests against the annexation.

But unless protests were filed by at least half of the registered voters within the affected area — and by at least half of the property owners in the affected area owning more than 50 per cent of the area's assessed value — the city could proceed to annex the territory.

In the case of uninhabited territory, only the provision for property owners as above would be needed to stop annexation.

The League of California Cities has worked unsuccessfully for several years for major revision of the state's annexation law, and reportedly is trying for a breakthrough this year.

League officials have been meeting with officials of the County Supervisors Association of California to get the association's support, or at least its agreement not to oppose the bill.

Private utilities traditionally oppose legislation to make it easier for cities to annex new territory. In some areas of the state, cities operating their own utility systems have been competing with private utilities by annexing new customers.

Tax Rate Hike For Flood Zone

The San Rafael Meadows Flood Control Zone will raise its tax rate from the present 20.5 cents to 27 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the 1970-71 fiscal year.

The zone advisory board, headed by James R. Blum, met at the Civic Center last night to set the new tax rate and approve a budget of $20,000 for next fiscal year. This year's total budget is $18,850.

The 27-cent tax rate will raise about $5,700. A carryover of $13,700 will bring the total available funds next year to just under $20,000.

The flood control zone's main project for the new fiscal year will be to begin designs for widening and stabilizing an unnamed ditch that runs from Corrillo Drive to Merrydale Road, between Mirada and El Prado avenues .

Minor Injuries In 101 Crash

A 42-year-old San Rafael woman and her daughter received minor injuries in a two-car accident on Highway 101 yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers said a car driven by Patricia K. Schields, of 486 Blackstone Drive, was stopped in heavy traffic on the northbound freeway near Paradise Drive in Corte Madera at 4:30 p.m. when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Manuel Orta, of 1563 Linden Lane, San Rafael.

Mrs. Shields and her daughter, Kathleen, 13, were treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in San Rafael for cuts and scrapes.

Killer Appeals For Bridge Seat

VACAVILLE (UPI) — Dr. Geze de Kaplany, who went to jail for the 1962 acid-slaying of his wife, Tuesday asked the State Court of Appeal to give him back his chair on the bridge club at Vacaville State Prison.

De Kaplany made the appeal from a Solano County superior court that ruled the courts could not dictate such a policy for prisons .

The anesthesiologist was dropped from the bridge club in 1965 because of a rule that "special interest" prisoners such as himself cannot have contact with the public.

The bridge club at the facility regularly plays teams from the community.

Probation Given On Defraud Charge

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior court has placed Juanita Lorraine Litteral, 18, of San Rafael, on probation for two years and ordered her to spend 90 days in jail with credit for time already served.

Miss Litteral had earlier admitted possessing a check with intent to defraud another person on April 17, 1969. She had first been charged with forging an endorsement on a check stolen by a former mailman.

Legal Warning Roadblocks Marin 'Hair' Production

A musical revue of "Hair" by Marin County high school students has been canceled because of a threat of legal action, according to Mark Litchfield, organizer of the student performance.

Attorney Sodney F. Weinberg, representing the producer of the play, phoned from New York last week to warn of legal action if Litchfield, a 19-year-old San Rafail High School graduate, continued with preparations to put on the show, gave the show anymorepublicity or actually put the show on.

He then wrote a letter, Litchfield said, demanding that the youth sign a document within one week of receipt obligating him to pay $5,000 damages if he didn't stop the production.

Litchfield placed an article in the Independent-Journay March 23 announcing auditions for his show and got 300 responses. A total of 50 high school students were involved in production preparations, he said.

Record Budget For Los Angeles?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A record $2.1 billion preliminary budget, representing the highest increase in the property tax rate in county history, has been submitted to the goard of supervisors.

Lindon S. Hollinger, chief county administrative officer, blamed the increase on rising costs in law enforcement and the upswing in the welfare case load.

The new budget called for a 94 per cent boost per $100 assessed valuation in the current tax rate of $2.9057 with a rise of 25 per cent in overall county spending to $365.8 million.

Today is Wednesday, April 29, the 119th day of 1970 with 246 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1878 Boston newspapers ran the ad, "Telephone, $3.00, guaranteed to work one mile. Five miles, $5.00."

In 1931 President Herbert Hoover received King Prajadhipok of Siam. He was the first absolute monarch to visit the U.S.

In 1945 U.S. troops liberated 32,000 prisoners at Dachau concentration camp.

In 1964 Princess Irene, of the Netherlands, married Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma in Rome.

A thought for the day: Scottish poet James Barry said, "We never understand how little we need in this world until we know the loss of it."

Bard Membership Festival Launched

A membership drive for the Marin Shakespeare Festival's 10th season is now under way, according to John Brebner, executive director of the festival.

The season will open in mid-July with productions of "The Tempest," "Taming of the Shrew" and "Henry V." Performances will be held Thursdays through Sundays at Forest Meadows theater, San Rafael.

360 Cubic Yards

The Novato Disposal Service picked up 720 cubic yards, not 360 cubic yards of debris Saturday in the first day of Novato's spring cleanup campaign as reported by the service Monday.

Top-Flight Player Must Have The Courage Of His Convictions

If you want to play top-flight bridge it isn't enough to know the game. You must also know your opponents, and you must have the courage of your convictions. The higher you climb the harder you fall, but you can't get to the top without climbing.

IN DUMMY

New York tournament star Ira Rubin took the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and led a trump to the ace. If East had followed suit, only the king and jack of spades would be out. Rubin would then consider taking the three top clubs in the hope of dropping the jack. This would permit declarer to lead the ten of clubs next and discard a loser while West ruffed with a trump honor.

Actually, East discarded a heart on the first spade. Since West still had the seven of spades as well as the king and jack, South couldn't gain by taking three top clubs. Declarer had to get all four club tricks and therefore had to find four clubs in the West hand.

AT CROSSROADS

Rubin cashed the queen and ace of clubs and then led a low club. West followed with the seven, and declarer was at the crossroads. A finesse would bring the contract in if West still had the jack of clubs. South would go down two instead of just one if East had the jack of clubs.

Would East have opened two hearts with two clubs and no spades, and therefore 11 red cards? Few experts would open a "weak two" bid with such freakish distribution, but Rubin knew his customer in the East seat.

ATTEMPTS FINESSE

Rubin therefore tried a finesse with the ten of clubs. When this held, he cashed the king of clubs to discard a diamond. Now he could safely give up two spades and eventually a heart, making his doubled contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

S— 5 3
H— A 9 8 4
D— K 3 2
C— K 10 8 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, intending to show the heart support at your next turn.

Your hand is too strong for an immediate raise to two hearts, but not strong enough for a jump to three hearts.

Proposed Bond Issue On Tap

The Marin Hospital District will hold a public hearing tonight on the proposed $10 million bond issue for expansion of facilities at Marin General Hospital.

Meeting at the hospital's Coral Room at 7 o'clock, the board will also hear staff and volunteer reports.

The bond issue, if approved, would provide funds for an additional 100 beds, and other facilities called for in the district's master plan.

Synanon To Face County Checkup

Marin County supervisors want to know if Synanon Foundation at Marshall is complying with all county rgulations on health, density of population and proper education of children.

On a suggestion by Louis H. Baar, the supervisors yesterday asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and Acting County Planner Werner Von Gundell to see if county requirements are being met on the 62-acre Synanon property.

Baar said some citizens in West Marin are concerned about reports of "communal living" in apartments called caves, with children living apart by themselves and cared for by everyone.

Von Gundell reported that the only recent disagreement with Synanon has been on a large metal warehouse building, which was modified after a design review approval by the planning staff. An area about 10,000 square feet, which was to be landscaped, has been blacktopped, reported Von Gundell.

In 1965, the county granted Synanon a use permit for use of 42 acres by 200 persons. In 1966 the county zoning administrator extended the use permit for an additional 21 acres.

Supervisors asked Von Gundell and Maloney to see if the use permit puts a ceiling on the ponulation and to check on the education of children and compliance with all building and landscaping requirements.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas suggested that the education of children be investigated. "I'm opposed to the whole thing out there," said Mrs. Frederick.

Transit Study Hit At Land Development

General plans adopted in various communities in Marin call for too much land development and too few transportation facilities, according to the county's balanced transportation study phase one.

Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning, and transportation planner H. Rune Carlson reported their findings to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

County supervisors set a meeting of the Marin County Transit District for 8 p.m. May 20 at the Civic Center to discuss details of thet study. The date is tenative.

Solnit and Carlson said they took the county's 31 general plans and meshed them into one coordinated countywide plan. On the basis of these plans, Marin's population will be 609,000 in 50 years.

This would require 12 to 15 lanes along Highway 101 and at least a second deck for autos on the Golden Gate Bridge.

In order to balance highways and land development, a mass transit system would be needed to attract 60 per cent of all travelers to San Francisco and 11 per cent of all travelers within Marin County. Such a mass transit system would probably be either a rail system with feed er buses or a rapid-bus spstem operating on exclusive rights-of-way, the planners reported.

Among other findings of the study are these:

Trips to Sonoma County and North Bay locations will surpass those to San Francisco at some point before the year 2020.

Marin will have more home-to-work travel within the county than at present.

Both the optimum bus system devised by the Marin County Transit District and ferryboat system will be only short range measures to relieve existing highway jams.

A certain level of congestion may have to be "planned into" the future highway system to (1) induce travelers out of cars and onto an improved transit system and (2) reduce highway construction to preserve Marin's enviroment.

Carlson explained that the phase one study matched the 31 local plans with the existing highway system to show the extent of deficiencies. Phase two present alternatives to the local plans so that land development and transportation facilities will balance.

Supervisors Delay On Hamilton Policy

Marin County supervisors declared yesterday they are not yet ready to choose between a limited use of the Hamilton Air Force Base runway for civilian planes and full-scale civilian use on a separate runway. (Another supervisors story, page 6.)

Supervisors declared they would continue to sound out Washington on various possibilities for joint civilian-military use of Hamilton Field without trending toward either one of the other of two plans thrashed out by the Marin Aviation Commission.

On a motion by Louis H. Baar, the supervisors asked the Bay Area Study of Aviation Resources, working under the Association of Bay Area Governments, to include within its study the joint use of Hamilton Field facilities.

Ray W. Foreaker Jr., chairman of the aviation commission, recommended a limited use of the military runway. Under this plan, only scheduled air carriers would use the military runway. A civilian terminal would be built near the military runway, with taxiway connections. Access would be northward to Bel Marin Keys Boulevard. Foreaker estimated this plan would cost $3.5 million.

Another plan, pushed by former aviation commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind, calls for a 5,000-foot separate civilian runway to be built about a mile east of the Hamilton runway, with air terminals and other facilities. Cost estimate on this plan was roughly $11.5 million, including cost of buying 650 acres east of Hamilton Field.

Ostlind said the limited plan would be short-sighted and impractical. He warned that unless land is purchased now, limited civilian use of the military facilities would quickly raise prices on adjacent land, and future expansion would be difficult.

Foreaker and fellow commissioners Richard P. Nave and Herbert M. Hanson replied that the limited plan recommended by the aviation commission provides a foot in the door to joint use, and can be expanded ultimately to the Ostlind plan.

Both the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Novato Chamber of Commerce asked supervisors to hold up a decision until more study.

Look Co-Author Tells Of Rumor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A co-author of the Look magazine article which touched off a $12.5 million libel suit has testified he heard "rumors" Mayor Joseph Alioto had Mafia connections from law enforcement officers.

Lance Brisson, article co-author and son of actress Rosalind Russell and producer Fred Brisson, said Tuesday he heard the rumors and allegations" in 1968.

Brisson added, however, he could not remember names of any officers.

Alioto's attorney Maxwell Blecher asked whether an officer had told him of the allegation in the article that two alleged Mafia members, Jimmy Fratianno and Angelo Morino, met with Alioto in his office Nov. 5, 1964, Brisson replied: "Not in these words. It was a conclusion based on facts."

Brisson expressed belief Alioto had a number of meetings with Fratianno and that bank loans were one of the subjects discussed.

Surgery, Blood Call For Lygren

Philip B. Lygren, Ross town engineer, was to undergo open heart surgery today at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco.

Marin County Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. announced yesterday that he received a call from Mayor Frederick S. Allen of Ross, asking for blood donations for Lygren.

He will need about 50 pints for the surgery, said Mayor Allen. The donations can be made to the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Rafael in Lygren's name.

Lygren has been the victim of several heart attacks.

Transit Fund Agreement Is Requested

Marin County supervisors, on notice that the county will have to provide deficit financing of any intracounty bus transportation, called for a close look at the cost before leaping.

The supervisors called for a precise agreement with the Golden Gate Bridge District which will operate intercounty bus service. They asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to work with the district staff on an agreement that would spell out the county's obligation for any operation within Marin limits and that would give the county some control of that portion of the district's operation.

Supervisor Michael Wornum presented a resolution calling for payment by Marin of about $123,000 for intracounty bus service, with a greater share to be paid if the intracounty deficit proves to be larger.

The total contribution by Marin shall not exceed the amount to be raised by a 5-cent tax for the first fiscal year. This would total about $260,000.

The last paragraph in the resolution provides that "in the event the tax rate is insufficient, Marin County and/or the Marin County Transit District will make additional contribution out of its reserve fund."

Supervisor Louis H. Baar balked at this last paragraph. He said the Golden Gate Bridge District would then have unlimited authority to charge Marin for intracounty service.

Chairman John F. McInnis agreed that Marin should have some control over the operation of the intracounty service so that the county's obligation can be limited.

During the Civil War people were so leery of paper money they hoarded so many coins almost all of them were taken out of circulation.

ROLLING THE dough for diples, for the Grecian Holiday picnic Sunday at Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax are, from left, Mmes. Angelo Loizos, James Contos and Stella Mamalakis. Mrs. Mamalakis is president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Philoptochos Society, who will sell the pastries in booths at the picnic.

LAYERING THE fillo pastry for baklava is Mrs. Gus Stathis, left, as Mmes. John Papadopoulos, Isidore Natsios and Chris Christo spread a nut mixture over the fillo.

Greek Pastries Prepared For Picnic

Dancing, music, games, food and pastries will be featured Sunday when the Greek community presents a Grecian Holiday at Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax beginning at noon.

The public picnic will benefit the newly-organized Greek Orthodox Church of Marin County, which holds services at the Montgomery Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The Trio Orfeo will play throughout the day, and the Balkan Dancers will demonstrate Greek dances and give lessons to those wishing to join the dance lines.

Serving the traditional Greek luncheon, prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Philoptochos Society will begin at noon. Auxiliary members will also operate booths selling gift items, including very old icons, arts and crafts, and homemade pastries — baklava, diples, kourambiethies, koulouria and melomakarona. There will also be games for children.

Chairman is C.W. Kosturos, and Van Athanasakos is co-chairman. Committee members include Mr. and Mrs. Thano Johnson, Mrs. Gus Stathis, Mrs. Charles Banks, Peter Tsigelatos, John Papadopoulos, Chris Christo and John Mamalakis.

Tickets for admission and food are available from the Greek Orthodox Church of Marin, Spiro's Red Vest in Novato and Taverna Yiasou in San Rafael. Reservations chairmen are Peter Patrakis and William Poulopoulos, both of Mill Valley, and C.W. Kosturos of Ignacio. Tickets will be available at the gate for those bringing their own lunch.

Baking for the picnic was done recently at the home of Mrs. Charles Banks by members of the ladies' auxiliary. Some of the recipes are:

BAKLAVA
By Mrs. Gus Stathis of Terra Linda

1 lb. fillo pastry
1 lb. sweet butter (melted)
nut mixture — 6 cups chopped walnuts (or 3 cups walnuts mixed with 3 cups blanched chopped almonds)
Stir in 3 tablespoons sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
syrup — 3½ cups granulated sugar
2 cups water
½ cup honey
juice of 1 or 1½ lemons plus a small slice of lemon
1 stick cinnamon

Make syrup early in day or night before so it has time to cool. Combine sugar with water and bring to boil, add honey, lemon juice and slice a cinnamon stick. Simmer gently over moderate heat for about 10 to 15 minutes. Set aside to cool.

Brush bottom and sides of a 10 x 16 x 2 inch pan with melted butter. Lay in one layer of fillo pastry and brush with melted butter. Continue layering until you have six buttered layers. Then spread some of the nut mixture evenly over fillo. Continue with fillo, melted butter and nut mixture until the nut mixture is used, making sure to save 8 fillo layers for top. Add remaining fillo layers, brushing each with melted butter. Brush top well. Using sharp knife cut 2 inch strips the length of pan then 2 inch diagonally across to form diamond shape.

Bake about 1 hour in preheated 325 degree oven or until a golden brown. Take out and immediately spoon cold syrup over top using all syrup. Let set until cool so syrup will penetrate thoroughly. Makes 60 pieces.

DIPLES
By Mrs. Thano Johnson of Lucas Valley

4 whole eggs
8 egg yolks
2 tablespoons oil
Juice of 2 large or 3 medium oranges
2 teaspoon baking powder
5 cups flour
½ gallon oil for frying

SYRUP:
2 cups honey
½ cup water
Cinnamon stick

TOPPING:
½ cup ground walnuts mixed with 2 tablespoons sugar and
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Prepare above dough at least three hours ahead of time (prepare night before if you plan to start early in morning). Beat eggs and egg yolks until thick and frothy. Add other ingredients and as much flour as is needed to form soft manageable dough—consistency of playdough. Cover with damp cloth and let set for desired amount of time.

Divide dough into 6 equal parts. Roll out one part at a time on floured board to paper thinness or at least ⅛ of an inch. A long rolling stick the diameter of a broom handle is ideal for this. Keep remaining dough covered with damp cloth until ready to use. Cut with pastry cutter or knife into strips about 8 inches long and 2 inches wide. Form into rosettes, bows, etc., or leave strip as is and drop into hot deep oil (365 degrees to 375) one piece at a time. Using two forks (a two-pronged long cooking fork is ideal as one) turn dough over in hot fat immediately and roll quickly, jelly-roll fashion before it becomes crisp and cannot be rolled easily. A good criteria is to turn it as soon as it bubbles and roll other side immediately. You can be sure the inside is cooked this way.

Fry until very delicately brown—more on the light side. Remove from fat immediately and drain in collander or on paper towels. At this point the diples can be stored in an air-tight container indefinitely or until ready to serve. When ready to serve:

Dilute honey with water and heat with cinnamon stick. Do not boil. Diples may either be dipped in honey and drained in collander over bowl to catch syrup or the honey may be dribbled over layers of diples arranged in platter. Sprinkle on top with nuts and serve. They are best eaten by hand as of course a fork would break them apart.

KOURAMBIETHES
By Mrs. John Papadopoulos of Greenbrae

1 lb. sweet butter
½ cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup chopped almonds (blanched and lightly browned)
1 teaspoon cognac or brandy (optional)
5 cups flour, sifted before measuring
Whole cloves
1 lb. powdered sugar for dipping.

Melt butter, then refrigerate until of soft consistency. Put in electric mixer and beat well for about half an hour. Add ½ cup powdered sugar and beat until lightly colored. Stir in remaining ingredients. Add enough flour to make a soft dough. Knead dough thoroughly.

Take approximately 1 tablespoon of the dough and shape into desired forms (teardrops, stars, half-moons, balls, etc.) and insert clove in center. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet at 350 degrees about 30 minutes or until lightly golden brown.

Sift powdered sugar on a cutting board or area spread with wax paper. Place kourambiethes in the sugar and then cover them with more sifted sugar. Let them cool before removing from sugar. Place individually in cupcake papers and then into cookie jar for best storage. Makes about 60-70 cookies.

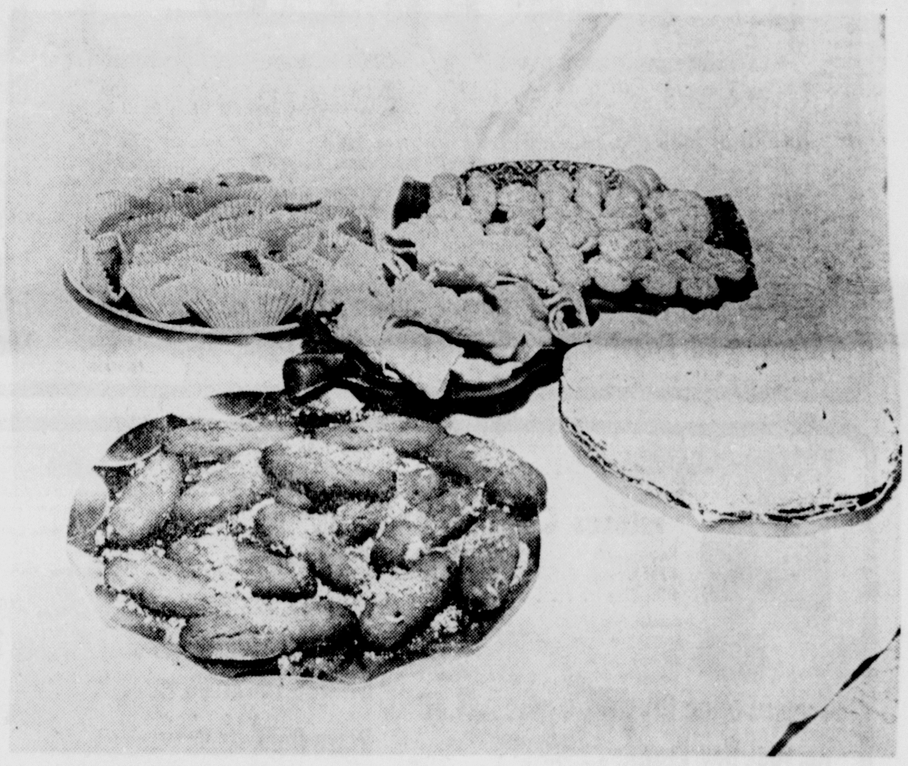
MELOMAKARONA (Honey Cookies)
By Mrs. Ted Preovolos of Peacock Gap

1 lb. butter
1 cup salad oil
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
7 cups flour, sifted
1/3 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda

Syrup

Boil 1 cup honey and ¼ cup water and simmer for about 10 minutes. ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Melt butter and add oil. Cool. Beat with electric mixer 5 minutes. Cream in sugar. Beat in eggs, orange juice, cinnamon and cloves. Sift together flour, baking powder and baking soda and slowly stir into batter. Shape into cookies the size of a 3-inch-long and 3/4-inch wide roll. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool cookies completely. Dip in hot syrup and sprinkle top with chopped walnuts. Makes about 80.



FINISHED PRODUCTS, from left, melomakarona, baklava, koulouria and kourambiethies and, center, diples, will be sold at the public picnic, Sunday, presented by the Greek community to benefit the newly-organized Greek Orthodox Church of Marin County.

Tricia Rarely Participates In White House Gatherings

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Tricia Nixon is proving you can have a private life in the White House.

Her public appearances are rare even at the glamorous gatherings in her showcase home at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

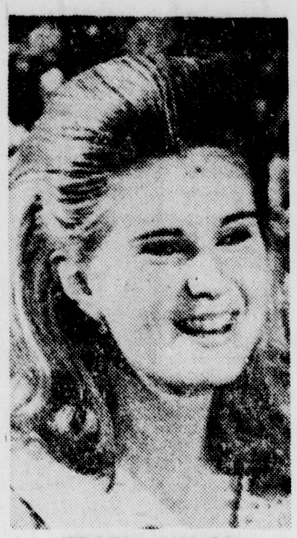
It takes a special occasion like father's day to get her to a White House worship service on Sunday.

And though she is the envy of many members of the swinging set with her ringside seat to the "evenings of entertainment" in the East Room, the blonde fragile presidential daughter passes up most of the memorable performances.

Even White House staffers were surprised that she would forego the show stopping appearance by handsome British shakespearean actor Nicol Williamson.

She also skipped Broadway singer Pearl Bailey who was a smash hit when she performed at the state dinner honoring West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

While others were begging for invitations for the Johnny Cash show—and everyone below 30 in the White House turned out for the country singer's rehearsal—Tricia stayed away.



TRICIA NIXON

"She is trying to lead a normal, personal life," said Connie Stuart, the First Lady's press secretary. "Her role is not official."

"She chooses not to attend most of these events," she explained.

Tricia, 24, however, is very much a part of the first family and fulfills her mission by devoted attention to her mail, standing in for her mother at various functions and tutoring two underpriveleged youngsters.

She keeps the first lady's staff guessing as much as reporters do about her way of life, her friends, her joys and romances.

She has no travel plans for the summer. She hopes to spend most of the time with her sister and brother-in-law, Julie and David Eisenhower, both of whom are about to graduate from college.

Tricia also is doing most of the social planning for the mid-July visit to Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Anne. One of the big events will be a White House dinner dance in their honor.

Otherwise she has organized her own life. She styles her own hair except for special occasions. She is a history buff and likes to read. She is "with it" on current events and an intelligent conversationalist.

She is poised and logical. Friends say she did not get uptight when flambuoyant Abbe Hoffman of the Chicago Seven tried to crash her ladies tea for the Finch College alumna.

"If he had been a member of the alumna I would have invited him," said Tricia with a smile.

A close observer sees Tricia as "very much in control" and a "great actress."

Quilting Pieces Out Of Family Income

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The quilting bee, once an occasion mostly for neighborly socializing, now has turned into a means of piecing out family income in low-income areas.

A nonprofit group called Mountain Artisans, Inc., is making patchwork pay for some 300 women in seven rural West Virginia counties. Until about a year and a half ago, when this unusual project was started in a part of Appalachia, about the only recompense an expert seamstress received was pride in her handiwork and perhaps a prize at a county or state fair.

But now, everything that clears through Artisans earns the seamstress $2 an hour. Artisans produces the designs, under direction of Mrs. Samuel R. Dorothy Weatherford, buys the materials, precut when possible, and in effect subcontracts to 13 sewing centers in the seven counties.

"IF THIS KIND of project will work in West Virginia, why, not in other areas of poverty," said Joseph Mullins, Artisans' director. Artisans, headquartered in Charleston, W. Va., is funded through the Office of Econimic Opportunity, OEO, but Mullins said the hope is that one day it can be self-sustaining.

Certainly the project has a lot going for it. There is the current revival of patchwork or the patchwork look everywhere. Paris and New York couturiers use patchwork in clothes. Decorators push it lavishly in everything from quilts to upholstery. Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper wears it and uses it in quantity in her New York home. and Sharon Percy Rockefeller is vice chairman of Artisans' board of directors.

Then there is the talent directly responsible for running Artisans. Knoxville-born Dorothy Weatherford is a graduate of Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh and was an oil painter.

She joined Artisans after meeting Florette Angel, the organization's young, blonde director of sales and promotion, at a West Virginia State Crafts Fair, in Ripley.

"If anyone had told me two years ago that I'd be designing dresses, I'd have told them they were out of their minds," she recalled.

Mullins, an art major at Kansas State University and Morris Harvey College, Charleston, W. Va., had worked in the planning section of the governor's office before he took over general direction.

ALL THREE ARRIVED in New York the other day to stage a fashion and home show for buyers and press and to stay on at the Gotham Hotel to take orders from some of the top stores around the country.

They brought patchwork evening dresses, at-home pants costumes, quilts, tablecloths, costume, quilts, tablecloths, placemats, handbags, children's outfits, dolls and a color riot of pillows of all sizes.

"We're trying to put the old crafts to use with new fabrics and contemporary colors," said Mrs. Weatherford, a pretty brunette mother of three.

"We're not trying to deal with a fad," she said of all the patchwork designs around. "Patchwork isn't a fad, anyway. . .it's hundreds of years old. But our women have other skills we will use. . .weaving, crocheting, tatting, rug hooking, knitting, and embroidery."

She's also expanding into work with leather and one of Artisans staff, Rita Bank, wore a leather miniskirt of white with silver embroidery and a white leather weskit.

Both she and Mullins said the project had important by-products. One is the pride the women feel from their product going to the nation's most sophisticated and demanding customers.

Another is preservation of crafts that otherwise would not be handed down "unless we get the young involved. . .and they will not get involved unless there is a reason," said Mullins. "They will not continue unless it is economically feasible."

DESIGNER RITA Bank appears to be drowning in patchwork during an interview at a midtown hotel in New York. It's all part of her work as a member of the staff of Mountain Artisans, Inc., a non-profit group making patchwork pay for some 300 women in seven rural West Virginia counties.

Ideas On Living Together Without The 'Hypocrisy' Of Legal Marriage

DEAR READERS:

When "good old Bill" turned out to be Billie Jean, the "Not That Modern Father" of the college man asked how other parents would react to a female room mate for their son.

Here are answers, not only from parents, but also from young people:

DEAR HELEN :

I liked the following letter I clipped from a newspaper just about the time "Not So Modern Father" asked for comments:

Sir: "We are not promiscuous. We love sincerely. We don't think marriage is important or that what we are doing is wrong so long as we aren't hurting anyone. Our parents never lived by the moral code they preach. The world never has. We love without hypocrisy."

This in essence is the general defense of the new morality as it is touted in our magazines, newspapers, theaters, television and college seminars.

Unless he is depraved, man instinctively values the opinion of his fellowman. This accounts for the pretense of morality on the part of many who are not moral. Though it is a poor substitute for real virtue, lip service to morality is better than no service at all. The fact that hypocrisy exists today indicates that, while man has fallen far short of his moral and spiritual goal, he is still reaching.

The new morality is not new. It is as old as sin and hypocrisy. It has been conspicuous in the crumbling of every great civilization which abandoned its moral traditions and pretenses. It is and always has been an escape from responsibility; it is an excuse for failure, it is a license for unrestrained self-indulgence. And it is, therefore, the greatest hypocrisy of all. — A.F.C.

DEAR HELEN:

"Not So Modern Father" seems to object to his son's living arrangements with his girl only because they cause embarrassment to the parents. Instead, they should be thankful that their son is now being honest, and has decided "what they don't know won't hurt them" is for the birds.

Face it: All these kids have done is to make an artificial weekend live-in a permanent, working relationship. They are not married because they are not ready for total commitment, and they understand the doubts they have might lead to a painful divorce.

As long as there are no children involved, Dad, don't pressure them and be thankful they are still your friends and are being honest with you.—Y.M.

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter said she was going to live with a fellow at college. But when I announced that my gentleman friend and I had decided to follow her example, and added, "Do bring your boy friend down to make it a foursome over spring vacation—you two can have our back bedroom. . ." she reverted to old fashioned morality fast. Result: We're both waiting for marriage. Isn't it strange, how children condone for themselves what would shock them green if their parents indulged? — WIDOW

DEAR HELEN:

Young people today are looking for truth and honesty, not tangible possessions or phony titles.

A mature, intelligent, responsible couple can live together before a "legal marriage" to discover if they are mutually and truly compatible. My husband and I lived together a year. We then married out of respect for our families, but only after we were sure it would be a lasting marriage. We've been married five years, which we consider six, and our love has grown each year. We stayed together through thick and thin, particularly through that difficult first year of adjustment, because of our love and respect for each other, not because of two signatures on a legal document.

NTMF should be proud that his son is concerned about the future and not just blinded by the romance of young love. — HAPPY WIFE.

Dining Out With Children Requires Some Preparation

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
Associated Press

Parents, when dining out with your children have you found yourself yelling "No, three sugars are enough; Don't eat with your fingers; Don't stare in that man's face."

After repeated incidents of this type, you already may have decided to give up on restaurant dining with your children rather than face a side order of indigestion.

However, wise parents know that taking children to a restaurant needn't be tantamount to a nightmare.

MOST PARENTS tend to forget that dining out is a whole new world to a child. That's why some children tense up—and end up by spilling the milk or knocking over flowers. Other children over-react and explore under, over and around every table.

Dining out in a restaurant with children takes preparation. Before you start the actual expedition, brief them. Talk about restaurants, show the children pictures of people dining out. Answer any questions the children may have—such as: "You mean strangers eat with you? We get served, like by a maid? We're not alone in the bathroom?"

Play restaurant at home. Make up menus offering a choice between two or three items. Sit with the children to help them choose. Dad might give his order to Mother, who cooks up the items in the kitchen. Just emphasize one fact—no changing of mind.

NEXT, PRACTICE makes perfect. Stop in an informal restaurant — a sit-in hamburger stand, a coffee shop, a pizza palace.

Now for the actual staging. Since patience is not a virtue of children, for your first real trial don't select a restaurant that specializes in leisurely two and a half hour dinners. Instead, select a restaurant that specializes in facilities for children (booster chairs, high chairs, children's menus and bibs, even bottle-warming service). Consider a buffet. Here feed the children first. Then one adult can remain at the table while the other loads his plate.

Avoid the temptation to indulge in the exotic. You might love Chinese food and so might your children, but their questions about the waiter may lead to embarrassing moments.

If possible, ask to be seated near washrooms and windows. Windows give children something to stare at besides the face of the man in the booth behind.

DON'T ALLOW a child to scan an entire menu. Limitless choices only make for limitless indecision.

If you're having a cocktail before dinner, order ginger ale or a Shirley Temple for the children. And have the children's drinks brought to the table immediately. This will keep the children occupied in addition to making them feel more grown-up.

After ordering, suggest a walk to the washroom. A careful wash-up allowing a child to enjoy but not destroy soap dispensers, hot-air dryers, etc., takes time and gives youngsters a chance to release nervous energy.

To make the time between ordering and service go faster, try to engage the children in a discussion about all the people who work in a restaurant to make the meal a success. You can point out the busboy, cook, cashier, hostess and talk about their exact functions.

MENU GAMES also make the time fly. Find the longest word or the shortest word on the menu. Find as many words as you can beginning with C.

To help you relax, there's the blessed quiet game. First child to talk is a monkey; last one to talk gets an extra handful of mints on the way out.

If possible, have the waitress bring the children smaller plates and glasses, plus extra napkins. Have her fill their glasses only halfway. If you really want to play it safe, bring big smocks or extra bibs from home.

When the meal is finished, compliment the children on what they did well—even if it was only finishing all their chips. No matter what—keep your cool.

Report Pollution And Collect Half The Federal Court Fine

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The ultimate tool has been found for fighting water pollution.

It's a 71-year-old Federal law that makes every dumping of refuse into a public waterway a criminal violation and then, believe it or not, allows the person who provided evidence leading to conviction half of the monetary penalties imposed on the polluter.

In other words, it is possible for private citizens to make money by pointing out sources of pollution.

The source of this gem of information is the House Subcommittee on Conservation and Natural Resources headed by Rep. Henry Reuss, (D-Wis.) It was contained in a subcommittee report dated March 18 (No. 91-917) entitled "Our Waters and Wetlands . . ."

The law is entitled the Refuse Act of 1899; the applicable part is Section 407 of U. S. Code 33.

As the subcommittee report points out, there are two avenues open to private citizens. They can either:

— Report evidence about polluters to the local United States Attorney and collect half of the fines eventually assessed by the courts, or

— File a civil suit to collect half the fine even though no prosecution is undertaken by the U. S. Attorney.

Section 411 of the same law sets maximum penalties at $500 to $2,500 for each violation. Now, let's see, half of that could amount . . . to not a bad day's pay.

The only trouble is that the law has never yet been tested. According to Administration and Congressional authorities, there are no reported cases in which a private citizen has filed suit and collected.

Two Congressmen, however, have filed reports in the form of legal affidavits to the U. S. Attorneys in their areas. They are Rep. Reuss and Rep. Michael Harrington (D-Mass.). Both have also stated that any money they earn will be turned over to pollution-fighting agencies.

Back in February, the Justice Department cited the same law in a criminal suit charging 11 industrial companies with dumping refuse into public waters in the Chicago area. The case is still pending.

There is one escape hatch available to polluters. If they can obtain a permit for such dumping, they can be exempt from the law. But there are no known cases where permits have been issued under this law.

Perhaps the easiest part of all is spotting the polluters. In states that have adopted water quality standards, names and addresses of polluters are open to public inspection in appropriate state agencies.

For a list of suggested steps that private citizens can take under this law, write for a free copy of a three-page outline from the office of Congressman Harrington, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

In the long run, of course, taxpayers and consumers will be paying the bill for cleaning up pollution. But a few successful suits under this ancient law might speed up the process.

'Mahagonny' Is Satire At Its Best

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The brilliant score that the late Kurt Weill wrote for "Mahagonny" finally was heard in a New York theater Tuesday night when this satirical opera, with libretto by Bertolt Brecht, was presented at the Anderson Theater.

The work had its German premiere 40 years ago. It had never been done here, yet it is more prestigious than their widely played and derivative "The Threepenny Opera."

Weill's music is interpreted in remarkable fashion by a 30-piece orchestra under the baton of Samuel Matlovsky, and the singing of the principal male roles by opera tenor Frank Porretta, Jack De Lon, Val Pringle, Bill Copeland, Alan Crofoot and Dan Crabtree is grand.

"THREEPENNY" PRODUCER

Carmen Capalbo, who sponsored the highly successful revival of "The Threepenny Opera" in the 1950's, has produced and directed "Mahagonny" in elaborate style.

The libretto, most of which is sung in the opera manner, is in Brecht's most extravagant vein of caricature. Written in the late 1920's, it pillories human frailties stemming largely from the drive for money, reflecting the hedonistic, warped moral attitude of a Germany seeking a way back from the debacle of World Wor I.

It all seems rather pertinent today, as it undoubtedly would have been 100 years ago or any time you choose.

FANTASTIC PLOT

The fantastic plot deals with the mushrooming of a city called Mahagonny, founded at some indefinite spot in the American South by a bordello madam and two male convicts, all fleeing the law.

The leading female roles are played well enough by top actresses Estelle Parsons and Barbara Harris. Their singing is adequate, but it seems a bit tame alongside the fine vocalizing by the males.

The lyrics, which actually are the libretto and not lyrics in the usual Broadway show sense, are, of course, by Brecht. There is bitter humor throughout and the accent is constantly on social ills and human foibles.

The music is the thing with "Mahagonny." The show should be seen by anyone who loves Musical theater.

What other critics said:

William Glover, Associated Press: ". . . at last and what a blooper. Miscast, misconceived and just plain miserable . . ."

James Davis, Daily News: ". . . There were too many dreary spots for this onlooker to overlook."

State Forester Eyes Logging Firm Actions

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — An investigation of an Oregon logging firm accused of allowing fires to burn uncontrolled on Bolinas Ridge has been launched by the state Division of Forestry.

F. H. Raymond, statte forester, has advised Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, that he will "consider disciplining the permit of the timber operators" if his investigation verifies the county's complaints that forest practices rules have been violated.

Bagley asked for the investigation several weeks ago. Raymond said the investigation was being conducted by his office and the Marin County Fire Department.

The loggers, George Walker, Robert Matthews and Jerald Humbert, of North Bend, have been charged with 21 misdemeanor offenses. The case is pending in Marin Municipal Court.

The alleged offenses occurred on the Ethel Righetti ranch.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Little Malcolm' Is Frustrating Evening

By GARY TISCHLER

SAN FRANCISCO—To watch a performance of David Halliwell's "Little Malcolm and his Struggle Against the Eunuchs," which joined the American Conservatory Theater at the Marines' Memorial Theater last night, is to wind up just a shade frustrated.

There ought to be something to really sink one's teeth in, but one is never quite sure what, which is not so much the fault of the production and certainly not the actors as it is the play itself.

The play, which concerns the somewhat grotesque and grandiose revolutionary dreams of a British college failure named Malcolm and the three fantasy-prone cohorts he enlists in his wild scheme to kidnap a college official, skirts around and through several obviously "important' ' themes that cry for attention.

The very anti-Establishment, revolutionary nature of the plot hangs ominously in the air in this age of student discontent. And Malcolm's king-like fantasies offer a perfect and classic example of revolution's built-in poisons—paranoia, scapegoats, martyrs, suspicion and trial within the group, and finally a kind of shocking violence.

Yet the overriding picture that is left over is that of an unbearably inept Walter Mitty who dreams in nightmares in order to feel alive, a virginal (sexual and otherwise) quartet of bumbling misfits, children playing a mad, real gamethat is at once cruel and funny.

The humor of the play, and the virtuoso performances of the actors is what keeps the evening afloat. It IS funny, almost embarrassingly so, and Herbert Foster as Malcolm and Michael Cavanaugh, Martin Berman and Robert Ground as his followers make it that way.

Foster, already in two ACT plays this season, scores as a portrait of a failure in in-action, agonized by indecision and self-hate, when alone, and galvanized into a kind of dream-leader whenever he is in the company of his cohorts. Cavanaugh as the shy, introverted and basically realistic Irwin, is fine in portraying a character trying to get out of its skin while Berman is John, an energetic No. two man.

But the evening really belongs to and is almost stolen by Ground as Dennis Nipple, the pimply, skinny would-be-great-author forever describing turgid, flaming grand moments who winds up as the group's first victim. It is a beautiful piece of caricature that remains human and touches all of us—the picture of the obnoxious, clumsy boy in school, the gangly, whiny-voiced kid with glasses who is forever crying "Can I play too?" It's a beautiful piece of work by the youngest member of the acting company.

Mother And Son Trial Recessed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The murder trial of Elsie Nyhan and her son, Daniel, has been recessed until Thursday.

Superior Court Judge Robert H. Schnacke, presiding over the trial of the 72-year-old widow and her 43-year-old-son from Tiburon, had the trial put over Tuesday because of business out of town.

They are accused of beating to death a friend of Mrs. Nyhan, Genevieve Donal, 61, of San Francisco in October 1968.

Panel Overrides Objections To Use Permit For Office Building

Over the objections of San Rafael Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner that the action was highly illegal, improper and incinsistent with the wishes of the city council, the city planning commission last night approved a conditional use permit and architestural approval for the construction of an office and warehouse building at 517 Jacoby Street.

Dino Ghilotti, owner of the property, had applied for the permit and architectural approval for two buildings, the second to the rear of the property and facing on a proposed street.

Hotchner's staff recommended that the commission approve both buildings on the condition that Ghilotti dedicate a strip of land, up to 30 feet, at the rear of the property for the proposed street.

Ghilotti said last night that he was asking only for approval for the building on the front of the property along Jacoby Street, and therefore the commission should not add the condition concerning the 30 feet at the rear of the property.

After an explanation by Hotchner that the planning staff felt the right-of-way should be obtained now so that future street development in the area will be able to preceed more smoothly, Commissioner Jorgen V. Lunding moved that the one building be approved and the rear of the property "frozen."

Hotchner said he would consult with the city attorney, and if it is found that the commission's action jeopardizes the city council's program for development of the area, he will appeal the commission's action before the council.

If such an appeal is made, he suggested that the commission send a representative to the council to present the commission's viewpoint, as he will speak in opposition to the action.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

SUBDIVISION — Granted a four-lot subdivision of property owned by Harry Diner in the Gracie Tract on the northeast side of Irwin Street after adding to the conditions of the approval that a soil engineer's report be obtained before a building permit is granted and a concrete-lined drainage ditch be constructed behind the entire piece of property if an easement can be obtained to run drainage pipes down to Hill View Avenue.

STREETS — Granted a three-lot subdivision of property owned by Lee R. Ceccotti at 2031 Francisco Boulevard with one of the conditions being that three strips of the property be deeicated for future street developmnt, with a city decision on such development to be made within two years. made within two years.

SUBDIVISION — Granted a two-lot subdivision of property owned by Margaret Chapman and Albert and Mary Sarhad between Greenfield and Terrace avenues, between 161 and 151 Greenfild. The largr of th two lots was sold about eight years ago without subdivision action by the city.

ZONING — Recommended to the city council that one of two adjoining lots on Oak Drive be rezoned single family residential and the other be left unclassified. The commission Feb. 24 recommended that both parcels be classified residential, but the council disagreed and sent the matter back to the commission.

WAREHOUSE — Held over until May 12 at 7:30 p.m. a request for a use permit and architectural approval for construction of a warehouse and office complex on property owned by Holiday Magic at 529 Jacoby Street.

PERMITS — Granted a use permit for a commercial parking lot on property owned by Stephen Duff at 840 Thrid Street; for a day care center for persons using and considering using drugs at 805 D Street operated by Rex Hutchinson and Raymond Menjour; for a family care facility for five mentally retarded children at 593 Montecillo Road owned and operated by Henderike Slager; for a new illuminated sign at the Lincoln Market, 1492 Lincoln Avenue; and for a directional sign, to a new subdivision, located on San Pedro Road south of Knight Drive. The sign is owned by the city.

ARCHITECTURE — Granted architectural approval for an addition covering a portion of the driveway of Tijuana Taco at 151 Bellam Boulevard; for remodeling of a Standard Oil of California service station at 949 Del Presidio Boulevard; for reconstruction and site improvements to the Standard Oil station at 475 Third Street on the condition that Second Street be widened at the cost of the applicants; for construction of an outside patio at Margarita Plaza, 4380 Redwood Highway; for replacement of a sign at 1444 Fourth Street; and for warehouses with offices at 45 Mark Drive, owned by Marin Title Guaranty Co., and at 12 Mark Drive, owned by Al Villa Builders.

Underwear Torch A Costly Idea

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —It doesn't pay to set your underwear afire in a national forest in New Mexico.

The U.S. Forest Service said it had billed Troy Wayne Klaus, 19, of Albuquerque for $51.22. This was the cost to the Forest Service for putting out a fire started by burning underwear.

A Forest Service ranger said Klaus and three friends used their underwear on sticks as torches to light their way along a trail. Bits of the burning cloth ignited patches of grass and pine needles.

Perhaps The Thief Is Competitor?

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The owner of an Albuquerque gasoline station recently reported to police the theft of 2,400 gallons of gasoline.

Pete J. Chavez told police, "I thought the one pump had broken on me so I called for repair. Then the other pump quit so I checked the tank."

He found the tank empty. "Whoever took the gas," he said, "would have had to have a tanker truck with a pump." He valued the missing gasoline at about $800.

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District Engineering Study Set

An engineering study to provid cost estimates for complete upgrading of the district's plant, water teratment system and collection system has been authorzed by directors of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District.

President Cyril G. Hansen said the board voted Monday night to hire Ben C. Albritton of the San Rafael engineerin& firm and John Jenks and Adamson, Palo Alto engineers, to make the survey.

The directors also agreed to send letters to the City of Sausalito, Tamalpais Community Services District and Richardson Bay Sanitary District, asking them to make repairs in their systems to eliminate seepage of storm water into the district's system. The Sausalito-Marin City District treats sewage from all three areas, Hansen said.

In other action, directors approved Hansen to serve on an advisory committee to the Marin Municipal Water District. Director George F. Carney was appointed alternate representative to the committee which will study a plan for joint treatment facilities for all sanitary districts in the Richardson Bay basin, according to Hansen.

Industrialist Sees Turmoil Over Ecology

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—For 15 years the nation "has slept on the problem of environmental pollution, and now suddenly it has become the dominant theme of the day," says Chattanooga Gas Co. President Jacob Greenberg.

He also complains that students "now are going to run off half-cocked without careful planning or expert knowledge, and miracles are to be accomplished with political and student oratory, disorder and fun."

YOUTH GUIDE READIED

Novato Police Sgt. Donald Dupar yesterday loaded his trunk with hundreds of copies of a 38-page "Guide for Youth and Parents" which will be given to Marin County school children May 20 to take home. Dupar, and police throughout Marin, picked up the booklets at the Holiday Magic warehouse in San Rafael. The firm paid for production of the guide, which was prepared by Allied Juvenile Agencies of Marin, including sheriff's and police departments, probation department, county and district school personnel. Police took the booklets to schools for distribution.

Roth Rules Pot Warrant Invalid

A search warrant which allowed officers to raid the home of a Santa Venetia man accused of furnishing marijuana to neighborhood youngsters yesterday was ruled invalid by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court.

Marijuana and LSD seized in the residence of David Malcolm Estep, 30, was ruled out of the case after the judge said that the 13-year-old youth who said that Estep had the drugs did not qualify legally as a "reliable informant."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon Smith said that his office has not yet decided whether to proceed to press charges of furnishing pot to minors against Estep in light of yesterday's decision.

The case has been continued to May 7 for furthur preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Estep was arrested March 11 after a 13-year-old girl was hospitalized from a bad trip caused by LSD reportedly stolen from his home. The 13-year-old boy said that he had swiped the drug after being shown it by Estep, who, the boy said, had given him puffs from marijuana cigarettes in the past.

Another youngster present at Estep's home when officers arrived with the search warrant told a similiar story, according to the officers.

Flames Kill Kin Of Supervisor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fire killed a top San Francisco official's two daughters and housekeeper early today as he tried to rescue them from his burning home.

Then Ronald Pelosi, a member of the Board of Supervisors, fell from a ladder and was hospitalized with a broken leg.

Two sons, Brennan, 8, and Matt, 11, jumped from the second floor to safety in a neighbor's arms.

Dead are Gwen Yeng, 35, and Cynthia Pelosi, 13, on the third floor, and Caroline, 1, who was on the second floor.

Firemen estimated damage to the three-story shingle home and two adjoining it at $150,000. The cause was under investigation.

Billing Error Is Windfall For District

Discovery of a billing error has spared the Almonte Sanitary District a painful $1,400 bookkeeping entry, according to Secretary John J. Crncich.

The district at its last meeting voted to ask the City of Mill Valley, which treats Almonte's sewage, for itemization of a bill which directors thought was too high.

Mill Valley's reply, read at a board meeting Monday night, disclosed that the district had been overcharged by some $1,400, Crncich said.

The Almonte Sanitary District board also:

TO WATER PANEL — Appointed Edmund J. Prosch, board chairman, as representative to the Marin Municipal Water District's advisory committee on sewer district consolidation.

ASSESSMENT — Agreed to set next year's assessment rate at the next meeting, May 25 at 8 p.m. at the district offices, 223 Shoreline Highway.

CONSTRUCTION — Agreed to ask Mill Valley to advise the district about proposed sewer line construction that would affect the district and also to defer any construction until the consolidation advisory committee makes its report in about three months.

Marinites Indicted In Big Marijuana Haul

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two Marin men have been indicted by the San Francisco Grand Jury on charges of possessing marijuana for sale and conspiring to sell marijuana.

The men, Henri P. Baylacq, 26, of 14 Hillside Drive, Mill Valley and Lee D. Malcolm, 26, of 1 Lincoln Road, Sausalito, were ordered to surrender themselves Friday at the San Francisco Hall of Justice. They will be arraigned on the charges next week in San Francisco Superior Court.

The pair, along with a San Francisco man, were arrested April 15 on a San Francisco street when they attempted to sell 203 kilos, about 400 pounds, of marijuana to an undercover agent. The retail value was put at $500,000.

The marijuana recovered at the arrest is the largest haul ever seized in San Francisco, Inspector Charles J. Wettstein said yesterday.

The men, if convicted, could receive a sentence of from one to five years in state prison, Wettstein said.

15 Student Films Entered In Festival

Fifteen films made by Marin County students will be shown at the second annual Marin County Schools Film Festival sponsored by Redwood High School Friday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall of the College of Marin.

Awards of $30, $20 and $10 will be given the three film-makers in both elementary and secondary schools judged to have done the best job.

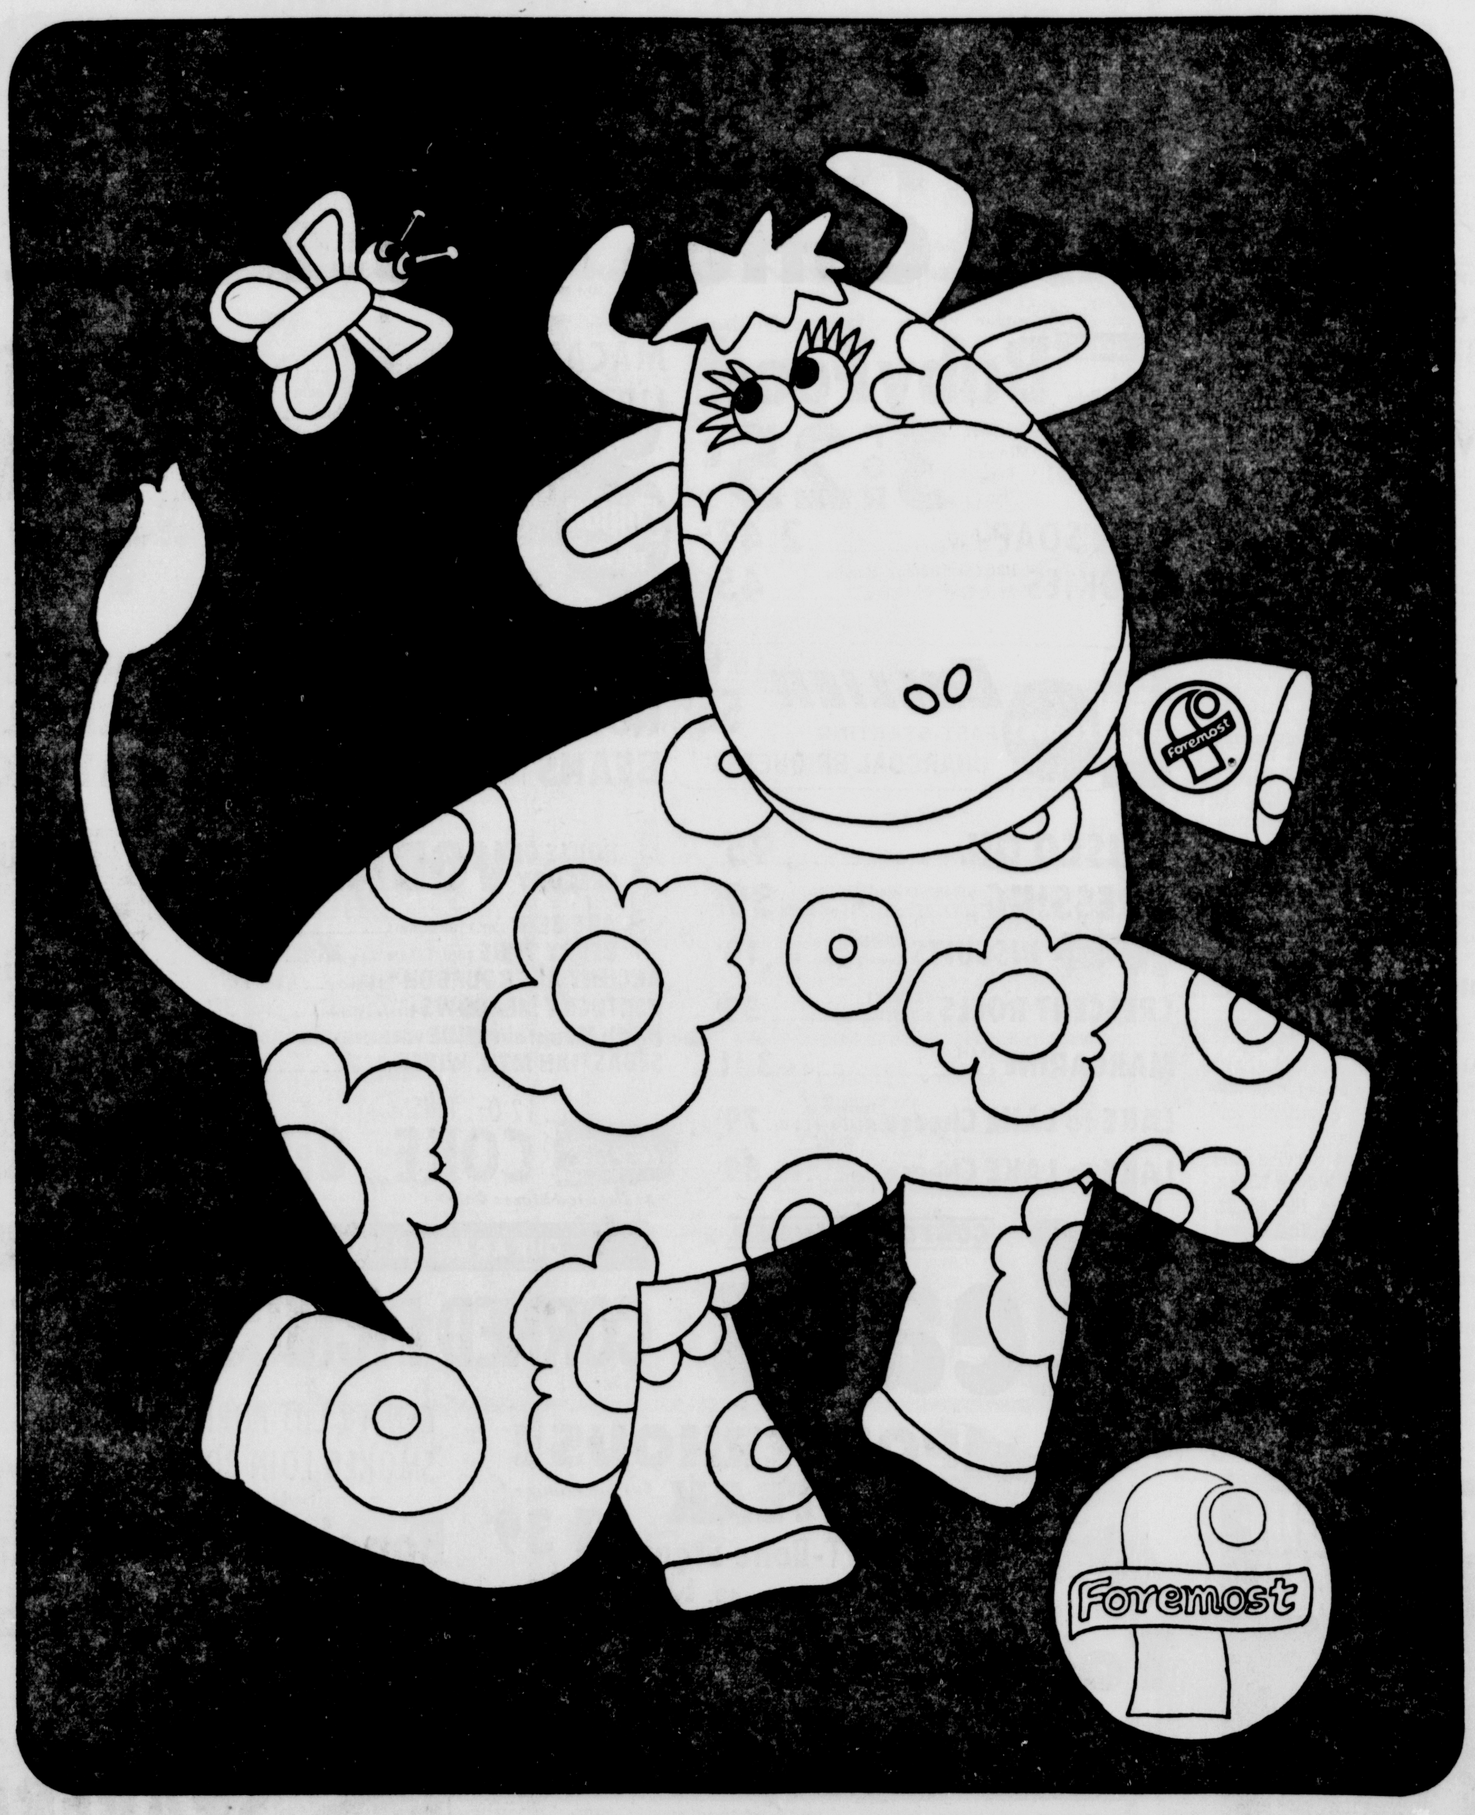
Grab-a-box-of-crayons and-win-a-cow-contest



A while back, we ran another contest and successfully gave away a few thousand cowbells. We said, "Who knows? Maybe next time we'll give away a few thousand cows." Well, we're going to keep our word.

Yes, contest-lovers, we're going to give away a whole herd: 3,003 colorful Foremost cows! Each one is inflatable, stands 3 feet high, and is made out of tough, durable vinyl. (She may not give much milk, but then you won't have to get up at four-in-the-morning to milk her, either!)

To win, here's what you have to do: (1) Color this cow, with crayons, or with whatever's handy. (2) Pick up an official entry blank, which carries detailed contest rules, from your favorite store that sells Foremost dairy products — the freshest dairy products you can buy. (3) Send your artistic effort and properly completed official entry blank (or facsimile) to us.

An independent judging organization will select winners for each area on the basis of originality. Neatness counts. No purchase required. And, you'll find more cows to color wherever you find official entry blanks, as well as on our milk cartons. Remember, we have 3,003 cows to give away, so we need 3,003 winners!

Will this madness never end? Who knows?

Candidate Interviews

Marin and Sonoma candidates for Congress, state Senate and Assembly and county supervisor will be interviewed on a candidates' night from 8 to 11 p.m. on Saturday on KQED, Channel 9.

100TH BIRTHDAY TUESDAY

Remembers Voting Before Turning 21

Edmond W. Tulloch of Corte Madera has been old enough to vote for almost 79 years, but he cast his first ballot 80 years ago.

Tulloch, who will be 100 years old on Tuesday, first voted in 1890 in Morris, Wis. "I and my brother Alexander voted because the man we were working for was running for sheriff," he explained yesterday.

Although he was 20 and his brother only 18, they voted because the owner of the sawmill they were working in ordered all his employees to vote. They didn't complain and since the sawmill's 20 to 25 employees made up almost the whole population of town, no one else did either. People did what the boss said, or they didn't stay in Morris, according to Tulloch.

Tulloch and his brother left the mill and parted ways in 1893, but he has never missed an election since. He said hte first voted in a national election either in 1892 for the loser, Benjamin Harrfison, or in 1896 for the winning William McKinley.

Since then he has voted straight Republican — most recently by absentee vallot for Barry Goldwater and Richard M. Nixon.

Tulloch and his wife, Nettie, seldom leave ther pleasant suburban home at 79 Mohawk Avenue in Corte Madera. They moved there from Minneapolis, Minn., six years ago because "we're at the stage where we have to be near someone," Mrs. Tulloch said.

Their son, Edwin W. Tulloch Jr., 60, an Internal Revenue Service employee, lives three blocks away at 3 Mohave Court. However, they manage with a minimum of help.

A boy comes weekly to mow the lawn and a girl to do the heavy house cleaning, but Tulloch and his wife, who is 94, keep the large house and yard immaculate. Tulloch, who is still very lively, often weeds the garden and waters the yard, but his activities are restricted otherwise.

"You can't have hobbies at that age," his wife said. His hearing is bad and his eyes are failing, but he says his health is "the very best." He has only been to a doctor once this year for a routine cherk-up.

Tulloch, though unable to read, follows current affairs through television and radio.

Tulloch was born on a farm in Napanee, Canada, 100 miles east of Toronto. His parents owned 150 acres of wheat, barley and oats that his grandfater had homesteaded. The farm is still in the family, he said.

He went to a one-room school until he was 15, then went to work for neighboring farmers for $10 a month. When he left Canada for Wisconsin at the age of 19, he was earing $150 a year.

He and his brother drifted to Saginaw, Mich., in the fall of 1889 and arrived in Ashland, Wis., in the spring of 1890 to take a job riding logs through a string of thawing lakes and rivers to the sawmill in Morris.

In 1895 he returned to Ashland and became a traveling salesman for Swift and Co. Tulloch held the job for 25 years while moving to Decorah, Iowa, in 7905, and Minneapolis in 1918.

He and his wife were married in Decorah in 1906.

Tulloch said he had a rougher time than today's salesman. There were no roads or cars in Iowa when he left in 1918, he said. He traveled the state on whatever train would stop for him and even on stage coaches that groaned hub-deep through spring and fall mud.

"I rode everything that went over the road and that would top for me," he said. He normally left home Monday morning and returned on Friday night.

Tulloch ended his exhausting travels through Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Texas and Oklahoma for Swift in Minneapolis in 1920, but 50 was too young to retire. He was in the real estate business until 1935 and the coal business until 1947. He finally retired at 77.

Tulloch doesn't have anything left that he wants to do in his old age. "I might want to do something, but I couldn't do it anyway," he said.

"Take me to your leader."

GOP Panel Won't Take Resignation

The Marin County Republican Central Committee declined last night to accept the resignation of David Winslow of Tiburon, who had sought to quit because of his open support of Fairfield Mayor Don Pinkerton for state Senate.

Rodgers C. Broomhead, committee chairman, said members of the group said they, too, were working for various candidates and that this was no reason to resign.

Winslow said in a recent letter to Broomhead that he felt his "active and open" support of Pinkerton, who is seeking to replace the retiring John F. McCarthy, San Rafael Republican, would affect his "neutrality" as a committee member.

Also last night, the committee heard from four Republicans seeking the Third District seat on the state Board of Equalization — Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo, Sesto F. Lucchi of San Rafael, John M. Mayfield Jr. of Ukiah and George R. O'Connor of Red Bluff.

The committee endorsed Proposition 1 on the June 2 ballot that would enable a $246.3 million bond issue to provide additional medical school facilities on the campuses of the University of California and heard that a cocktail party is scheduled at Sabella's May 21 for Wendell Handy, secretary of the Compton Board of Education, who is running for secretary of state.

Injured Bicyclist In Good Condition

Annette F. Lavoie, 26, of San Francisco, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a skull fracture received Sunday when her bicycle was struck by a car on South Street in Sausalito.

Police said Miss Lavoi was hit from behind by an auto driven by Toril Orre, 29, of San Francisco. The accident occurred at 2:15 p.m., just south of Alexander Avenue.

New Librarian For Mill Valley

Alberta L. Hankerson, 37, head of the Castro Valley branch of the Alameda County library, has been named head of the Mill Valley Public Library.

Miss Hankerson, a resident of Berkeley, was chosen from a field of 20 applicants. She will succeed Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, retiring after 20 years.

Miss Hankerson will assume the post May 18. Her starting salary will be $11,800 a year.

Miss Hankerson, a native of San Francisco, received her bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of California at Berkeley. She is a member of the Bay Area Reference Librarians and the California Library Association's Intellectual Freedom Committee.

Youth Panel Votes Rules On Vacancies

Marin County Youth Commission members last night approved a set of by-laws, including procedures on how to select nominees for youth vacancies that develop on the 11-member panel.

Seven of the members are youths under 21, and the turnover rate is expected to be high because many of them will be going to college.

The commissioners met at the Civic Center and decided that when a youth member resigns, he will submit nominations from his district. Other nominees will be solicited from schools and the youth commission of his district. The county youth commission will then interview the applicants and recommend three candidates for each vacancy. The Marin County Board of Supervisors will make the appointment.

The commissioners also approved an application from Switchboard of Marin for $1,000 in matching funds from the county. Switchboard of Marin, with headquarters at 1017 D Street in San Rafael, operates a telephone service to keep in touch with youths who have problems to discuss or ideas to offer.

Thoughts Of Tax Hike Vote Dropped

With 70 per cent of the residents reportedly opposed to a tax rate increase, the Cotati School District board last night dismissed thoughts of an election.

Members of a citizens advisory committee said an extensive survey showed most residents of Rohnert Park and Cotati would not approve an increase.

Dist. Business Mgr. James Davidson had recommended that a 90-cent increase be put to the voters to raise the tax rate limit from $1.65 to $2.50 per $100 assessed valuation. He said reduced state and federal assistance and higher operationg costs would make the increase necessary.

The citizens committee reported that only residents of the west section of Rohnert Park were favorable to a tax increase while residents of the astern section and Cotati were strongly opposed.

The Cotati School District Board Also:

LOTTERY — Received requests for a hearing from Marjorie Bascherini and Pat Hebert, teachers whose names were drawn in a lottery because of diminishing enrollment. Thomas Hitchcock, deputy county counsel, told the board the lottery procedure was correct and that a hearing need not be given. Supt. Duncan A. Coleman said a resignation was expected to save Miss Hebert's position and that only Miss Bascherini's job was still in question.

CLASSES — Scheduled a meeting for district parents May 14 at 8 p.h. at Cotati School to discuss class locations and busing needed for the next school year.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of speech therapist Norma Charpentier who is moving.

ANNEXATION — Scheduled a public hearing May 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the district office on plans to annex the entire City of Rohnert Park into the district.

PSYCHOLOGIST — Employed Adam Wolf as school psychologist at an annual salary of $13,008.

ADDITION — Scheduled a meeting of the building committee at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to review plans for an addition to the Waldo Rohnert School.

Petaluman Reports Phone Call Threat

The wife of a printer on strike against the Independent-Journal reported to Petaluma police yesterday that she and her husband had been threatened in an anonymous phone call.

Judy Dreitzler of 501 Eastwood Drive, whose husband, Kent, is a member of striking San Francisco Typographical Union 21, said a man, identifying himself as "a representative of the Human Decency Commission of Novato," had also threatened to damage their home.

92 Strep Cases

Ninety-two cases of streptococcus infection, 33 of gonorrhia and one each of mumps and shigella were reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

PROTEST HALTS STOCK MEETING

Demonstrators mill outside a shattered glass door at the site of an attempted meeting of stockholders of Honeywell, Inc., in Minneapolis, Minn. Protesters, who had bought stock and obtained proxies, yesterday stormed the annual session to object to the firm's production of war materials. A company guard tossed a Mace cannister; the meeting was adjourned after 14 minutes. Similar outbreaks at the Gulf Oil Co. meeting in Pittsburgh, Pa., led to arrests and ejections.

71 Townhouse Units Win Council's Nod

The Novato City Council last night approved construction of 71 units of a proposed 442-unit townhouse development on Scottsdale Boulevard west of Highway 101.

The go-ahead was given to Western Hosts Inc. of San Francisco, provided that 21 revisions in plannings are made.

The proposal won unanimous approval even though new councilmen George Quesada and F. Wayne Sartain voted against it when they were on the planning commission.

Quesada explained that the price tag of about $20,000 per dwelling removed his reservations. He noted a need for low-cost family housing in Novato.

The townhouses will be grouped around courts with provisions for open space, Mattson said.

The planning commission approved ahe plan April 6 with the 21 conditions after discussing it for three meetings.

The conditions included assurance of a mandatory maintenance program, underground utilities, adequate sidewalks, adequate guest parfking, detailed landscaping plan, and submission of recreation area plans.

The Novato City Council Also:

SALARY—Approved in principle a salary committee report on guidelines for city employees.

TOT LOT—Approved allocation of $550 for construction of a tot lot by the Rotary Club at the Joyce Street pump station. Plans call for the project to be completed about July 1 with $2,945 plus labor from the Rotary Club and $875 from the Sanitary District.

NOVATO CREEK—Authorized staff to prepare specifications and obtain bids on building about 1100 feet of fencing on Novato Creek subject to agreement from adjoining homeowners on San Miguel Way that they would pay 50 per cent of the cost of about $3,300.

FREEWAY—Set 8 p.m. May 12 for a hearing on a modified freeway agreement which includes revisions of local street closures.

SAN MARIN—Accepted improvements in San Marin Unit 9 and released a guarantee bond of $469,000 issued by Fireman's Fund Insurance.

PARADE—Approved a parade permit for the IDESI parade May 10 scheduled to run from First Street and Olive Avenue along First to Grant Avenue and along Grant to the IDESI Hall at Machin Avenue.

TRAFFIC—Approved stop signs on Marion Avenue at Eighth Street; on Center Road at Eucalyptus Avenue, and removed a stop sign on Hill Avenue, westbound at Tamalpais Avenue.

PARKING—Referred back to staff a proposal to install a two-hour limited parking zone on Front Street to control all-day parking by commuters in front of Kentucky Fried Chicken to study making the other side of the street unrestricted parking and grant the request of William Criddle, manager of the business.

IMPROVEMENTS—Authorized installation of concrete curbing, gutter, sidewalk driveway approach and parking lane pavement on Chase Street between Cherry and Olive streets and on Cherry between Chase and Armstrong Avenue after receiving a petition requesting the improvements from 60 per cent of the owners affected. Hearing of protests was slated for 8 p.m., May 26, at the City Council chambers.

APPOINTEE—Approved the planning commission recommendation of John Schoonover as the commission representative on the City-County Planning Council to replace Quesada.

EXCEPTIONS—Approved two exceptions for a tentative map of 21-acre Marin Golf and Country Club Unit 6 on Alameda de la Loma allowing a 32-foot curb separation on the proposed Pebble Beach Drive and requiring yards to conform to precis edevelopment plans approved by the planning commission and the council instead of to the zoning ordinance.

COMMITTEES—Formed a council committee of Joseph Garguilo and Sartain to look into the possibility of a teen council and a "committee," of Quesada, to study forming an art commission.

DELONG AVENUE—Upheld a Planning Commission denial of rezoning for the southeast corner of Highway 101 and DeLong Avenue for business development, but approval of rezoning the whole parcel for planned housing development.

SIGNS—Upheld a planning commission denial of off-site signs on Highway 101 to Hofman Co. of the Bahia waterfront townhouses' project.

TREE—Gave William Mason 60 days to get an impartial opinion that a tree at his Tower of Pizza, 1131 Grant Avenue, is a safety hazard, or face denial of a permit to remove the tree.

ZONING—Approved an amendment to the zoning ordinance classifving annexed property in the Novato Ranch subdivision, the Black Point area, and the area from Gallinas Creek to Novato.

ANNEXATION—Approved annexation of 17 acres of unoccupied land on Center Road and passed an interim ordinance zoning it planned residential. TVHE Marin Local Agency Formation Commission approved the annexation.

CONTINUED—Continued to an adjourned meeting on Tuesday a discussion of the downtown study report and related matters and continued all staff reports and communications to the next regular meeting May 12 at the Novato Community House.

ANIMAL CONTROL—Continued to May 12 a decision on whether to renew a cost-sharing program with the county and other cities to control animals to learn the feelings of other cities at the Council of Mayors and councilmen meeting tonight. Novato paid $4,323 for this fiscal year.

CLOSED—Went into closed session to discuss commission and committee appointments.

Smoking Troubles

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — More than 1,800 fires were started in Louisville last year by burning cigarettes, matches, lighters or other equipment for smokers, according to Maj. Mele Brown, city fire marshal.

Brown Rally Finds Civic Center Home

The Marin committee to elect George Brown to the U.S. Senate yesterday was given approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to use the civic center park area for a political rally May 23.

The committee had claimed earlier that it had been "repeatedly frustrated" in its attempt to obtain a site for the rally, saying that it had been unable to obtain use of Mount Tamalpais, parks in San Rafael, Mill Valley and Corte Madera, or a county park.

The commiteee, however, did not report that Mount Tamalpais and Albert Field in San Rafael both had been reserved prior to its request, that the county parks and recreation department suggested the Civic Center, that its application for Corte Madera's park had not been acted on yet, and that it was told that any money raised in Mill Valley would have to be given to the city but that it could appeal the rule to the city council.

Larkspur Carnival Permit Advances

The Larkspur Planning Commission conditionally recommended approval last night of a carnival to be held May 27-31 in the Disco Store parking lot at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

The matter now goes to the city council.

In other business, the commission approved a zoning change from residential to commercial for Charles McLeran at Estrelle Avenue and Murray Lane, endorsed the design of a warehouse planned by the Romac-Pacific Co. at 30 Rich Street and allowed a lot split for the Schultz Investment Co. on Sir Frnacis Drake Boulevard near El Portal Drive.

Dog Bites Youngster; Mother Seeks Owner

Kimberly A. Muny, 9, of 17 Wolfe Avenue was treated by her physician Saturday after being bitten behind the knee by a collarless Scottish terrier at 5 p.m. on the 100 block of D Street, San Rafael police reported today.

The child's mother, Mrs. Penny Muny, is trying to locate the owner of the medium sized white dog to determine if the animal has had its rabies shots, police said. The owner may call either Mrs. Muny or police.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Self-Inflicted Cancer Is Rife, But We Keep On Using Tobacco

A recent Gallup poll found that 71 per cent of adults believe that cigaret smoking causes lung cancer. Ten years ago only 44 per cent held this belief.

The American Cancer society has found that it takes a long time to convince some people that lung cancer is a self-inflicted disease. In their opinion, the casual relationship between cigarets and lung cancer was proved beyond reasonable doubt 15 years ago. Recently scientists were able to induce lung cancer in dogs via cigaret smoking.

YET EACH YEAR more and more people die of lung cancer. For example, in 1930, 2,357 deaths in the United States were reported as due to lung cancer; in 1940, 7,121; in 1950, 18,313, and in 1960, 36,340. The projected estimate for 1969 was 59,200 (49,400 men and 9,800 women). Unless something is done, 125,000 will succumb to lung cancer in the year 2000.

And this does not include cancers of the mouth, throat, larynx, esophagus, and stomach that may be related to smoking.

WHAT ABOUT the harmful effects of inhaling occupational dusts? It is well-known that death rates from lung cancer are high among uranium miners. Additional studies show that the disease is rare among uranium miners who do not smoke cigarets. The public health service reported that of 101 cases of lung cancer among uranium miners, 100 were cigaret smokers.

A somewhat similar situation exists among asbestos workers. The smokers in this occupation have 13 times the risk of developing lung cancer as those who do not smoke. It is believed that the increased risk in this group as well as in uranium miners is due to the combined effects of cigaret smoke and uranium and asbestos dusts.

THE SAME APPLIES to the air pollution in our cities. Lung cancer is more common among city dwellers than country folks. But in both the country and the city, the risk of getting a malignancy is greatest among the smokers. There is a good possibility that air pollutants contribute, but in the final analysis, smoking in itself is concentrated air pollution.

SENSITIVE TO PROCAINE

E.S. writes: I have had two reactions to shots of procaine for dental work. Does this mean that I am sensitive and should not be given any again? What happens when I need further dental work done? Is there a test for procaine sensitivity?

REPLY

I assume that you are sensitive to procaine but tests are available to prove or disprove this possibility. Hereafter, you may have to "take" the pain unless the dentist is able to use a different anesthetic.

ALL-INCLUSIVE ALLERGY

F.T. writes: If an individual is allergic to sulfa, antibiotics, and aspirin, what can he take when he develops an infection?

REPLY

Use common sense and do what people did before these drugs were discovered: call your physician and go to bed. In serious infections, an antibiotic may prove lifesaving even though the person has a mild reaction to it. The allergy aspect often can be nullified with adrenalin, an antihistamine, or a steriod.

SPECIAL TECHNIC

REPLY

Occasionally, a tumor will cast a shadow on the film, but this is not usual. On the other hand, a special technic (mammography) has proved to be most successful. In this procedure, only the breast tissue is X-rayed.

Today's Health Hint — The careful driver always follows the rules of the road.

Firemen's Bargaining Plea Tabled

The Marin Community Services District board last night tabled until its next meeting a request from district firemen that it recognize an employees association as bargaining agent for the firefighters.

According to Genevieve T. Bolding, district secretary, the board referred the firemen to the salary and fringe benefit committee for next year's budget planning.

The Marinwood Community Services District Board also:

LANDSCAPING — Approved unanimously the expenditure of $400 for landscaping of a new section of the Marinwood Park, and the placing of planters and trees in various community locations.

REPORT — Received a report from the Marin County Planning Department on the master plan for the county farm located near Juvenile Hall on Lucas Valley Road.

APPOINTMENT — Appointed Leland Stencer of Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, to the park and recreation commission seat vacated by Richard O'Brien who is now a member of the services district board.

Apartments Plan Gains In Cotati

The Cotati Planning Commission last night approved the design for a four-unit apartment house, but requested an overall plan before granting the lot split needed.

The commission said that August Lovmark should submit plans for his property at 128 to 190 Valparaiso Avenue before his four-acre parcel can be divided into four lots.

The apartment house design on one lot won approval, but the commission asked for detailed plans for off-street parking as part of the lot split details.

The Cotati Planning Commission also:

MARKET — Approved the design of the Pam Market, 7646 Redwood Highway, and asked for details on landscaping, signs and lighting.

CHAIMAN — Heard a report that Chairman Donald Leicas planned to submit his resignation to the city council next week, and selected R. C. Braden as the new chairman.

APPOINTMENTS — Suggested the city council considered David Hale and aPtrick Geis to fill the two commission vacancies. Commissioner James Malone resigned two weeks ago.

Reagan Tax Bill Gets To Floor; One Change

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan's $1 billion tax reform package reached the Assembly floor today after surviving two Democratic attempts to impose major changes.

But a surprise bipartisan move in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee Tuesday succeeded in weakening an oil depletion clause.

The tax package author, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the controversial measure could go to a crucial floor vote as early as Monday. Though Bagley voiced optimism for continued "bipartisan" support, indications during the hearing suggested substantial opposition still exists to the program.

On strict partisan votes the committee rejected Democratic trys at diverting $270 million from tax relief proposals into new school support funds and to alter Reagan's formula for giving homeowners a tax break.

Three Democrats joined with nine Republicans to approve Reagan's reforms, with two Republicans and two Democrats opposed.

Bagley said floor prospects are "good" on the Assembly side, though he said he had not made a head count. He said he hoped to make the bill a special order of business Monday to send it to the Senate.

A surprise amendment which drew bipartisan support was Assemblyman Carley V. Porter's move to weaken the oil depletion feature of Reagan's tax revision.

George N. Zenovich, the Democratic caucus chairman in the Assembly, was one of four Democrats voting in favor of enlarging the oil depletion to 22 per cent from the 14 per cent Bagley's bill proposed.

Bagley said the change means the loss of about $9 million in revenue which would have to be made up elsewhere, probably by a slight increase in bank and corporation taxes.

The final vote for passage of the controversial measure was 12-4. Two of the opponents were Republicans.

Assemblyman John L. E. Collier, R-Los, Angeles, voted against the package because it contained withholding, which he termed "sinister" and "evil." Assemblyman Peter Schabarum R-Covina, also opposed the bill, without stating why at the hearing.

Bagley said he hoped the Democrats "do not take a caucus position against tax reform." He said he was willing to give them "all the credit I can" for passage of a "bipartisan" program.

Bagley speculated also the prospect was "bleak" for any change in the oil depletion formula, specifically citing Zenovich's vote for the pro-industry tax break.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Stockholders Of Company Vote Firm's Name Change

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Shareholders of Parvin-Dohrmann Co. voted Tuesday to change the company's name to Recrion Corp. and also learned a new lawsuit had been filed against their already litigation-plagued company.

At their annual meeting, the stockholders of the company which owns three Las Vegas, Nev., casinos learned for the first time a suit had been filed Friday in New York against the firm and the current management.

The action, filed on behalf of Philip J. Levin, a New York investor and businessman, also charged the shareholders meeting itself was illegal and asked that any results of the session be set aside. Levin, along with his wife, acquired 126,000 shares of Parvin-Dohrmann stock in February, according to the suit.

The action, another in a series of litigations against the company, listed a second plaintiff, Robert Evans, who was described as a shareholder of undisclosed duration and magnitude.

The firm had been in trouble at various times with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the American Stock Exchange and Nevada gaming authorities.

The Levin-Evans lawsuit alleged Levin and others who bought their stock after the American Exchange lifted its ban on trading of the issues Feb. 16 were excluded from voting at the meeting. Feb. 27 was selected as the cutoff date at which shareholders must have owned their stock to be able to vote.

The shareholders reelected three of the present four directors. William B. Hamilton, John A. Prosser and George A. Fry, all of Chicago, were renamed while Lester B. Knight lost his reelection bid to Kenneth J. Sullivan, executive vice president of Valley Bank of Nevada.

TV REVIEW

First Class Scheduling Is Needed

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If pro basketball is to be the big sport of the 1970's as many predict, then it is about time it made its television arrangements first class.

As of the moment, the National Basketball Association is in the midst of its world series, but it sometimes seems hard to realize it because of the spotty, inconsistent arangements to televise the various games.

The archaic sport of baseball may be taking it on the chin from the new generation, which is moving more to football and basketball. But whatever one feels about baseball, there is no question it goes first class on television, and wouldn't put up with some of the conditions basketball is suffering.

THE SHORT END

When baseball has its World Series, everyone knows it, and everyone sees it who wants to, and it has precisely the time it desires on the home screen. But because of contracual tangles that need undoing, the New York Knickerbockers-Los Angeles Lakers basketball finals are getting the short end.

As an example, ABC-TV, which carries the NBA games throughout the season, will broadcast the fourth contest this Friday night, and the sixth encounter, if there is one, next Wednesday. But thus far the network has made no announcements about carying the fifth game next Monday.

This undoubtedly means, as matters currently stand, that viewers around the nation who want to see the fifth game and the others not on the network simply have to hope that the off-network arrangements to telecast it are picked up by local stations. Tonight's third game, for instance, is not being broadcast by ABC-TV, but by Sports Network, Inc., which means it's syndicated.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Furthermore, there are such problems as television blackouts where games are played—despite sellout crowds. And here in Los Angeles, when we get a telecast of a contest from New York, it is on a one-hour tape delay because the later showing is considered more convenient for most viewers.

When baseball has its World Series, it gets straight, full-scale network coverage on all action, has absolutely no blackouts and is presented coast-to-coast precisely as, and when, it happens.

One of the NBA problems is the strain between those trying to get the upper hand in televising the games — for example, ABC-TV and some teams that have profitable video arrangements with local stations. But these are things that the hierarchy of pro basketball should realize are harming the sport's ascendancy, and need quick cleaning up to take full advantage of the enthusiasm for this great game — the most perfectly suited for television.

Alameda County Faces Tax Hike

OAKLAND (AP) — The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has been asked to adopt a $32.5 million tax increase for its 1970-71 budget.

County administrator Earl Strathman told the supervisors in presenting the $234.5 million budget Tuesday that the increase would mean a 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation hike, bringing the basic county rate to $2.75 per $100.

The county's current budget is $202 million.

Hope Springs Eternal For Faithful Fans

Hope springs eternal in the human breast:
Man never is, but alwasy to be, blest.
Or, how about this one:
Hope is the thing with feathers
That perches in the soul
And sings the tune without the words
And never stops at all.

I forget where I first read those familiar ditties but I came across them again the other day, between the lines in the preliminary prospectus of the San Francisco 49ers, a booklet titled, "If. ." and subtitled, "Never go gloomily, man with a mind! Hope is a better companion than fear."

A 49er football filbert is optimism personified and 1970 is no exception. The team's prospectus explains the optimism comes naturally this year ". . .because San Francisco continues to operate one of the game's most exciting offenses, and Coach Dick Nolan, through trade and draft, has made positive moves toward repairing last year's breakdowns."

The breakdowns, as everyone knows, came in two areas—defense and the special units. The fans also had breakdowns. Nervous.

Depth Is Greatest Problem

Says Nolan: "Achieving depth (on defense) is our greatest problem. Las year injuries gave us as much trouble as they did simply because we were not deep enough. In fact, only great effort by the ones who stayed healthy enabled us to come out as well as we did. If we can get all of the injured back, and our draft is as productive as we feel it will be, we can be a tough defensive team. I think we will be."

About the special teams' predicaments, Nolan explains: "This area of play was a real disappointment last year. It won't be this year."

"We have Jon Kilgore and Steve Spurrier and some rookies (John Isenbarger and Mike Culton) who can punt."

"Bruce Gossett is a proven outstanding place kicker, and we have some potentially good rookie return men such as Bruce Taylor and Scott Perkins, plus Noland Smith."

Gossett appears to be the key man in the 49er hope chest as he becomes the first dependable and most productive toe the team has had in many seasons. Getting him from Los Angeles in the trade that sent controversial, hot and cold cornerback Kermit Alexander south looks like the best deal the Niners have ever made. Gossett, says the prospectus, "will provide a desperately needed addition to an otherwise versatile and effective offense.."

Quarterback Position Sound

About that offense, Nolan, starting his third season as head coach, notes: "We expect John Brodie's arm to be 100 per cent throughout the season and we were pleased with the development of Steve Spurrier last year. Our quarterback position will be sound."

Nolan added that last year's 49er attack gained 4,694 yards in total offense, second in the NFL, and even though a sore-armed Brodie missed four and one-half games, the Niner passing game of 3,339 gross yards was the best in its league with fine receivers in rookie Gene Washington, vets Dick Witcher and Bob Windsor all enjoying fine seasons.

Indeed, Brodie's arm is even more golden that Gossett's toe. Last fall John-John came off the injured list with a flourish. In his final six games the ex-Stanford ace completed 61.5 per cent of his passes, 101 for 164 and 1,349 yards, 11 TDs and only 5 interceptions.

Brodie since has undergone further treatment and training program for his problematic shoulder tendons and should be healthy for Seventy.

Young Line Performs Well

Also, the young offensive line performed well, Nolan said, mentioning Elmer Collett and Woody Peoples at guards, Len Rohde and Cas Banaszek at tackles and Forrest Blue at center.

Nolan added, "We must develop some depth in the line and the progress of Randy Beisler and switch of Kevin Hardy from defense may do that for us."

All in all, the 49er Prospectus is full of goodies to encourage the team's diehards who are approaching their 25th season with an 0-24 record on the championship ledger.

Rookies like Nos. 1 and 2 draftees Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor and such established vets as Charlie Krueger, Dave Wilcox, Ken Willard, Roland Lakes etc. all are mentioned prominently in this best seller of 1970.

It's too bad this booklet isn't for general distribution because it is just the tonic needed by the long-suffering 49er filberts. Why, I just read the first paragraph and was moved to enthusiastic hand springs.

It says: "If it gets together and stays together, San Francisco's Silver Anniversary professional football team could strike 49er gold."

And hope springs eternal. . .

Inspired by a pair of Thom Guthrie school record - victories, the Terra Linda High School Trojans won the Marin County Athletic League swimming championship yesterday. They defeated Tamalpais at Terra Linda, 67-28.

Guthrie's records came in the 50 free style, where he clipped a tenth of a second off the old mark with a 23.4, and the 100 free, which he swam in 52.1, the fastest time in the league this season.

The Torjans, who finish the season with a record of 12 wins and two losses, once again got two victories from freshman sensation Rick Demont. He won easily in the 200 and 400 freestyle reaces.

Terra Linda's championship class B team overwhelmed Tam, 70-25 to complete an undefeated season. Rick Lund and Casey Flaherty, who have led the Trojans all year, contributed double wins.

In other meets Drake defeated Marin Catholic, 58-33, and Novato downed San Rafael, 57-38.

Terry Leads Marin Past De Anza '9'

Mike Terry pitched and batted College of Marin to a 6-2 win over De Anza Junior College Cupertino yesterday at Kentfield.

Terry, who went the distance and scattered six hits, belted a three-run double in the second inning to sew up the victory. A walk to Jim Peters, a base hit by Dee Fedrick and Roger Offenbach's ground ball fielder's choice had loaded the bases.

Barry MacKay Advances In State Tennis

PORTOLA VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The four top-seeded players in the 70th California State Tennis Championship advanced to third round play today at the Alpine Hills Tennis and Swimming Club.

Former Davis Cup player Barry MacKay, the second seed, from Ross, got by Larry Dodge of San Francisco, 7-5 and 6-2. Hans Plotz of West Germany, the third seed, defeated Tom Munch of Mountain View, Calif., 6-4 and 7-6.

Fourth-seeded Roscoe Tanner, a Stanford University freshman from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., breezed past Bruce Antal of Sunnyvale, Calif., 6-1 and 6-1.

Dennis Knowles on way to breast stroke victory.

Dave Marshall Is Quick To Hand Out His Revenge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It didn't take Dave Marshall long to strike back at his former San Francisco Giants teammates — only one pitch, as a matter of fact.

Marshall walloped a 400-foot, grand-slam homer on the first pitch Tuesday night, capping the New York Mets' five-run first inning for a 5-2 victory over the Giants.

"I'd never hit a grand slam before in my life—not even in junior high," said Marshall, who came to the Mets with Ray Sadecki in a winter swap for Bob Heise and Jim Gosger, since sold to a minor league club.

"No, I'm not any stronger this year," added Mrashall. "I only hit one or two homers a year and just happened to get my first one early this season. I hit that ball about as well as I can."

Rookie Mike Jorgensen, who like Marshall was making his second start of the season for the Mets, opened the first with a walk. Bud Harrelson then was safe on a fielder's choice when Jorgensen beat the throw to second.

Ken Boswell's bloop single loaded the bases and Art Shamsky's infield single to the right side scored Jorgensen. After Donn Clendenon struck out, Marshall slammed Gaylord Perry's first pitch for the homer.

That made it easy for right-hander Gary Gentry, 2-0, to post the win, although he served up Willie Mays' 602nd career homer in the first. The Giants added a run in the eighth on doubles by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey.

Gentry, who was relieved by Tug McGraw in the ninth, yielded some long blasts to the Giants, including a 400-foot belt by Dick Dietz that Jorgensen gloved for the final out in the eighth.

One-Sided Victories In Track

Marin County Athletic League track and field mets were all one-sided yesterday. Undefeated San Rafael High continued to roll with a 98-29 win over San Marin, Tamalpais walloped Marin Catholic, 90-33, Redwood topped Novato, 94-31 and Terra Linda smashed Drake, 94-30.

It was business as usual for San Rafael, now 6-0 in league play. Dennis Silva and Bob Peterson turned in double wins for the Bulldogs, while Chakra Chappell had the same disinction for San Marin.

Mike Pater won three events to lead the San Rafael "Bs" to a 80-35 victory.

Lee Hurls Bosox Win

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Lee, former star pitcher at Terra Linda High School, checked Oakland with late relief help from Ray Jarvis Tuesday night as the Boston Red Sox edged the Athletics 2-1 on solo homers by Tony Conigliaro and Mike Andrews.

Lee retired the first 11 men he faced, before Reggie Jackson broke the spell with a double in the fourth inning. The 23-year-old Boston left-hander came back to set down 12 more batters in a row before he finally ran into trouble in the eighth.

SINGLES

Frank Fernandez singled with two out to start the Oakland rally, and Bob Pena also singled. Pinch hitter Bert Campaneris also singled to score a run and Jarvis came in and got Felipe Alou on a fly ball for the final out.

Lee wound up with six strikeouts and didn't walk a man en route to his first victory of the season and the second of his brief major league career.

Oakland starter Al Downing gave up a leadoff double to Andrews, then retired 11 Red Sox batters in a row until Conigliaro smashed a tremendous shot over the 60-foot screen in left center field in the fourth inning for his second homer of the year.

In the fifth inning Andrews, swinging on a 3-0 pitch with two out and nobody on, drilled it into the screen in left field for his third circuit clout of the season.

Ken Gnoss Continues Tear; Redwood Wins

San Marin High School's Ken Gnoss ripped a home run and double yesterday as the Mustangs outfought Terra Linda, 8-5 for second place in the tight Marin County Athletic League race.

Redwood remained in first place by virtue of a 4-1 win over Novato. In other high school games Tamalpais edged Marin Catholic, 5-4 and San Rafael pounded Drake, 9-5.

BIG YEARS

Gnoss, who seems on his way to winning the triple crown in the MCAL, had a perfect three for three day to raise his batting average to .577. He also leads the league in homers with four and runs batted in with 15.

San Marin's Jim Thompson had three hits including a triple. Dennis Bueler went the distance for the win, his fifth without a loss this season.

Roger Smith picked up his fourth victory for Redwood as the Giants ran their record to six wins against a single loss.

Frank Pomilia rapped a two-run insurance homer in the last inning.

HELPS HIMSELF

Tam pitcher Bill Secor won his own game in the bottom of the seventh when he singled with two outs to score Bill Rudolph after Jan Brink's base hit scored Clifford Hall to tie things at 4-4. The victory pushed the Indians into a fourth place tie with Novato. Both teams have 3-4 win-loss records.

San Rafael scored six times in the fourth inning in dealing the Drake Pirates their seventh loss in a row.

Mays Disappointed, Then Thrilled Kids

Willie Mays will be 39 next week. For two decades now Mays has been to baseball what Babe Ruth was in another era—the hero of countless thousands of Little Leaguers. Kids are terribly disappointed when they go out to see the Giants and the captain of the team is not in the lineup.

It was that way the other day in Candlestick Park on Bat Day. More than half of the crowd of 27,966 were kids who came to get a free bat—and to see Mays. When the lineups were announced and Mays' name was missing, the kids were disappointed.

FOR FIVE innings they contained their disappointment in a kind of gloomy silence. Finally, one youngster in the upper stands could stand it no longer. He shouted "We want Mays." Soon every kid in the stadium was commanding "We want Mays." The insistent chant, accompanied by a pounding of bats, was deafening in the sixth inning.

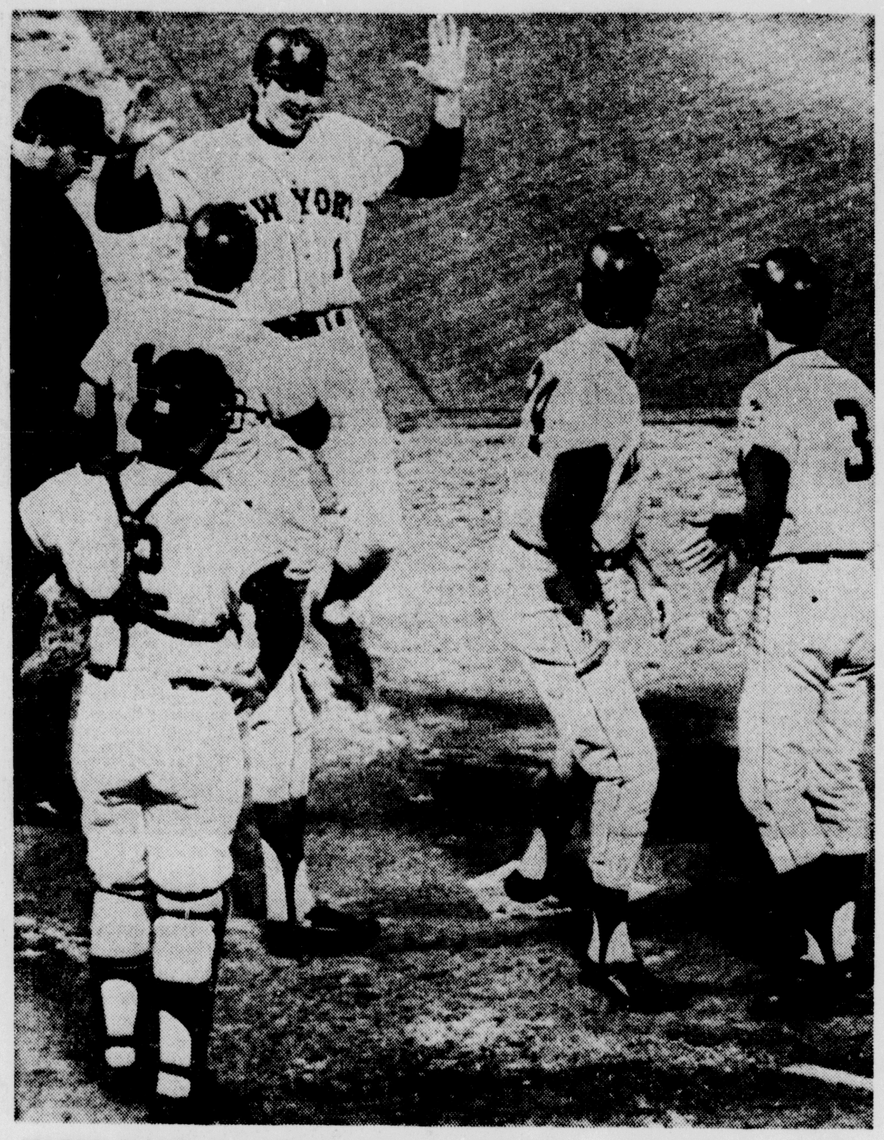
When the Giants came to bat in the seventh, Mays came racing to the dugout from the right field bullpen where he rests his aging legs when he is not playing. Willie went to the on deck circle for a seventh inning pinch hit role that never materialized because the Expos got three fast outs.

BUT MAYS was the leadoff batter in the eighth and the kids gave him a thunderous ovation. They were delighted when their hero lined a single off the leg of the Expo pitcher. The Giants ultimately lost the ball game in the ninth inning but it wasn't a complete day of disappointment, especially for those youngsters who rode buses considerable distances for two reasons: (1) to get a bat, (2) to see Mays.

MAYBE MAYS deliberately planned his belated appearance on Bat Day. Maybe he wanted to run a test. What better way was there to run a check on his own popularity? What better way to answer those who have been saying that Mays should retire?

There was no disputing how the kids feel. They want their hero to continue playing baseball indefinitely. They don't care whether Willie will be 39 or 49 May 6. They just want to see him at bat and in center field. He may not be able to hit home runs as he once did and he may no longer tap his glove as confidently as he once did.

BUT HE still is Willie Mays and whenever his name is announced in the lineup—in Candlestick or any other ball park—a cheer always goes up. When it's missing from the lineup, the disappointment, particularly that of kids in the stands, is deep.



HAPPY DAVE—New York's Dave Marshall shows his feelings after hitting a grand slam against his exmates, San Francisco, on the first pitch he saw. Waiting to greet him after last night's smash were Ken Boswell, Art Shamsky (24) and Bud Harrelson (3). Catcher is Dick Dietz. The blow enabled the Mets to top the Giants, 5-2.

From Golden Gate To Belvedere Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

If the courts at Belvedere Tennis Club are starting to look like those at San Francisco's Golden Gate Park it's really because of the personnel.

Bill Kennedy, teaching pro at Golden Gate Park for the last five years, is now full-time teaching pro at the Belvedere club, while finishing up a five-year contract with once a week work at the S.F. courts.

He teaches tennis at Belvedere Tuesdays through Saturdays, and at Golden Gate Park courts on Sundays, His wife, Pat, is running the pro shop on the S.F. courts.

Also spending time these days at the Belvedere Tennis Club are the Louie sisters—Marcelyn, Marna, Marisa and Mareen—very well known tennis family which plays out of Golden Gate Park.

Kennedy, 54, came over to help out Jack Bracken at the Belvedere club a year ago and when Bracken went back to teaching in a San Francisco junior high, Kennedy, a resident and native of San Francisco, started teaching on a full-time basis. He's been doing that since Sept. 1.

Kennedy also did some teaching at the Mill Valley Tennis Club from 1961 to 1965, before starting his days at Golden Gate Park. He's been in professional tennis since 1958.

"I used to be an insurance broker and just taught tennis as a hobby," Kennedy said. "Then I decided to teach professionally and I have been at it ever since."

Among his early students when at Mill Valley was Andy Moffat, now aged 18 and No. 1 man on the Tamalpais High School tennis team. Dan Tierney of Tiburon was also one of his early students who went on to win his share of tournament matches.

Bill and wife Pat have two daughters, Lee, married and living in Daly City, and Maureen, 17, a student at Mercy High School in San Francisco. Maureen is quite a tennis player herself, competing in junior girls 18 events.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Perez Continues His Red-Hot Spree

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

His teammates have hot-hitting Tony Perez figured out which is more than you can say for the rest of the National League.

"He's hitting everything and everybody," said Pete Rose, an expert on the subject who has won the NL bating title in each of the last two years.

That's the straight-forward explanation. Bobby Tolan, another Cincinnati slugger, subscribes to a more mystical approach.

"He must be trying," said Tolan, "to get into the next higher league."

Whatever Perez has up his sleeve, he gave Houston more of the same Tuesday night, equaling a major league record with his 10th home run this month as the Reds Whipped the Astros 4-2.

He tied the mark set by Frank Robinson of Baltimore in April 1969.

OTHER SCORES

Elsewhere in the NL Tuesday night, Pittsburgh slugged Chicago 6-1 Atlanta edged St. Louis 3-2, New York dropped San Francisco 5-2, Philadelphia edged Los Angeles 3-2 in 10 innings and Montreal swept a doubleheader from San Diego 4-2 and 7-3.

In the American League, New York topped California 7-5, Cleveland dropped Minnesota 3-1, Washington outlasted Milwaukee 9-6, Boston edged Oakland 2-1, Detroit defeated Kansas City 8-3 and Baltimore downed Chicago 4-2.

In addition to his homer, Perez had an RBI single and boosted his major league leading batting average to .461. He has 26 RBIs.

'FEEL STRONG'

"I feel strong and I see the ball all the way up there," said Perez. "I feel like I'm going to hit it everytime I step up to the plate."

Gary Nolan rode Perez' heavy hitting to his fourth straight victory with Don Gullett providing ninth inning relief after a pinch homer by John Mayberry.

The Pirates ended Chicago's 11-game winning streak with two home runs by Manny Sanguillen and combined three-hit pitching by Luke Walker, Bruce Dal Canton and Dave Giusti.

Sanguillen tagged a two-run homer over the left field wall in the first inning and then reached the identical spot with the bases empty in the sixth.

Dal Canton rescued Walker from a fifth inning jam, then left the game with a pulled muscle and Giusti finished up. It was the Cubs' first loss since April 12.

Clete Boyer unloaded a two-run homer in the ninth, giving the Braves their victory over St. Louis. Mike Torrez had been riding a 2-1 lead produced by Richie Allen's fifth homer of the year for the Cards until Boyer struck.

Hank Aaron tagged his seventh of the season for the Braves in the first inning.

TIES IT

Larry Hisle's two-out homer in the ninth tied the game and then a pinch homer by Rick Joseph leading off the 10th gave Philadelphia its sixth straight victory and beat the Dodgers.

Billy Grabarkewitz had snapped a 1-1 tie with a leadoff homer in the eighth for LA before Hisle tied it again in the Phils' last gasp. Reliever Dick Selma earned the victory and finished the game at third base when left-hander Joe Hoerner came on to retire left-handed batter Willie Davis with the tying run on second in the bottom of the 10th.

Montreal bunched all its runs in the eighth inning of the opener to beat San Diego. Ron Fairly hammered a two-run homer and Bobby Wine's single drove two more across for the Expos. Steve Huntz homered for the Padres.

Fairly homered again in the nightcap and Steve Renko pitched a six-hitter as the Expos completed the sweep and extended San Diego's losing streak to six games. The Expos have won three straight.

Sport Of Wristwrestling Headed For The Olympics?

PETALUMA, (UPI) — Spacemen of 1980 may see Mars and sportsmen of 1980 may behold something equally miraculous—an Olympic Games wristwrestling contest.

It would not be a case of something new breaking the Olympic barriers, but something old—one of the most ancient games of them all. Wristwrestling may have been a popular pastime in ancient Greece and Rome. In this country, Abraham Lincoln whiled away many hours at the sport.

But it wasn't until 17 years ago, when a brainstorm hit columnist Bill Soberanes of the Petaluma Argus-Courier, that wristwrestling took on a new life and luster He teamed up with local saloonkeeper Mike Gilardi and Jack Homel, a vacationing trainer for the Detroit Tigers, to stage a wristwrestling contest in Gilardi's bar.

In that epic year of 1953, there was an acute shortage of contestants, so Homel had to play the role of participant as well as promoter. The only man who could be found to pit against him was Oliver Kullberg, a hay-baler who weighed 200 pounds. Some say that 200 people watched the match, others claim there were only 14.

Soberanes described the event in his column as a "smashing success," and decided then and there to hold annual matches. They were staged for nine years straight at Gilardi's. But the crowds got bigger each year, and the barroom furniture took such a beating that the tournaments, now dubbed the "World Championships," were moved to a large hall in 1962.

Friday's world contest will be in Veterans Memorial Building.

Fifty strong men entered that first world contest. The final match was a David and Goliath encounter between beefy five-foot-eight Earl Hagerman and Duane (Tiny) Benedix, six-foot-four and weighing 270.

The two men faced each other across the table. The strength of Hagerman, who knew the trick of sudden wrist action, came as an electric shock to Benedix. Hagerman's teeth were clenched. The blood vessels in his temples bulged. Benedix's fist came closer to the table. He rallied for seconds. But with relentless strength, Hagerman sent Benedix's fist crashing to the table.

That resounding bank marked the creation of the world's first wristwrestling champ. And little Petaluma was on the map.

The man who sees wristwrestling as an Olympic sport, 10 years hence is nationally known boxing referee Frankie Carter who has assisted at past contests. He said:

"There is no other sport that sees a man so completely alone. The wristwrestler has no team behind him, no seconds to spur him on."

Wall Street Rises After Brief Panic

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved sharply upward today after recovering from a midsession selling wave apparently prompted by the announcement of a new commitment regarding Cambodia. Trading was heavy.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed up 13.06 at 737.39. This was the first time this week the market had closed on the upswing.

During the morning, the Dow average had been up more than 7 points. But it fell some 4 points below Tuesday's close after news that the United States was providing advisers and tactical air strikes for South Vietnamese troops in Cambodia, Tuesday's close of 724.33 was the lowest since President Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963, when the averages closed at 711.49.

At 2 p.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.64 to 726.97, after having been up over 7 points earlier. Trading was active.

Declining issues led advances by a good margin. Earlier, advances had been ahead by almost 2 to 1.

Analysts said the market, highly sensitive at present levels, temporarily panicked at the Cambodian announcement.

The earlier rise was attributed by analysts to news of a meeting today between security-industry officials and Paul W. McCracken, chief presidential economic adviser. The rise was considered technical.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Keep Certificates With A Big Broker

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some of my stock is held by my broker. I am worried by the seeming increase of financial difficulty and even bankruptcy faced by these firms. Would I be wise to hold all my certificates myself?—H.C.

A. In the year that has elapsed since I last discussed this subject, the profit picture has seriously deteriorated for some brokers. Certainly each investor should weigh the pros and cons of his own situation carefully before making a decision. If you are not a trader, there is very little to be gained by having your broker hold your shares. A margined trader has no choice. Certain managed accounts also require leaving shares in the broker's custody, but if the account is in a large well-financed house, there is no reason to worry.

Are you dealing with a large firm or a small one? Read the firm's statement of financial condition carefully—don't just toss it in the wastebasket. The industry itself deserves commendation for the various programs which have been self-generated to protect investors. A $26 million fund, contributed by member firms of the New York Stock Exchange, was set up to reimburse customers in case of a member's forced liquidation. It is understood, however, that recently serious inroads have been made into this fund.

Congress is presently studying a plan, among others, proposed by Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, for setting up a federally insured program for brokerage accounts. The plan, similar in operation to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.'s systems, would protect cash and securities held in an account up to a maximum figure.

A move by one broker which may be followed by others would provide additional incentive for the small investor to hold his own certificates. Accounts which do not generate sufficient revenue will incur a semiannual $50 custodial fee. Handling costs on inactive accounts are said to average $100 a year.

It bears repeating that if your shares are held by a large, financially strong brokerage firm, your chance of loss is negligible.

POSSIBLE WAY TO CONTROL OIL SLICK

A mixture of treated sand and water is sprayed on water covered with an oil slick off the Netherlands' coast from a specially built dredger during test of a method to control oil slicks. The method, devised by an oil company and reportedly successful during this experiment, is based on an idea of the chemically treated sand with particles of oil adhering to it, sinking to the bottom, thus clearing the water's surface of the oil slick. The mixture is sprayed from booms extending from the boat's midship. (AP Wirephoto)

150,000 Within A Year —But When Is The End?

There has been surprisingly little reaction to President Nixon's announcement of a week ago that 150,000 more U.S. troops will be withdrawn from Vietnam within a year.

Few shouts of approval have greeted an announcement that last year might have caused considerable rejoicing. Few cries of outrage have been heard from the advocates of a quick pullout — only a bit of grumbling.

This probably is due in large part to the fact that to many of us, the President's announcement brought a feeling of relief that he had not instead disclosed a new buildup of forces to meet new threats in neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

THE PRESIDENT must be credited with both fortitude and consistency.

He appears to be following the timetable he set himself last year. But as we commented then, it is too slow a timetable to be very reassuring, and it gives no promise of a complete U.S. pullout from the morass of Southeast Asia.

Developments in Laos and Cambodia have shown that our involvement there is deeper than President Nixon had admitted. And withdrawing troops from South Vietnam will mean little if we remain snarled in the wars, the revolutions, and the venal politics of the rest of that part of the world.

A REDUCTION of 150,000 troops in Vietnam is considerable. However, the figure needs to be put in perspective.

When Mr. Nixon assumed the presidency in January, 1968, the U. S. manpower in Vietnam was reported at 550,000. As of this month, according to his own figures, it is 434,500.

Withdrawing 150,000 more will leave it a year from now at 284,500.

THAT IS APPROXIMATELY the number we had there two years after the escalation began in the wake of the infamous Tonkin Gulf Resolution of August, 1964, in which the Congress gave away to the President its power to launch a war.

The figure did not reach 150,000 — the number Mr. Nixon promises to withdraw within the next 12 months — until more than a year after the Tonkin Gulf incident. Even with the extremely rapid escalation then under way, it took it another year to reach 285,000 — the figure to which Mr. Nixon promises to return it in 1971, or five years later.

THE PRESIDENT said last week: "The decision I have announced tonight. . . is based entirely on the progress of our Vietnamization program."

This sounded oh, so much like earlier pronouncements during an earlier administration.

On Feb. 13, 1963 — when the U.S. had fewer than 50,000 troops in Vietnam — then-Secy. of State Dean Rusk said: "The South Vietnamese are fighting their own battle, fighting well."

Seven years later, we must wait a year to reduce our support of the "improved" South Vietnamese army to six times when it was when Secretary Rusk said that.

SOME DAY, the President and the rest of us are going to have to face up to this hard fact: There may never be a time when South Vietnam can defend itself. To base our calculations on such a time coming may be to commit ourselves in Southeast Asia forever.

Is "saving South Vietnam from communism" worth it? For that matter, are we saving it? Whatever we may think about the matter, the Vietnamese people might "rather be red than dead."

A Spring Morning Chorus

The dawn chorus of birdsong is a year 'round thing in Marin, but in the spring it is particularly lovely.

Birds sing with more enthusiasm in the spring. Their winter ordeal is over, the weather is warmer, the days are longer, green plants are sprouting, making more food available. They are hatching eggs and caring for the young, and the world is brighter. They sing for their territory, for their mate and for the exultant joy of singing.

The chirpers, the warblers, the cooers and the trillers — all are in fine voice these spring mornings.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Propositions 4 And 5 Would Delete Parts Of Constitution

(This is the fourth of a series of stories on the eight propositions to be voted on June 2, at the primary elections. Others will follow.)

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— Continued revision of the state constitution is contemplated in Proposition 4 and Proposition 5, appearing on the June primary election ballot.

Proposition 4 would delete provisions relating to state penal institutions, homesteads, state lands, and unimproved lands.

However, the provisions to be deleted would be written into the statutes by the legislature, at least presumably.

AMONG THE deletions would be the provision which specifically permits the legislature to establish and govern penal institutions.

Another would be the prohibition against letting out of convict labor to private persons or agencies, but this would be transferred to another section of the constitution.

The third deletion would be the section protesting homesteaders and certain heads of families from forced sale of land.

State Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Orange, opposing this proposition, says "nothing could be gained and something could be lost" if the people repeal guarantees for their protection.

Senator Schmitz, in writing the argument against Proposition 4, notes it is one of four propositions appearing in place of the "package" deal defeated by the people in 1968, and accuses the Constitution Revision Commission of attempting to change the meaning of the constitution rather than revise and simplify the language, which it was supposed to do originally.

PROPOSITION 5 is the third of these second-run propositions which were defeated in the 1968 package. This provides procedures for amending and revising the constitution, deals with the initiative and referendum, and gives some latitude in the civil service law.

At present, civil service covers some of the employees of the lieutenant governor, but under a portion of Proposition 5, all appointees of his office would be exempt.

The proposition appears to be one which has little opposition, although there is some objection to the provision for calling of a constitutional convention to change, revise or adopt a new constitution.

The provision has not been used in more than 30 years, and its use resulted in nothing. Meetings were called in Santa Barbara to effect revisions in the constitution, and lengthy hearings were called, but the result was nil.

The sections to be changed with regard to the initiative and referendum appear to be not very important. They would provide that if two or more initiative or referendums were voted by the people on the same subject, the one obtaining the highest number of votes at the election would prevail. Thus, duplication and argument over which was which would be eliminated.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What Twain Said Applies Today

Mark Twain said: "An inglorious peace is better than a dishonorable war."

We have a Me Too in the White House, trying to follow the wishy-washy Eisenhower, the Bay of Pigs Kennedy and the Texas quitter Johnson.

Our Congress and Supreme Court are shot through and through with moonlighters and our boys are still dying by the hundreds in the rice fields of Vietnam. Our country so divided that tear gas and bayonets are the order of the day.

Mark also said: "Only two in 10,000 have the brains to think." Due to the condition of the country it doesn't look like the two thinkers have been around Washington lately.

Shopper Column Full Of Nonsense

Some of your syndicated columns are often a little "far out" but the discerning reader makes some allowances for the writers need to fill up the space every day. However the "Smart Shopper" for April 20 by Arthur E. Rowse goes beyond mere stupidity. It succeeds in deceiving the reader to a far greater extent than do the food suppliers he so artfully condemns.

Not only does he copy a list of items from a crusading magazine of questionable authority, but he insinautes that the items are bad for the user, who would avoid them if they were listed on the label.

Mr. Rowse lists sodium chloride, as a preservative in sausage, and as a substance to prevent browning in Fruit Cup The uninformed person sees it under that name, as a possibly harmful chemical, when in fact it is common table salt. He relates that calcium hypochlorite is used as a germicide and that sodium hydroxide is used as a peeling agent. He does not explain that both are washed off the products after use, or that calcium hypochlorite is often used to purify contaminated water to make it usable for drinking, and that sodium hydroxide has been used for generations in making hominy from corn. He cites hydrogen peroxide as a germicide in milk and as a bleach in butter, without explaining that in either case it gives up its extra oxygen and becomes ordinary water. Identifying sodium bicarbonate as an alkali rather than by its common name of baking soda is an obvious attempt to make the reader think it is something poisonous. Many other examples could be pointed out . . .

It seems to me that Mr. Rowse has revealed that he is simply an opportunist, trying to profit from public gullibility, without real knowledge of the food supply problem. Being retired, I have no interest in the food industry except as a consumer.

Daughter's Speech Not Endorsement

I note in (Paul) Peterzell's column of April 21 he infers Ronald Reagan has endorsed Don Pinkerton by permitting Maureen Reagan to be a guest speaker at a Pinkerton banquet.

For the record, Maureen Reagan is a professional speaker and will appear before any group which will pay her fee. This is how she earns her living. Secondly, she also is a paid political worker, now on the payroll of the Harmer for attorney general campaign in Los Angeles. Do you think this constitutes a Reagan endorsement of (John L.) Harmer?

Rock Concerts Deserve Support

The letter in last week's I-J by Neal and Marilyn Dineen regarding arrests made at a rock concert were reminiscent of another police-youth fracas in Fairfax at which an incident between a teen-ager and a policeman were blown up all out of proportion and made several page one articles. The rest of the affair was fun, tea was served at another concert. These are creative, art form expressions and we would do well to encourage attendance at these affairs. The sensationalism which is being associated with these concerts is rather deplorable.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A month after model prisoners in an Illinois jail were first allowed to watch daytime TV for a limited period each day, the publicity head of a nearby TV station asked one inmate what he thought of the programs. "Frankly," sneered the inmate, "I regard them as part of the punishment."

A cagey old farmer sold a distant neighbor a horse one afternoon. The neighbor loaded it into a truck and let it out to pasture as soon as he got home. Much to his surprise, the horse started bucking, then ran smack-bang into a tree. Backing off and shaking his head, he started his cavorting again, only to smack into another tree.

At this, the farmer who bought the animal called up the seller. "Hey," he exclaimed. "That horse you sold me. He's running around the pasture, bumping into every tree in sight. He must be blind."

"Not him." answered the seller of the horse. "He ain't blind — he just don't give a darn!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Muskie's Dilemma Shows Basic Prosperity Vs. Pollution Conflict

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—There is no better example of the nation's bind over pollution than Sen. Edmund Muskie's bind as a politician.

Despite the way the environment is being despoiled, we are still pulled in opposite directions by conflicting needs—the need to do things which decrease pollution and the need to do things which cause it.

These conflicts are visible all at once in the difficult dilemma in which such a conscientious political leader as Muskie finds himself.

Here is an ardent advocate of environmental purity for the nation simultaneously urging a project in his own state of Maine which many believe seriously risks environmental impurity.

HOW IS THIS? He is advancing the most stringent antipollution legislation to come before Congress and he is also supporting the building of an oil refinery in Machiasport, Me., to whose coasts crude-oil tankers would be bringing the same dangers of spills and pollution which have occurred elsewhere.

Why does Senator Muskie want to do this? Certainly not because he takes any casual, light-hearted we'll-meet-pollution-later attitude. He is a dedicated environmentalist. But he's also dedicated to helping create jobs for the people of his state and to reducing oil prices for all New England, and he must be sincerely convinced that these needs are greater than the risks of new pollution.

This is exactly the dilemma which the whole nation faces, and there are conflicting roles which can't be resolved by calling names. The nation needs more jobs for the unemployed but this means more production which means more pollution.

IF WE ARE to rescue our environment from unlivable pollution, we must act on the facts, not the myths, of what does the most to cause it.

This means that the earnest antipolluters, which includes about all of us, will need to do two things:

1—Abandon the "devil theory" about who's to blame for polluting our air, our water and our earth. On this theory many comfortably and virtuously shed all individual responsibility and point the finger of guilt at industry because it has produced so much good which has produced so much waste which has produced so much pollution.

Of course, industry contributes greatly to pollution, but the goal of economic growth has been the goal of our whole society for decades—not just the goal of a few producers—on the grounds that such growth was good in itself because it produced more jobs and a higher material standard of living.

If we are to escape pollution, we will all have to come to see that unchecked economic growth may not automatically be a boon—and accept the consequences.

2—WE MUST ALSO reject the myth that it is "they," not "we," who create pollution. One placard in an Earth Day parade read: "They who brought us Vietnam, brought us pollution." As long as we keep thinking that it is primarily the "other fellow" who brings pollution, we will be putting a high hurdle in the way of effective action. Only when we recognize that we're all to blame—manufacturer, farmer, consumer, serviceman, politician, citizen—will we achieve the concerted will to do the job.

It isn't going to be easy to cut production to cut pollution. The gross national product in the United States increases by about 3 per cent every year solely because of the increased productivity of workers. Can we force workers and managers to depress productivity? Can we persuade farmers not to farm efficiently—and do we want to?

The consequences would be higher prices, more unemployment, less opportunity for the disadvantaged, more people on welfare and a lower material standard of living.

To avert these consequences will cost plenty. It will cost taxpayers. It will cost consumers. But the only way out is to speed the technology which can reduce pollution to measurable proportions.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Bill On Campaign Shows Puts Nixon On Spot

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans are loaded with funds for this year's election campaigns, with the promise of more coming in, and they are not out to make things any easier for Democrats, who are loaded with debts.

But it might cause President Nixon some embarrassment, if he should veto a bill to limit campaign spending for political broadcast time in federal elections.

The study goes back 10 years, when John F. Kennedy and Nixon were running for President.

CONGRESS SUSPENDED the so-called equal time provision of the Federal Communications Act to enable broadcasters to make available free time for Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960 without doing the same for fringe candidates.

In 1964 when President Lyndon B. Johnson was running for election, and in 1968 when most people expected him to, similar legislation was bottled up quietly in Congress.

Johnson had no desire to debate his opponents nor to grant them free broadcast time to campaign against him. Democrats used their majorities to see to it that proposals to suspend the FCC provision never saw light.

THINGS ARE different now, with a Republican in the White House again and Democrats still in control of Congress.

Planning for the 1972 elections, Democrats started moving through Congress a bill to repeal the equal time provision so that the major presidential candidates would get some free broadcast time.

a To make it acceptable to Nixon, the measure made clear that the format was not to be frozen on the line of the 1960 debates which were considered to have played a part in the Nixon defeat. The candidates could use the free time as they saw fit fter negotiations with the networks.

In Senate committee, the Democrats wrote into the bill a provision to make available to all candidates for public office—from town councilman to President—wholesale rates for political broadcast time. It would go into effect this year.

WHEN THE BILL reached the Senate floor, the Democrats amended it with a third provision—to limit broadcast spending for candidates for federal office to an amount equal to 7 cents per vote based on the total vote for that office in the last election.

That would drastically cut back on spending for broadcast political time. Example: the formula would permit each candidate for President to spend little more than $5 million in 1972 for broadcast time.

According to the Federal Communications Commission, Nixon spent more than $12.5 million in 1968; Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey more than $7 million.

With the GOP campaign treasury well-filled, Republicans opposed the amendment but it passed in the Senate, 50 to 35.

Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton denounced the amendment.

If the amendment prevails in the House, Morton will urge President Nixon to veto the bill.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Unification Goes Into Reverse In Some Areas

By LRYCE W. ANDERSON

The course of school district unification has never been smooth in California. But until this year, unification proponents could cite a gradual reduction in the number of districts.

This year, it appears a reversal may be setting in.

UP IN THE NORTH end of the state, defeat of a bond issue to build a high school gymnasium in Alturas for the Modoc-Tulelake Unified School District — which overlaps the Siskiyou-Modoc county line — wos followed quickly by a move to dissolve the unified district which may prove successful.

In Calaveras County, petitions sufficient to force an election were filed to remove the Murphy-Ebbetts Pass area from Calaveras Unified School District and annex it to Vallecito Elementary School District.

Petitions in Yuba County forced calling an election to de-unify the Yuba City Unified School District.

AND IN THE MOST unusual move, residents of tiny Iowa Hill, Placer County, are seeking to secede from Colfax Elementary School District and create a new school district of their own.

The Iowa Hill residents' reason is simple. They pay a Colfax school tax of $2.57 per $100 assessed valuation — and there is nary a school child in Iowa Hill. By setting up their own district, they figure they could support a "paper school" with a 3-cent tax rate.

Bucking the trend, however, is Kern County. On the June 2 primary ballot there will be a proposal for a county-wide Kern County Unified School District. There are now 52 school districts in the county, some of which already are unified districts.

UNIFICATION of school districts means putting high schools and elementary schools in the same district. In California, however, it is much more complicated than that.

Two decades ago, a law was passed requiring every elementary school district's territory to be included in some high school district. If it had instead required merger of elementary with high school districts, unification might have been forced rapidly. But it didn't. Instead, it resulted in Californians in most cases paying taxes to two school districts (three, if they live also in a junior college district).

A little later, another law set up a complicated system of county committees and county master plans to work out unification of school districts with difficult criteria and with a 1959 deadline. The deadline arrived with most counties not even having master plans, let alone unification.

TO SPEED things along, Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, put through his Unruh Education Act with the "carrot and stick" approach — the "carrot" being a tax break where residents voted to unify, the "stick" a tax penalty where they voted against it. The act also called for resubmitting unification proposals every four years until passed.

This has worked but little better. One of a handful of bills in this year's legislature to change the unification laws is SB 520, by Sen. Fred W. Marler Jr., R-Redding, which would cancel the area-wide tax that provides the "stick" of Unruh's measure.

ANOTHER LEGISLATOR, however, has taken a new approach to the problem of the small school district.

AB 322 by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco, provides that any school district with fewer than 200 pupils in average daily attendance would go out of existence as of July 1, 1971. The county committee on school district organization would then designate to what district the territory should be annexed.

A recent California Department of Education report lists 190 elementary school districts with enrollment under 200 — all of which would go out of existence next year if Ryan's bill became law.

Originally, a prime purpose of unification was held to be elimination of the districts that were too small to be practical. To attain that end, Ryan's approach would seem much simpler and more effective than the endless master plans, studies, revisions and elections that characterized the last decade.

It would, of course, kill Iowa Hill's tax-saving plan.

Novato Subdivision Wins Panel Approval

Novato planning commissioners have approved a 34-lot subdivision on Hill Road near South Novato Boulevard over the objections of a group of neighboring property owners concerned that the new construction might cause mud to run onto their land.

The commissioners voted unanimously Monday night to approve the Rancho Village subdivision after an engineer for Crown Development Co. of San Francisco, builders of the project, explained drainage would be controled and would not spill onto adjoining lots, according to Mark Westfall, senior planner.

The commissioners also stipulated, Westfall said, that sidewalks run along one side of the street rather than both sides.

Commissioner William R. Wilson was absent.

P.U. 214-1

The Novato Planning Commission also:

BYPASS — Continued indefinitely consideration of amendment to Novato general plan for future state freeway bypass.

ZONING — Adopted amendment to zoning ordinance on commercial zoning in the city and referred matter to Novato City Council.

PARLOR — Granted a use permit for Harry's Billiard Parlor at 850 Grant Avenue.

BANK — Approved a use permit for a Bank of America building to be constructed on corner of Sixth Street and Grant Avenue with the building design yet to be approved.

SIGN — By a 2-2 vote with commissioners Beverly Ehreth and John C. Schoonover dissenting, denied a variance for a increase in heighth of a sign for Young Brothers Mobil Home Sales, Highway 101 near Olive Avenue.

PATIO — Approved a variance for a patio cover at the home of Richard Oliver, 36, San Miguel Way.

TREES — Denied application of Crown Development Co. for removal of a cluster of bay trees on Taft Court.

OFFICERS — Elected Wilson commission chairman to succeed George S. Quesada and Paul Otis, vice chairman, to succeed Wayne Sartain.

MEETINGS — Adjourned to a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at Novato Park and Recreation Building to discuss 1970-71 budget and hold study session.

Plans Attract Large Turnout In Mill Valley

A capacity audience crowded the Mill Valley council chambers monday night for public hearings by the city's planning commission on three proposed housing developments, according to Harvey E. Bragdon, planning director.

Two hours of the meeting, which lasted until 1 a.m., were spent on a request by William E. Cullen for approval of a master plan for a 30-acre development called Mill Ridge.

The request was continued to May 11 at 8 p.m. in the council chambers for additional hearings.

The commission unanimously approved a request by Cal-Fong Investment Co. that it be allowed to construct a development with a density of 4.4 on land zoned for a density of three in the Alto Bowl area, conditional upon flood control improvements.

The third project, proposed by Morton Kirsch, would leave 13.8 out of 18.2 acres in permanent open space. The commission approved unanimously the 46-unit development, which would cluster townhouses in groups of 13, Bragdon said.

Child, 7, Hurt Crossing Street

A 7-year-old San Rafael boy was treated at Marin General Hospiaal Monday for multiple body bruises sustained when he was hit by a car while crossing Second Street at East Street.

Johnny Wayne Huffman of 11 Jessup Street, was struck at 4:50 p.m. by a vehicle driven by Ronald P. Kern, 24, of 5 Racquet Club Drive, San Rafael.

Kern, according to police, said he was traveling in the westbound fast lane when he saw an auto stopping in the slow lane. He said he saw no reason to stop and continued through the intersection and hit the boy, whom he had not seen.

Missing Any Items? Check San Francisco

Marin County residents whose homes were burgled in the last five years should contact their local police departments to see if any of the stolen property recovered Saturday with the arrest of Henry Garrison in San Francisco belongs to them.

Inspector Robert Sisk of the Mill Valley Police Department said the property is on display at the Hall of Justice in San Francisco.

Police suspect that a string of 38 Marin burglaries were cleared up with the arrest of Garrison and the recovery of more than $60,000 in furs, jewelry, electronic equipment, guns and ammunition.

Garrison, driving a speedy sports car, always had been able to elude police until Saturday when officers, armed with a search warrant, broke down the door of his apartment and arrested him.

Pancake Breakfast

Redwood High School's senior class will sponsor a pancake breakfast Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the school's cafeteria. Income from the meal will be used for the Senior Ball, June 13.

Conservation League Gavel To Mary Donnelly

Mrs. Mary C. Donnelly of San Anselmo, a 10-year member of the board of directors, has been elected president of the Marin Conservation League. She succeeds Harold Gregg of Forest Knolls who has been named league executive director.

Other newly elected officers are: Mrs. P. K. Gilman of Larkspur, Frank Moncrief of Corte Madera and David Tirrell of Bolinas, vice presidents; Mrs. Arthur Knutson of Novato, recording secretary; Mrs. Bradley Holbrook of Berkeley, corresponding secretary and Robert F. Raab of Fairfax, treasurer.

The league has opened a new office at 1368 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, a spokesman announced.

Farm Burning Out For Marin

Agricultural burning will be banned in Marin starting Thursday until Dec. 1, the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District announced yesterday.

Fruit and nut tree growers have been permitted to burn tree prunings under controlled meteorological conditions during the five-month period from December through this month, the district said.

Agricultural burning will only be permitted during the next seven months to control disease, insect pests, for field stubble burning or for the control of vegetation growth in irrigation ditches, the district said.
